ILLINOIS HOUSE VOTES INCREASE IN RELIEF FUNDS

Passage in Senate Due Tomorrow.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—With no opposition from among its membership, the Illinois house today adopted a series of six bills increasing the state's share in relief financing and making provision for payment of relief workers.

The bills came into the night session of the senate and were sent to second reading by the upper chamber. Senators propose to put them on the passage stage tomorrow morning and adopt them in a session in the early hours of Thursday morning.

The key bill, introduced by Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, Democratic majority leader, makes an additional state appropriation for relief of 5½ million dollars. Chicago and townships throughout the state have been sharing 2 million dollars of state sales tax funds, and this will be increased to 2½ million for August and to 3 million for the remaining months until Feb. 1, 1937.

Limits County Costs.

Another Adamowski bill permits the costs of administering relief to be paid either from the state funds or from money raised locally for the poor This measure also limits the costs in Cook county to 8 per cent of total relief expenditures and to 5 per cent in other counties

The latter provision was the subject of some debate, but passage of the bill was obtained by a vote of 109 to 0 after Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago] had explained that the cost percentages represent a reduction under which administrative costs have been heretofore. The vote on the 5½ million appropriation was 110 to 0.

The four other bills, introduced by Representative F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson], provide the mechanics of the program, which was agreed to last week by Gov. Horner after Cook county Democrats had demanded that the state should carry a larger proportion of the relief burden than it had.

Tax Levy Causes Uncertainty.

Chicago's monthly relief expenditures have been estimated at $2,800,000, according to Leo M. Lyons, city relief commissioner and executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. Normally, from the state's contribution of 3 million dollars the city would receive approximately $1,800,000. From the levy of a 30 cent property tax it was estimated the city would have another $650,000, or a total nearly sufficient for estimated needs.

In this situation it was expected by some legislators that the passage of the six relief bills would smooth over the current relief crisis. But the refusal last night of the house to eliminate from the relief property tax act the mandatory provision that Chicago and the townships must levy that tax or not share in state funds has added an element of uncertainty.

The Chicago law firm of Chapman & Cutler has held that the mandatory feature sets up doubts as to the constitutionality of the tax act, which impedes the sale of warrants against the levy. Thus, it is believed here that Chicago will not be able to sell its warrants and will have for its relief needs only its share of state funds.

Downstate Load Is Factor.

What this would mean could not be accurately forecast at this time by Mr. Lyons. One factor determining how much Chicago will get from the state's 3 million dollars is the relief load downstate. And with Chicago in a position now to pay its relief workers, an order for all persons on relief to reapply might reduce the Chicago rolls, it was said.

After passage of the bills the house decided to recess until next Wednesday so it could be called into session if any of the measures were found faulty, with the understanding it then would recess until fall, perhaps until October.

Lyons Tells of Work.

Before leaving the chamber the members heard Mr. Lyons explain, sometimes under acrimonious questioning, what the IERC has been doing since July 1, when relief was turned over to Chicago and the townships. It heard also from representatives of township supervisors, who

AGREE ON SHARE OF CHILD; DIARY IMPERILS PEACE

Movie Czar Orders Hush-Hush

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Yielding to pressure from Will Hays, movie czar; from Judge Goodwin J. Knight, hearing the case without a jury; from movie producers, politicians with a civic interest in the film colony, and from a legion of personal friends, Mary Astor and Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, her former husband, tonight are near to a compromise in their sensational court battle over custody of their 4 year old daughter Marylyn.

Reacting directly to a series of frank expressions of distaste for the nature of the testimony, voiced by Judge Knight, attorneys representing both parties to the lurid court drama late today asked a second recess with the announced purpose of "continuing our deliberations looking toward an out of court settlement."

"Gentlemen, you have my commendation and godspeed for your efforts," Judge Knight ruled.

Diary Still a Problem.

The matter of the child's custody seems to be settled, although how many months of the year each parent is to have her is not yet announced.

The matter of possession of the diary appears to be the sticking point. Thorpe's lawyer is insistent on his client's retaining possession of the sensational document; Miss Astor wants it back, charging her husband stole it. She holds that it must be returned to her if there is to be peace.

The move to call off the battle followed an afternoon of feverish conferences held between Miss Astor, flanked by her attorney, R. R. Woolley, and Dr. Thorpe with his counsel, Joseph Anderson—participated in after Judge Knight rebuked counsel at the morning session for "much irrelevant matter" which he said had been brought out in the court battle for the right to rear their child.

The request for a continuance made by Attorney Anderson and immediately concurred in by Woolley, marked an overnight change of attitude by both principals in Hollywood's most turgid and sensational lawsuit of recent years.

Agree to Share Custody.

Although both Woolley and Anderson stated, "We have not reached any agreement yet, but expect to bring one into court tomorrow morning," it was learned they came to their first compromise on the subject which Judge Knight told them was "the nub of this entire case." That was a division of custody of the child.

While both lawyers refused resolutely to discuss major points under discussion, they did deny flatly a report that the basis of their talks was a proposal that Miss Astor have custody of Marylyn for nine months in the year and Dr. Thorpe have her over week-ends and through the summer.

Doctor Makes Concession.

Later Anderson declared, "For the child's benefit, her father is willing to concede partial custody of her to Miss Astor. The prospects for a settlement are encouraging."

Dr. Thorpe said, however, "There is a certain line beyond which I will not go."

Earlier in the day Dr. Thorpe said if a friendly compromise was not ef-

DESIGN OF NEW COIN BEARING BARNUM'S LIKENESS APPROVED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Secretary Henry Morgenthau and the commission of fine arts today approved the design of a memorial half dollar on one side of which is the likeness of P. T. Barnum.

The half dollar will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the establishment of Bridgeport, Conn., as a city. It was one of 16 anniversary coins authorized by congress. The coins will be sold to the Bridgeport centennial commission at cost.

The commission requested that Barnum's likeness be placed on the coins, not because of his prowess as a showman but for his philanthropic and public spirited activities. Barnum established the Seaside park at Bridgeport and also played an important part in founding East Bridgeport.

OLLIE'S PUBLIC SPIRIT OUTSHINES ONES HE DRANK

Ollie Smith, 26 years old, who resides on Green Bay road west of Waukegan, halted his automobile by a no parking sign in front of the Waukegan police station yesterday and blew his horn with vigor.

Lieut. Virgil Stewart, aroused by the noise, went outside to reprimand the motorist. Smith stuck a flushed face out of a window and announced: "I'm too drunk to be driving; please lock me up."

The lieutenant, having whiffed Smith's breath, agreed in the diagnosis and obeyed the request. Five hours later the prisoner was taken before Police Magistrate Clarence Brown of Waukegan, who decided that he had shown public spirit by volunteering for jail and dismissed a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Mystery Stalks in Grant Park; Blooming Odd!

In a shrubbery bed at the edge of Grant park, near the intersection of 9th street and Michigan avenue, a sturdy plant has been pushing itself up during the last several weeks. Passersby have noted the rare specimen—rare for Grant park, at any rate—and have watched its progress.

Drenched nightly by spray from the new sprinkling system which has been installed in the park by the Works Progress administration, the plant has thrived. There were half a dozen of its kind at first, but something happened to the others before the park workers discovered that avenue strollers had become interested. Now the remaining one gets special attention.

"Just Wait for the Blooms!"

Yesterday a passerby, struck by a sudden thought, asked a worker:

"What variety is that?"

"I really couldn't say," was the reply.

"Would you think——" began his questioner.

"No. It's no use. We have so many kinds of plants here that I just wait till they bloom, then see if I can recognize the flower."

Last night, however, the mystery was cleared up to the satisfaction of every one except probably the worker who is waiting for the plant to bloom.

The Mystery Lightens.

Several weeks ago William Funk, advertising executive with offices at 910 South Michigan—just across the street—returned from a stay in Germany and went to visit relatives in Bloomington. While there he was shown seeds that had been saved from a very fine variety of the plant that had been grown by the Funk family on their acres near Bloomington.

Mr. Funk brought the seeds back to Chicago and showed them to such of his friends as he thought would be interested. Then, having nothing else to do with them, he tossed them away one day into the shrubbery bed that was then being prepared for planting in Grant park. From one of the seeds grew Grant park's mystery plant, which is—a stalk of corn!

What's Fun for Danny Is a Headache to Neighbors

Daniel Weisbrod, 2 years old, 922 Crescent place, climbed into an automobile parked in front of 3109 Sheridan road yesterday, locked himself in, and proceeded to have the time of his life tooting its ear shattering horn. When it appeared Daniel was good for several hours of this neighbors called police, who found the car owner.

ETHEL BARRYMORE THROUGH WITH STAGE; WILL RETIRE TO HOME

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Ethel Barrymore, veteran actress and sister of John and Lionel Barrymore of the movies, announced tonight her retirement from the stage.

Miss Barrymore made her announcement in a radio broadcast appearance with Ben Bernie, orchestra leader.

She planned, she said, to retire to her home at Mamaroneck, N. Y., and said she hoped "that any and all people who want help or encouragement in the line of speech, dramatics, radio or public presentation will call upon me because I'll be so happy to help them."

"I have made up my mind that I'm never going to appear in another play," she said. "I live in the country and I never want to live anywhere else."

CHARGES KNIFE PLAY TO OWNER OF VILLA VENICE

Albert Bouche, 55 years old, owner of the Villa Venice café on Milwaukee road south of Wheeling, one of the more elaborate of the roadhouse pleasure spots in Cook county, was arrested last evening on charges of assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon.

The complainant is George Kosloff, 47 years old, former Russian army captain who has been manager of Bouche's enterprises since 1929. He asserted that Bouche attacked him with a butcher knife in the café early yesterday.

"He did not stab me with the knife," said Kosloff, "but held it before me while he beat me severely. I had no chance to escape. The trouble started when Bouche reprimanded a waiter and blamed the man's acts on me. I did nothing to provoke the attack."

Bouche was held at the county highway police station in Morton Grove until he posted $400 bonds to insure his appearance in court. Kosloff was treated at a hospital.

Landon Is Big Favorite in Family Straw Vote

Dwight, Ill., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The Wagner family, consisting mostly of farmers of Kankakee and Livingston counties, held a reunion Sunday and joined in a straw vote on the candidates for President of the United States. The result was: Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, 60; William Lemke, 7, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, 3.

Borah Takes 3 to 1 Lead in Senate Race

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah, at 71 in the "political fight of a lifetime," built up tonight a three to one lead over his Townsendite opponent for the Republican senatorial nomination in mounting Idaho primary returns.

The veteran senator received 11,798 votes in reports from 231 of the state's 850 precincts to 3,882 for Byron Defenbach, former state treasurer, historian, and scholar.

For the Democratic senatorial nomination, Gov. C. Ben Ross led blind U. S. District Attorney John A. Carver 6,426 to 4,921. This total was from 147 of the state's 850 precincts.

Robinson Has 2-1 Lead.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Slowly mounting returns from today's Democratic primary election gave Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic majority leader, a better than two to one margin over the combined votes of two opponents.

Tabulations from 578 precincts out of 2,156 gave Robinson 23,919 votes to 5,801 for Cleveland Holland, Townsend pension plan advocate, and 3,824 for J. Rosser Venable, world war veteran.

Bailey Leads for Governor.

Attorney General Carl E. Bailey jumped into a lead in the governor's race, tabulations from 631 precincts giving him 13,177 votes. Running close behind were Secretary of State Ed F. McDonald with 11,145, and Pulaski County Judge R. A. Cooke with 10,902. Former Gov. Tom J. Terral had 4,670, while former Controler Howard Reed trailed with 814.

Nomination in the primary is tantamount to election. The polls were open from 8 a. m. to 6: 30 p. m., with the state's new "pure election" law calling for an uninterrupted count of returns.

Four of the state's seven congressmen faced opposition. They were W. J. Driver of the first district; John E. Miller of the second, Ben Cravens of the fourth, and D. D. Terry of the fifth.

Andrews Wins in Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 12 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Charles O. Andrews of Orlando, Townsend pension advocate, won the Democratic nomination for the post of the late U. S. Senator Park Trammell in yesterday's special primary. Fairly complete unofficial returns gave him a lead of nearly 7,000 votes over former Gov. Doyle F. Carlton of Tampa, who conceded defeat.

The count with only 268 of the state's 1,322 precincts missing was 60,420 for Andrews and 53,699 for Carlton. Andrews had heavy pluralities in a number of the state's most populous counties.

Claude Pepper, Tallahassee attorney, automatically received Democratic nomination for the unexpired term of the late United States Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, who died just a month after Trammell.

Texas G. O. P. Names Harris.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Republican state convention today nominated C. O. Harris of San Angelo for governor. Carlos Watson of Brownsville was nominated for United States senator.

BATTLE ON FOR GRANADA; BOMB HITS ALHAMBRA

Americans at Irving Hotel Periled.

BY JAY ALLEN.

VICOMTE JACQUES DE SIBOUR.

TANGIER, International Zone, Morocco, Aug 11.—Death has whistled through the storied Alhambra and missed the Americans beleaguered at Granada, Spain, only by inches. Details of an aerial raid last Thursday became known today as four Americans were landed here from Granada by a plane chartered by the American Socony - Vacuum Oil company. The plane belonged to Gordon Selfridge Jr. and was flown by Vicomte de Sibour, son and son-in-law of the former Chicagoan, now a leading London merchant.

The rescued were Leila Cook Barber, Chicago; Rachel E. Witwer, New York; Ada H. K. Feely, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Jamie B. Ross, St. Louis.

Loyalists Renew Attack.

Miss Ross, who teaches at Vassar college, lived with her two sisters at 1151 East 56th street, Chicago, before traveling to Italy and Spain early this summer with Miss Barber. Miss Ross said she hoped to sail Friday for the United States.

Further efforts at aerial evacuation were delayed on news that Madrid troops had renewed their attack on Granada and were being sent reinforcements. It was reported that additional projectiles from planes and artillery struck the Alhambra.

Of seven bombs from planes that fell Thursday on Alhambra hill, along the crest of which stand the red palaces and towers of the Moorish kings [1232 to 1491], one exploded on the patio of the Washington Irving hotel, where half of the twenty-three Americans marooned in Granada for more than three weeks by the tide of the Spanish civil war were lodged.

8 Spaniards Killed.

There was carnage in the hall of the famous hostelry, known to every tourist. Eight Spaniards were killed outright and several wounded. Miraculously none of the Americans was hurt, though a fragment of a death dealing package from the skies killed a Spanish girl standing in conversation with J. H. Jordan of Atlanta, Ga., manager in Spain for Socony-Vacuum, who arranged for the rescue plane.

Government aviators have been bombing Granada from a height of 12,000 feet, whence it was impossible for them to aim at the rebel barracks, their objective. Six of Thursday's bombs fell in the Alhambra with the only damage, apparently slight, done to the historic Hall of Justice.

Seek Safety on Heights.

Guests at the Washington Irving and the newer Alhambra Palace hotel near by, both of which were full of Spaniards who thought themselves safer on the heights above the town, stood in the streets to watch the raid.

When those of the Irving saw the planes directly overhead they took refuge in the hall. A bomb fell in the patio, striking behind a palm tree, bursting and riddling two wings of the hotel with shrapnel. A tourist sitting under the palm was unhurt, but a bellboy was smashed and a bride about to become a mother was struck in the abdomen and twin boys were born on the spot. The mother died in the arms of an American school teacher who was accompanying her and the babies to a hospital. Two Spaniards from Granada who had had moved up from the town were killed.

Loyalists Wait Opening.

It is a war of extermination now. Gen. Francisco Franco's Moroccan Foreign Legion and Moors are advancing. They are a grave threat to the capital.

[Madrid denied the rebels' claim that Badajoz, near the frontier of Portugal, had been captured, though there has been heavy fighting there.]

Although the rebels have still a long way to go over difficult terrain, it is hard to see what can stop them short of defeat in the rear.

1,000 [illegible] Troops Land.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 11.—(AP)—One thousand additional rebel troops from Spanish Morocco reached La Linea, north of Gibraltar, today a short time after two government warships bombarded Tarifa, Spain. Three rebel airplanes bombed the warships, which replied with anti-aircraft guns. Reports at La Linea stated that 1,000 government troops were believed en route from Malaga to force a battle. A newspaper here reported four British subjects were wounded when a Spanish loyalist plane bombed a Granada hotel.

Drop 5 Tons of Bombs.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

MADRID, Aug. 11.—The loyal air force is reported to have dropped five tons of bombs on Granada today and the city of the historic Alhambra is expected to surrender shortly.

Government forces from Murcia captured Adamuz and set out on the 21 mile road to besiege Cordoba, rebel stronghold, bombarding the city at long range. Planes bombed Pozoblanco and Jaen, key cities in the south.

The trial of Gen. Jose Fanjul, leader of the military revolt in Madrid, and other officers involved in it will be held Thursday. A court martial at Barcelona today decreed death to Gens. Manuel Goded and Alvaro Burriel, who led the unsuccessful garrison uprising there at the beginning of the civil war.

Gain Near San Sebastian.

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Rebel forces tonight advanced to within three miles of Irun, on the Bay of Biscay, after a day of fierce fighting. Irun is the key controlling the road to the port of San Sebastian.

Irun itself prepared for a final stand and sandbags were piled high around public buildings. A network of barricades was set up at the outskirts of the town and machine gun nests were scattered along the roadside leading to Endarlaza.

[Madrid denied that rebels had captured Santander, as they claimed Monday.]

HUNGER HITS REBELS

TOLEDO, Spain, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Besieged for 21 days behind the six foot walls of the ancient Alcazar, 1,200 Fascist civil guards were reported tonight to have taken desperate steps to defeat starvation.

Six private soldiers, who risked their lives in a hazardous escape from the beleaguered fortress, told of the privation of men, women, and children within the citadel.

Rebels, they said, slaughter their own mounts to provide a diet of stewed horseflesh behind the walls vigilantly besieged by a ring of 2,000 government storm troops.

Straw for Breakfast.

Breakfast has been reduced to dried bread and toasted straw boiled in stale water, the escaped soldiers said, and all—the rebels, their wives, and children—must share it or starve. Only stagnant water is now available from the Alcazar well.

Burial of their dead became a critical problem for the rebels, the escaped soldiers related. Some graves were dug in the grounds of a small riding academy within the walls, but when it was filled bodies were thrown from windows on the east side of the fortress close to the edge of a sheer drop of more than 100 feet to the Tagus river.

25 German Planes Arrive.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

SEVILLE, Spain, Aug. 11.—[By courier to Gibraltar.]—Twenty heavy German Junker bombing planes and five Nazi pursuit planes manned by German military pilots arrived at this rebel headquarters today. They were landed from a rebel ship in the port of Cadiz and flown here. These join the seven Italian Caproni bombers which arrived during the past few days piloted by Italians.

Both the Italian and German aviators are living in the Hotel Cristina. Neither group is in military uniforms, the Germans wearing white caps.

[The report of the landing of German planes for the Spanish military rebels was characterized by the propaganda ministry in Berlin as "fantastic," but beyond that it was impossible to obtain either confirmation or denial there of the report itself.]

PROTESTS SOCIAL CREDIT PLAN TO KING OF BRITAIN

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A protest against the social credit plan of the Alberta government has been mailed to King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, it was disclosed today.

The letter, signed by Fred R. Surry, organizer and secretary of the Oppositionist League of Freedom, was the second protest against the prosperity plan of Premier William Aberhart. Objections by the Edmonton chamber of commerce to the Canadian government were referred to the dominion department of justice.

Merchants in Edmonton, meanwhile, accepted the social security scrip with reservations. A survey by the Edmonton Journal reported some had rejected it unconditionally and others recognized it only in amounts they were sure would be taken in payment of their own accounts.

German Zep Sets New Lakehurst-Hamburg Mark

FRANKFORT ON MAIN, Germany, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The German dirigible Hindenburg landed here from Lakehurst, N. J., at 10:40 p. m. [4:40 p. m., Chicago time] to clip one hour and 44 minutes from its previous record for the homeward passage. The return was made in 43 hours 55 minutes. The best previous time was 45 hours 39 minutes.

3,500 MEET HERE; GIVE WAR FUNDS TO SPAIN'S LABOR

Donations exceeding $1,100 to help Spanish labor combat the fascist rebellion were collected last night at a mass meeting of 3,500 persons in Ashland Boulevard auditorium. The gathering, convoked by the Socialist and Communist parties and the Committee for the Defense of Spanish Liberties, adopted several resolutions, one of which called upon the United States government to keep its hands off Spain and its warships out of Spanish waters.

Previously gifts totaling $35,000 were sent to Spain from here by the Workmen's Circle of Chicago, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union.

The chief speaker, Maximilian Olay, chairman of the Spanish Liberties committee, asserted that the unity of Spaniards in defense of their government has not been equaled since the revolution. All classes, he said, have gone to the front for the republic, notably large numbers of women, to whom he paid tribute for their offer of their lives to Spain.

POLICE HUNT GIRL 5, MISSING SINCE NOON ON MONDAY

Policemen of the Shakespeare avenue station were conducting a search early today for Joan Absalom, 5 years old, who left her home at 2622 North Western avenue at noon Monday and has not been seen since by her relatives. The child's father, David Absalom, and her mother, who resided in Franklin Park until a few days ago, separated and the girl went with her mother.

The father called at the station and asserted that he had not even known where his wife and child were living. Joan has light hair and blue eyes and weighs about 70 pounds. She was wearing a pair of red pajamas at the time of her disappearance.

Ex-Chicagoan's Diary Tells of Shambles in Barcelona

[Following are excerpts from the diary of Edward D. Loewenthal, former Chicagoan, which graphically describe the scene in Barcelona during the first week of the Spanish civil war. The account was sent to Mrs. Loewenthal's brother-in-law, Dr. George Rubin, 845 Drexel square, Chicago.]

BY EDWARD D. LOEWENTHAL.

BARCELONA, Spain, Sunday, July 19.—We were awakened about 4:30 a. m. by a terrific cannonading. It was infinitely worse than I had gone through in Madrid in October, 1934. No one dared stick their noses out of doors or windows. Cannon and machine gun fire continued all day and night.

July 20.—Firing lessened about noon and there passed by the door of our pension a long file of cavalry, artillery, motorcycle machine gunners, and infantry. People cheered the troops, which they thought were on their way to suppress the rebellion.

In the heart of the city the troops found Fascists [rebels] in control of the telephone building and other strategic points. The soldiers themselves then split, according to their rightist or leftist sympathies, and a bloody battle ensued.

Many Die in Street Battle.

On the enormous statue of Columbus in the square facing the harbor rebels had mounted machine guns, which they turned on the people in the streets. They were dislodged after the loss of many lives on both sides. During the two days the aviation corps planes circled the city and directed machine gun fire against the rebels. Fascists were quickly forced to surrender the planes in their hands.

July 21.—Firing became intermittent. All private automobiles had been requisitioned and these, filled with armed men, raced up and down the principal streets. Most of these cars bore the initials of syndicalist or anarchist organizations painted in large letters. No taxicabs were commandeered, as taxi drivers are working men and trade unionists. Most windows displayed white flags and the few venturesome persons in the streets carried white handkerchiefs or held their hands in the air.

July 22.—Early in the morning crowds [perfectly orderly] began burning the nearly 100 Catholic churches, some of them gigantic and artistic structures. By night there was not a church or convent intact except two or three that had been turned into hospitals. I stood in front of one of the largest churches and watched from the time it was set afire until nothing remained but the walls. The fire department stood by to protect adjoining dwellings.

Destroy Nazi Club.

Crowds also destroyed the German Nazi club, the Italian club, the offices of the Italian steamship line, and all the Spanish royalist and Rightist clubs.

All the gold melted from altars and precious stones were carefully guarded by the anarchists and turned over to public officials. Where there were children or sick persons in a convent they were placed in public shelters. The nuns found shelter with Catholic friends. The priests' and nuns' garb was no more to be seen in the streets.

July 23.—Streets were in an awful condition, with five days' accumulation of garbage. Workers began to burn dead horses in the streets and to fumigate nearby houses.

Public food markets were opened and sold out in an hour. Trucks were seized to transport food from the country and soup kitchens were set up in various parts of the city.

Farmers Paid With Scrip.

Farmers gave up their products for scrip. Bakeries, food stores, and milk depots were forbidden to close their doors during regular hours or to raise prices.

Two hotels were confiscated—one for a hospital and the other for the Socialist-Communist Youth league headquarters. Workmen in overalls lounged in the confiscated clubs and houses of aristocrats.

Police and civilian militia had the right to demand that any owner of a shop surrender anything that hospitals or public institutions required, always paying in scrip. Walking through the streets one was expected to give the anarchist salute—the right hand held erect with the fist clenched.

In one of the churches near us the walls fell and a large number of coffins were exposed, showing bodies completely mummified.

Rescue Vessels Arrive.

July 24—Lines of people stood for blocks from the postoffice waiting for the first distribution of mail and to send the first telegrams accepted. The American Export Liner Exeter arrived to evacuate Americans. The French and Italians, too, had boats there, and there were two British warships.

Half a dozen armed youths entered and searched our rooms for hidden arms. I believe they had word that the pension had been owned by Germans. They were courteous.

July 25—Streets were clean again. The people presented a holiday appearance, since only persons in the food trades and public services were working. Downtown stores were closed, as were bars, cafés, and places of amusement.

An excursion boat arrived from Mallorca after wandering for six days. It had tried to put in here Sunday, in the midst of the fighting, but returned to Mallorca to find fighting going on there. It returned to Barcelona when fighting was fiercest on the wharves, went down the coast, took on supplies, and finally got to dock here.

July 26—Trolley lines were repaired and street cars were moving regularly for the first time in this city of 1,150,000. Great funeral processions threaded along the streets.

REDS TRANSFORM STATUE OF CHRIST CHILD IN MADRID

MADRID, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The government guard in charge of the historic church of San José has transformed the statue of the Christ child into a "child communist."

In the portal of the church the two foot statue, known as "The Christ child of the globe," was turned into a symbol for communism.

The word "Dinamita" [Dynamite] was rudely written on the globe on which the foot of Christ rested. A pistol was bound to the raised right hand. In the left hand held aloft was a red banner. The statue wore red pants with blue suspenders, and cartridges were stuck in the belt.

Underneath was a placard reading: "I have betrayed the Fascists because I have become communist."

DON'T INTERFERE IN SPANISH WAR! U.S. ENVOYS TOLD

Washington Adopts Policy of Neutrality.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The intention of the United States government to "scrupulously refrain from any interference whatsoever in the unfortunate Spanish situation" was announced tonight by the state department.

This attitude was promulgated in the publication of instructions sent to all American representatives in Spain on Aug. 7 by William Philips, acting secretary of state.

While asserting that the American neutrality law prohibiting assistance to warring nations does not apply to the Spanish civil war, Philips said that the United States intended to conform with its "well established policy of noninterference with internal affairs in other countries, either in time of peace or civil strife."

Spaniards Seek U. S. Planes.

In making public the instructions, the state department revealed that they had been the basis of its reply to certain unidentified American aviation companies who had been approached with tentative offers from Spain and had asked the department's advice before closing negotiations.

To those officials of aviation companies who made inquires as to the American government's attitude toward filling such orders, state department officials read the full text of the instructions to its representatives in Spain without further comment.

The department did not reveal which side in the Spanish strife sought to place orders for planes in this country.

Asks U. S. to Join Pact.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—(AP)—France tonight cast a hopeful eye toward the United States in an effort to widen the scope of its proposal of neutrality in the Spanish civil war.

The French foreign office, informed sources said, had made an informal approach to the American government to learn whether it would look with favor upon an invitation to join in the neutrality pact.

Adherence by the Dutch and Polish governments today brought to ten the number of European nations indicating they will accept, at least in principle, the French proposal not to sell arms to either side in the Spanish conflict.

The ten nations ready to participate in the pact are France, Italy, the Netherlands, Russia, Great Britain, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Germany, Portugal, and Poland.

The Madrid government informed Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of its acceptance of the neutrality plan on condition all munitions exporting nations formally participate.

Spain Releases Nazi Planes.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Release by the Spanish government of German planes, reported seized at Madrid yesterday, was announced here today.

DIES IN BRIDEWELL HOSPITAL.

Albert Karpen, 60 years old, 720 Madison street, died of an infection last night in the Bridewell hospital. Unable to pay a fine of $5 for disorderly conduct, Karpen was sent to the Bridewell Monday to work it out.

ITALIANS DELIVERING PLANES TO REBELS FINED $12 BY FRENCH

OUDJA, French Morocco, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Six Italian aviators forced down in the Mediterranean off French territory while en route to Spanish rebel headquarters in Africa July 30, were each given one month's suspended sentence and fined 200 francs [about $12] today for transporting war materials without a license.

Their two airplanes, one of which crashed, were confiscated together with what French authorities described as seizable cargoes of arms and ammunition.

[The flyers explained when they were apprehended that they were part of a group of 21 machines which had been sent out from Italy by a private company.]

GREEK DICTATOR GAGS PRESS; LIST OF DON'TS ISSUED

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, Aug. 11.—The greatest ambition of the new dictatorship in Greece seems to be the organization of an air tight censorship on telephone and telegraph communication both inside and outside the country. It also forbids newspapers to print any editorial matter on political news except official communiques. Among the confidential censorship orders are the following don'ts:

"Do not write anything against Germany or national socialism; do not announce Spanish republican victories; do not print anything from Moscow; do not give too much space to crime, murders, or suicides; do not print pictures of girls in bathing suits, even athletic pictures."

All newspapers must submit proofs before printing and all are invited to print at least one editorial favoring Dictator Metaxas.

DENTIST AND GIRL MISSING; ROWING WHEN SQUALL HIT

Oar Drifts Ashore; Auto Found on Beach.

Lincoln park police and coast guardsmen were trying last night to account for Dr. Bernard G. Rux, 31 years old, a dental surgeon, and Miss Irene Kotowski, 21 years old, of Ivanhoe, Minn., a student at St. Catherine's college in St. Paul.

The two went rowing off Montrose beach at 7:30 p. m. Sunday—an hour before the violent squall which imperiled scores of boats. An oar which drifted ashore yesterday is the only trace of the dinghy which they obtained from its owner for a row in the harbor. Police found Dr. Rux's automobile yesterday in a parking lot near the beach.

Use of Small Boats Restricted.

Harbor authorities told police that small boats, such as the dinghy, are not allowed outside the harbor entrance.

It was surmised that the wind, which at times reached gusts of 70 miles an hour, probably whipped the boat outside the harbor, where heavy waves turned it over. The coast guard was asked to drag the lake near the harbor. Search was in progress yesterday inside the harbor.

Miss Kotowski and her mother, Mrs. Leon Kotowski, were visiting the dentist, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rux, his seven sisters and his five brothers in their home at 5730 West Huron street.

Formerly Student in Vienna.

Dr. Rux has offices at 55 East Washington street and 6011 Diversey avenue. He is associated also with a children's clinic at 6050 Adams street. He is a graduate of the Chicago College of Dental Surgery and studied at Vienna and at the United States Naval hospital.

Two Beverly Hills young men, Leonard Luck, 9736 Vanderpoel avenue, and George Flagler, 9762 Vanderpoel avenue, returned home yesterday with a thrilling story of their 13 hour struggle to keep alive after the storm capsized their Cape Cod sailboat off Holland, Mich., on Sunday night. They were returning from a vacation.

They clung to the boat all night, while coast guard craft passed nearby unable to hear their cries. In the morning they righted the craft, but only the mast rode above the water line. A private yacht finally sighted them 11 miles north of Holland and five miles out in the lake and took them back to Holland.

WPA DIRECTOR IS FIRED BECAUSE OF AMERICANISM

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Sarah S. Dennen today announced that she had been fired as director of women's activities of the Works Progress administration for her "strenuous Americanism" and her unwillingness to "play into the hands of the Reds and agitators who control the so-called WPA labor vote."

"Evidently," she said, "Col. Somervell [Lieut. Col. B. B. Somervell, new WPA administrator] is starting out by putting himself right into the hands of the Reds. The political tracks are being cleared for organization of the WPA labor vote."

SHARES HIS BEER GLADLY, BUT LINE HAS TO BE DRAWN

August Bascherau, 35 years old, 3557 Lincoln avenue, a WPA worker, and his wife had a fine time Monday night at the home of his friend, Herbert Welle, on Mannheim road, south of Des Plaines.

The Bascheraus helped Welle and his wife drink up a couple of gallons of beer and eat a midnight snack. Then they said good night. Bascherau drove down the road a block, left his wife in the car, and returned after all the lights in the Welle house went out.

But Welle looked out a window and saw the car. Then he heard a noise in his chicken coop and called the police. They found Bascherau hiding in a ditch beside a pile of Welle hens he had butchered. Yesterday Justice of the Peace Albert J. Sengstock of Morton Grove held Bascherau to the grand jury in bond of $500 for petit larceny.

1,000 SEE 3 BOYS RESCUED AFTER BOAT CAPSIZES

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—From a high bluff along Lake Michigan here 1,000 persons late today watched a beach life guard and coast guardsmen rescue three youths whose home made sailboat had capsized a mile off shore.

Those rescued are James Parson, 16; Robert Stockwell, 15, and John Moriarity, 16.

ICKES' SON IS ACCUSED OF DRIVING UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

ROBERT H. ICKES.

Woburn, Mass., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—A complaint charging Robert H. Ickes, son of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, with driving a car while under the influence of liquor was issued here today by District Court Clerk Charles H. Loring. A hearing is scheduled for Aug. 19.

The complaint was issued after Sergt. Charles Harold of the Winchester police reported that a car operated by young Ickes struck a parked car in Winchester at 1:20 a. m. No one was injured. Ickes was alone in his car and was not detained.

Young Ickes has been here since last June working as a clerk on the Woburn-Winchester-Medford PWA sewer project. His appointment to the job brought criticism from war veterans, civic leaders, and public officials who said Massachusetts jobs should be given home state men.

THE O'DONNELL DISPLAYS HIS SENSITIVE SIDE

Sues for $25,000 on False Arrest Charge.

Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, former south side beer baron, who recently has become sensitive to public opinion, filed a damage suit for $25,000 yesterday in Superior court against Master in Chancery Max Korshak and Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney. He charged false arrest and declared that by this he has 'been brought into public scandal and disgrace with and among his neighbors and other good and lawful worthy citizens of Illinois.'

The O'Donnell's suit complains that in violation of his constitutional rights and without due process of law he was arrested July 23 by Capt. Gilbert in Master Korshak's office, where O'Donnell was attempting to clinch a business deal. Strictly "legit," of course.

Spike as a Business Man.

O'Donnell wanted to have transferred into his name on the books of the Suburban Motor Service corporation, owner of a gasoline station at 5307 West Cermak road, 30 shares of the company's stock. He says he bought the shares from Eli Kornblith, a brother of David Kornblith, Korshak's son-in-law.

Korshak and the Kornblith brothers joined in purchasing the filling station in 1930. Eli sold O'Donnell his stock because of a disagreement with his brother and Korshak over distribution of the shares. Then, said O'Donnell in explanation of his suit:

"I look over this gas station, and it is going good. It is the banner station in the country, a puzzle to many big shots in the oil business who come to look it over. One year they sold 1,200,000 gallons of gasoline and 600 barrels of oil.

They Can't Fool Spike.

"So I go to Mr. Korshak and I am ready to buy him out with $20,000 if I am pushed. He said to come back the next day and he would transfer the stock to my name. He tells me he wants me for a partner, but he ain't fooling me.

"The next day I go to his office with my lawyer, and we put our stock on the table. Then in comes the law, Capt. Gilbert. He grabs the stock, and I am pinched.

"They have nothing on me, because I pay for this stock in good money, and there isn't any muscle in the leat. In 36 hours I get out on a writ because the pinch is phony. They got nothing on me."

The O'Donnell said he learned a lesson during the process of procuring the habeas corpus writ.

"You can sue for $26, and the writ cost me $65 with a lawyer's fee, so now I'm going to sue every time I'm pinched," he asserted.

"I am a business man now. When any one catches me in any racket, J. P. Morgan will do a buck and wing at a communist picnic. It is softer to make a living with pen and ink than with a pistol.

"I am thinking of my family, which is as good as any of them officials. Maybe better."

GHOST WRITERS SING PRAISES OF WPA EMPLOYER

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The trail of the mysterious Paul Ellerbe, whose attempt to hire magazine writers for the Works Progress administration has recently agitated New York literary agents, led today to a "ghosts" nest lined with work relief funds.

Mr. Ellerbe's very existence was doubted by high WPA officials, when his efforts to hire authors to sing the WPA's praises and to peddle articles on the WPA to national magazines were first disclosed, but he was discovered this afternoon at his desk in the WPA information service offices.

Mr. Ellerbe, a lanky, rather mournful man who was once a free lance writer, explained sadly that his superiors had ordered him not to talk, and returned to his contemplation of a memorandum suggesting that medical journals might be interested in pieces on the WPA medical projects.

Mr. Ellerbe's superiors proved to be David K. Niles, a former Boston press agent, who is now director of the information service, and Roscoe Wright, a former Houston, Tex., press agent, who is now assistant to Mr. Niles. Mr. Niles and Mr. Wright explained the information service and Mr. Ellerbe, whose activities, they admitted, had been correctly reported.

"It's an obligation to the taxpayer," said Mr. Niles, "to let him know how his money's being spent in the WPA. That's the business of the information service."

TUCK POINTER HURT IN FALL.

HUNT 10 ESCAPED PATIENTS AFTER FIRE IN ASYLUM

Mount Pleasant, Ia., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—State highway police were searching tonight for ten asylum inmates at large in this district following their rescue from a $200,000 fire that razed the Iowa State Hospital for the Insane here last night. They disappeared in the darkness during the excitement of getting the 1,588 patients from the blazing building.

All inmates were marched out amid sobbing and screaming, between a double line of volunteers who locked arms to form a lane. When the remainder of the hospital population was housed temporarily in dormitories of Iowa Wesleyan college it was found that ten were missing.

A general alarm went out, but the tension was eased when hospital authorities announced that none of the escaped was believed to be dangerous.

Although the center section of the building was destroyed, fire walls saved the wings. Some of the living quarters will be reoccupied soon, according to Dr. Leonard Ristine. The institution's food supply was destroyed by the fire, which apparently started in the recreation hall.

Couple May Divide Time of Child Between Them.

fected immediately, he would carry the legal fight for sole custody "to a finish."

The challenge as to legality of the couple's marriage also is to be dropped entirely, it was learned, so as to leave no future embarrassment for the little girl as she grows up.

The subject of Miss Astor's diary then came up. Dr. Thorpe's lawyer declared he entertains no intention of releasing any more passages from this chapter of purple episodes in the nights and days of a Hollywood beauty, some of whose passages were made public yesterday to provide sprightly reading for a nation. The actress's lawyers took the position that an earnest indication of good will on the doctor's part would be return of the entire diary at the earliest possible moment, together with all copies Attorney Anderson had caused to be made from it.

Woman in Case Is "Furious."

Reports of an impending settlement brought a wrathful response and a threat of independent action from pretty blonde Lillian Lawton Miles, the woman Miss Astor claims was the legal wife of Dr. Thorpe at the time she married him.

"I'm so furious I can hardly speak," she said. "A settlement now is incredible.

"Why, we haven't had our day in court. My own reputation has been slandered and blackened, and so have those of other people. These women have been on the stand telling these lies. If the case is settled now, without giving the other side a chance to tell its story, where are we?

"I can tell you, if that happens, I'm going to take every legal step possible to clear my name.

"I can disprove those dirty charges by putting my own mother on the stand, and I'll certainly do it."

Court Paves Way for Peace.

Maneuvers toward a settlement began shortly after today's session was called. A stern court rebuke to Thorpe's counsel prevented, for the time, further cross-examination of Miss Astor on her recital of association with men prominent in the nation's business and theatrical life.

When informed he must curtail his barrage of questions fired at the slim, red haired defendant, Anderson agreed to rearrange his case. The judge suggested both parties try again for some common meeting ground.

"The only thing that strikes me as of great importance in this case is the welfare of the child," the judge adjured them.

Opposing Counsel Startled.

Woolley and Anderson, plainly startled, walked from court, to return shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon [7 o'clock Chicago time] to announce they were near agreement. Judge Knight closeted himself with the lawyers in his chambers for nearly an hour leaving Miss Astor attended by three movie friends at counsel table and Dr. Thorpe nervously smoking cigarets and rubbing his hands.

When the group emerged from chambers, Judge Knight ascended the bench and expressed his appreciation "of the efforts you gentlemen have been making in an attempt to reach a suitable agreement between yourselves."

Anderson then formally asked a continuance until tomorrow, the judge agreed and the flashlights of twenty newspaper cameramen boomed, marking the probable end—except the formal ruling of dismissal—of one of Hollywood's most messy lawsuits.

Actress in Gay Mood.

Mrs. Miles sat in the courtroom behind Dr. Thorpe, who came to the hearing unaccompanied.

Miss Astor, by contrast with yesterday's demeanor when Anderson, on cross-examination, was prying into details of her private life, was animated and happy as she came to court.

Movies' Most Lurid Trial.

The Astor-Thorpe case became the movies' most sensational airing of private love affairs shortly after it was filed by the red haired beauty on July 15, 1936.

Dr. Thorpe, who had come into possession of his lively wife's diary shortly before the April, 1935, divorce, combated the actress' suit with threats of disclosures from his ex-wife's own account of adventures in Hollywood, in Palm Springs, Cal.; in New York, Miami, and Havana.

Miss Astor's attorneys presented testimony coupling the doctor's name with those of Norma Taylor, New York sometimes blonde, sometimes brunette showgirl; Mrs. Miles, ex-wife of a United States army officer; Betty Graff, and Mrs. Paul Hendrickson.

Still Seek Kaufman.

Playwright George Kaufman, who, although married, figures in the frank revelations of Miss Astor's diary of emotional experiences, had been made this afternoon. The privately circulated report was that Kaufman still is around Hollywood, but had gone into hiding and decided to take a chance against Judge Knight's bench warant, in hopes that the pressure from worried motion picture magnates might force a compromise between Dr. Thorpe and Miss Astor.

Deputy Sherif Ray Bogie, heading one of the details assigned to arrest Kaufman on a forthwith bench warant for subpena dodging, informed Judge Knight this afternoon that Kaufman had packed his belongings and left his hotel suite last Sunday night, assertedly for New York.

"I told the sherif's office to keep looking for Kaufman," said Judge Knight. "Regardless of information to the contrary, I should not be surprised if Mr. Kaufman were picked up here. If he is picked up and brought before me for disregarding that subpena I will at once order him to jail.

"Regardless of how this suit is settled, I will see that Mr. Kaufman is put in jail if he ever comes within the jurisdiction of this court. Nobody may flout the authority of the court in the manner he did."

More Entries from Mary Astor's Diary; in 1932 She Loved Dr. Thorpe

In the earlier period of her married life, Mary Astor had recourse to her diary to set down her admiration for her husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe. It was before the birth of their child, Marilyn, and before the movie star's introduction to George Kaufman, Pulitzer prize playwright, in New York. She was sure at the time of this earlier entry in her journal that she loved Thorpe—an emotional contrast to her later weariness as expressed in the diary in 1934.

On Feb. 15, 1932, Miss Astor's diary said of Dr. Thorpe:

"Probably one of the most decent, fine human beings I have ever met—and a MAN—straight through he's all man and a very smart guy. I've known him intimately now for two years and in spite of all emotional upsets we have been through, my feeling for him has increased a thousandfold. It has taken quite a revolution in myself to rid myself of thoughts and actions and reflexes from all the bunk that I was brought up with and from the world of hot air that I've been surrounded by since I was 14.

"Franklyn is a great de-bunker—he has fought to maintain a balance and poise—made a constant effort to see through acts and attitudes—and poses—all superficiality—naturally in his line of work he would have to, otherwise he would believe everything every psycho-neurotic female that came into his office told him.

Finds the Real World Tough.

"Therefore he carries this clear vision with him into all contacts. He has taught me so much and with such pain and distress that he has taken all my pretty world of foolish meaningless bunk and given me a world of reality—believe me that world is tough and it's a job to keep facing it when you're used to dismissing it with a gesture and substituting an attitude of mind.

"He's shown up my friends; by that I don't mean he has 'run them down' but he has shown me what worth there is in them and what they actually are—and it gives me a clearer insight into them. For instance when Marian Spitzer whom I adore, first became pregnant she was shockingly calloused about it. She apparently didn't have one spark of the normal maternal feeling in her. To her it was a 'biological experiment.' She was purely selfish and admitted that she only wanted a baby because she thought a woman hadn't had everything life was supposed to give her until she had one—the same sort of thing as a woman remaining virginal, etc.

Biological Experiments! Bah!

"Well Franklyn was disgusted and said so—told her how she would feel, said, 'Biological experiments! She's nuts.' . . . Told her that when the baby came she would be just like every other mother and that was half the beauty of it. She claimed that she would feel exactly the same whether the child was hers or not. He discussed the thing with me and showed me the absurdity of her various arguments, told me it was just an attitude, a desire to be different.

"She used to write me in great glee after she went to New York about how worried Florence was that she hadn't yet started to get baby garments and couldn't get a kick out of soft wooly blankets—proof, Franklin said, of an attention seeker—I didn't know. Marian was pretty intellectual.

"Well the baby is five months old now and she sends pictures, snapshots—the tone of her letters is completely different—the baby is the most wonderful baby in the world. Frank was perfectly right, etc.

Newer Set of Values.

"I could go into a thousand instances in just such things as that—he has helped get rid of leeches, people that were making me bleed from a million tiny wounds. Parker, a man who has been with me for six years and whom I trusted implicitly I found to be a chiseler of pennies and dimes and dollars here and there. He had been for years and recently to the tune of about $40 a month in groceries. There's Rex Cole, a high pressure "investment counselor" five grand a year to make out your checks and get a cut on everything he sold. It took us two weeks and an order from the sherif's office to get my books so that I could have an audit made.

"Franklyn has given me a completely different set of values and his disdain of pseudo-intellectuals of which this charming picture business is full—his great reverence for true intellectuality — his deep sentiment stripped of any sentimentality, his interest in people who are interesting because they have done something or thought about something, not because they can talk in high flown phrases all makes a damned unusual person.

Low Opinion of the Movies.

"I have a different idea of my work and all the business of making motion pictures—if it were truly an art and if by sweating and worrying and digging one could eventually create something fine and beautiful that would be one thing and it would be worth it—but one is constantly hammered down by the oft-repeated phrase, 'What does it mean at the box office.'

"One's attempt to do anything good is thwarted by a lot of ignorant fools who put idiotic dialogue into one's mouth—by stories that are an insult to the intelligence and the constant effort to make one a fool like themselves.

"The only thing left to do is to put the best effort into what material there is and collect the do-ray-me and not break your heart because the ability you know you have within you cannot rise through the layers of boloney.

Sure She Loves Franklyn.

"I am sure, very sure that Franklyn loves me—and O how sure I am that I love him—he is so sweet to me about the baby—I was afraid for a while that he didn't want it but the way he talks about it now and he keeps bringing home little booklets "Care of Infants"—infant feeding and sends away for samples of powdered milk. He's given me a whole set of exercises to strengthen my abdomenal muscles—he watches my weight, my diet—listens patiently [not always] to my imagined symptoms and the result is that I haven't had a sick day. Just about a week of squeamishness right at first and that's all.

"Our big plan right now is this. First of all we've bought a boat, a 67 foot auxiliary schooner and about the middle of May or later we are to sail away to the south seas [and they lived happily ever after] to the Marqueses and Tahiti, from there to Hawaii, where the baby will be born in an excellent Honolulu hospital, and from there home."

And Then—Two Years Later.

Somewhat different in tone was this excerpt dated over two years later:

"May 6, 1934—Do you hear that soft stirring of drums? Something pretty exciting is going to happen—I feel it in my bones. Franklyn has been away for a few days on a fishing trip with Clark Gable and I've had a chance to do a bit of analyzing.

"First of all, I've come to the conclusion that the reason for my constant restlessness and dissatisfaction with life in general is because I don't like to be alone. I have to lean on some one, I'm scared to death of independence and the result is that I'm always tying myself up. Imagining myself deeply in love with some one I've no right to be tied up with. If I had the courage to break loose, have a good house cleaning, if I could first bring myself to manage my own life, my money, etc., I'd be a step further toward achieving some sort of happiness.

"And the one thing that I have never changed my mind about since I was 7 years old its that I want to be in the theater and have never felt that I could do my best work in the movies. I've struggled along now for fourteen years doing nothing outstanding but learning a lot. It has served its purpose in being a sort of apprenticeship but I think it's almost over. Even if I were terrifically successsful in the movies I'm sure I wouldn't be very happy."

JAP ACTRESS IS SLAIN; BLAME A LOVE TANGLE

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 11.—Neda Taka, 22, Japanese actress, ran screaming from her home today with a slashed throat and fell dead on the lawn.

Police began a search for Ray Johnson, 39. He was reported to have assaulted the young woman's suitor, William Bachand, 21, last night with an ice pick.

Detectives said the girl's real name is Midi Takaota. She had appeared in Chicago and New York night clubs.

Flower Gardens of Parks at Their Best This Week

Flower gardens of the Chicago Park district are at their height this week, August Koch, chief horticulturist, said yesterday. Among the 800,000 individual plants in parks of the city, there are 250 varieties. Among the outstanding plants are the sacred lotus, now in bloom at Humboldt park, and 60 varieties of water lilies at Garfield park.

TOWNSEND OUSTS THREE DIRECTORS TO QUELL REVOLT

'Sold Out!' Replies One to Pension Plan Chief.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The long threatened civil war in the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension organization showed a burst of flame yesterday when Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the movement, summarily kicked out of the organization three of its eleven directors.

His action, announced officially from Chicago headquarters, was admitted to be an effort to stamp out rebellion that threatened for the first time at the Cleveland convention of the organization last month. Adjournment of the convention was all that prevented an outbreak then, and it is said that the spirit of revolt has spread during the three weeks that have intervened.

Blame Espousal of Lemke.

The break in the harmony of the Cleveland convention was due chiefly to Townsend's effort to swing his followers into support of Congressman William Lemke, presidential candidate of the Union party which is sponsored by Townsend, Father Charles E. Coughlin, and the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, an old Huey Long follower and now a Townsend lieutenant. The present hostility is ascribed to the same cause.

Wunder, who represented Parker at the convention, and Kiefer participated in a secret midnight conference following the adjournment of the convention which resulted in the issuance of a statement declaring support for President Roosevelt. It is understood that full details of what occurred in that conference did not reach Dr. Townsend until last week. He acted while he was in Chicago last Saturday.

Wunder in Vigorous Reply.

In New York City Wunder replied with a written statement.

"I am fired," it read, "because I objected to Dr. Townsend and Gerald Smith doing the very thing they now accuse me of. They have sold the Townsend organization down the river to Coughlin and Lemke.

"Townsend has consistently objected to the fact that Kiefer and I have insisted he give the ownership of his movement to the Townsend clubs who pay his bill. Let the public as a jury decide their opinion of this man Townsend who now takes his third walk, and walks away from Kiefer and myself, the only two leaders willing to follow him in walking out on the Bell committee and therefore were cited by congress and now are in danger of indictment and imprisonment."

Wunder and Kiefer joined Townsend last May in defying the Bell congressional committee which was investigating the Townsend plan and its leaders. The house of representatives later adopted a resolution demanding that the three be prosecuted by the United States attorney of the District of Columbia.

DONATIONS TO ROOSEVELT FUND TOTAL MILLION

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Contributions to President Roosevelt's campaign fund now total about $1,000,000, W. Forbes Morgan, treasurer of the national Democratic campaign, announced this afternoon at the campaign headquarters.

The fund will receive at least $1,500,000 more in contributions, Morgan said, before the campaign is over. The national committee is in better shape financially now than it ever has been and the party now is solvent, he said.

Explaining how the funds are being raised, Morgan said that the party is getting away from direct appeals by mail, having found that this method costs them about 7 cents on the dollar. The bulk of the fund has been raised through Jackson day dinners sponsored by the party, the Roosevelt nominator rallies and Jefferson day dances.

Finish 2-3 of Steel Work on New Outer Drive Bridge

Frank A. Randall, consulting bridge engineer for the park district, said yesterday that erection of steel on the new outer drive bridge across the Chicago river is two-thirds completed. Of the 4,500 tons of steel to be used on the job, all except 1,500 tons are in place. When completed next August the bridge will connect the north and south outer drives.

Apartment Mailbox Thief Gets 5 Years in U. S. Cell

William Hansen, 53 years old, 20 South Desplaines street, was sentenced yesterday to five years in Leavenworth penitentiary by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward after he pleaded guilty of stealing approximately 500 letters from apartment mail boxes and of forging signatures to $2,000 worth of money orders and checks.

Retires Permanently from Stage

Fail to Get Hoodlums in Franklin Park.

A barrage of eggs and overripe tomatoes stopped a show by actors of one of the city's six Works Progress administration vaudeville units in Franklin park at 14th street and Kolin avenue last night.

Seventy-five hundred persons were in the audience when the performance began, it was estimated by Ray J. Binder, managing supervisor of WPA vaudeville units in the city.

A juggler appeared for the first number. He twirled Indian clubs, tossed little balls from hand to hand, balanced a chair and cracked jokes.

Exit the Juggler—Fast.

Suddenly, from the sidelines, two eggs and three tomatoes whistled over the crowd and plopped against the back drop. They missed the juggler, who hurriedly left the stage.

"This is outrageous," declared Oscar Norman, director of the park, stepping on the stage. "If this happens again, the show will be stopped."

The second performer on the program was a tenor. He finished his songs with a touch of a nervous tremolo, and the rest of the vaudevillians breathed easier.

But the third number, a dancing team, started the egg action again. Two eggs and another batch of tomatoes splattered on the scenery behind the dancers, and again Norman appeared on the stage.

Forced to Stop Show.

"I'm sorry for the rest of the audience," he declared, "but the action of these hoodlums has forced us to stop the show. We had planned to present other WPA vaudeville units on the next three nights, but these shows will be canceled unless we get adequate police protection."

As the spectators began leaving the park, several gave chase to two young men, suspected of hurling the eggs. Police joined in, but the youths escaped in the darkness.

JOHN BARRYMORE LOSES BATTLE FOR BUSINESS PAPERS

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 11.—(AP)—John Barrymore lost his suit today to obtain a large filing cabinet filled with papers and documents pertaining to his business affairs. The actor contended the papers were being illegally held by his former business manager, Henry Hotchener.

The court granted a non-suit motion on the contention of Hotchener that the papers and documents were needed to disprove allegations made by Barrymore in another suit he has brought against Hotchener, from whom the actor is now demanding an accounting for funds handled while Hotchener was acting in behalf of Barrymore.

CAB DRIVER NEAR DEATH; SHOT BY TWO IN MYSTERY

Frank Moles, 43 years old, 1519 Adams street, a Checker cab driver, was reported near death last night at the Berwyn hospital as a result of having been shot three times early yesterday by two men who entered his cab at Paulina and Madison streets and accused him of having kicked one of their friends. The bullets struck the driver in the abdomen, side, and thigh. Moles told Berwyn police he believed he was mistaken for some one else.

The Chicago police, investigating Moles' story, said they had reports of a fight in which one or more cab drivers took part shortly before Moles was approached by the two gunmen. The names of the men who participated in the fight, however, were not learned.

Moles has been a Checker cab driver for 16 years. He told Police Chief Albert Jares of Berwyn he did not know either of his assailants and had been in no fight with them or any one else. At their orders he drove them to Pershing road and Austin boulevard where they ordered him from the cab and then shot him, he said.

THREE KILLED IN CRASHES AT RAIL CROSSINGS

Fast Trains Hit Grader and Beer Truck.

Three men were killed by railroad trains at grade crossings yesterday in the Chicago area.

Frank Flary, 53 years old, of Round Lake, Lake county, was crushed to death when the road grader he was operating was struck by a Milwaukee railroad train at the Grub Hill road crossing near Round Lake. The locomotive, traveling 65 miles an hour, carried Flary's body for a quarter of a mile before it could be stopped.

Thirty minutes later, James C. Gudden, 51 years old, 544 South State street, conductor of the train, died in a restaurant near the scene of the accident, apparently of a heart attack.

The locomotive of the train was badly damaged. Trafic on the line was held up for three hours and a half while another locomotive was summoned.

Two in Beer Truck Killed.

The second accident took place at 124th street and Ashland avenue in Calumet Park. A city bound Illinois Central suburban train crashed into a beer truck owned by the Shasta Beverage company of Harvey.

The driver of the truck, Melvin Goetz, 21 years old, 14733 Loomis street, Harvey, and his helper, Gilbert Westenberg, 20 years old, 14543 Myrtle avenue, Harvey, were killed as the train smashed the truck against the Ashland avenue station near the crossing. The train was damaged, but none of the passengers was seriously injured.

S. D. Knight, 1027 East Court street, Kankakee, told the police he had stopped his car at the grade crossing, waiting for the train to pass, when the truck swept around him to destruction. Daniel W. Mulvihill, 8214 Ellis avenue, motorman of the train, said the warning signals at the crossing were in operation.

Lucas Witman, 31 years old, of Palatine, was killed last night while riding a bicycle on Dundee road, near Schoenbeck road, two miles west of Wheeling, where he was struck by the automobile of Ford R. Carter, 30 years old, of Barrington. Witman died at the Wheeling hospital.

Shoe Merchant Killed.

Davis Weiss, 50 years old, 436 North Parkside avenue, a shoe merchant, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by an automobile as he stepped from a safety island at Madison street and Central avenue. He died in Frances Willard hospital. John W. Eppler, 23 years old, 544 South Euclid avenue, Oak Park, driver of the car, was freed by police after witnesses said Weiss had walked in front of his machine.

Joseph Gunski, 50 years old, 721 Temple street, a laborer, died yesterday of injuries suffered July 26 when he was struck at Milwaukee avenue and Erie street by an automobile driven by Edward De Kant, 21 years old, 2050 Augusta boulevard.

Child Hurt by Auto.

Margaret Howitt, 2 years old, 646 North Parkside avenue, was injured yesterday at Long avenue and Fulton street by an automobile driven by Robert McCarthy, 17 years old, 130 North Long avenue, son of Judge Justin F. McCarthy of the Municipal court. Police released the youth when witnesses said the child darted into his path from behind a parked car.

Miss Mary Brennan, 28 years old, 3414 Parnell avenue, was injured last night when a surface car on which she was riding was struck by an automobile at 69th street and Racine avenue. She was taken to the Southtown hospital, where it was said she was suffering from shock and possibly a spine injury. The driver of the automobile was Harry Knox, 8400 West 111th street.

Charles Konner, 18 years old, 816 Elgin avenue, Forest Park, was seriously injured early today when the automobile in which he was riding was struck at North and Harlem avenues, River Forest, by another car. Konner was a passenger in an automobile driven by Eugene Audy, 1104 Circle avenue, Forest Park. Audy and Walter Brazes, 1635 Wabansia avenue, driver of the other car, were unhurt.

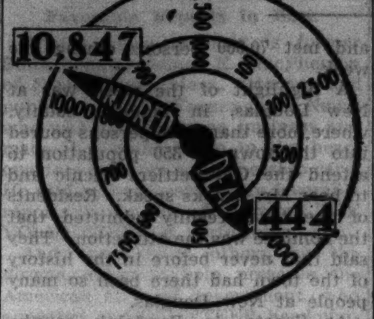
Postpone Inquest Again.

For the third time an inquest was continued yesterday into the death of Albert Klausch Jr., 18 years old, a messenger killed June 27 when struck by an automobile at Wabash and Ohio street in which robbers were escaping from the holdup of a handbook at 540 St. Clair street. The date set for the next hearing was Aug. 19.

The coroner's office reported 582 persons killed in trafic accidents in Cook county from Jan. 1 to 4 p. m. yesterday. Of these deaths 444 occurred in Chicago. In the same period 10,847 persons were injured within the city limits.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

PART OF FULTON FISH MARKET FALLS IN RIVER

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A 125 foot section of the Fulton Fish market, where Alfred E. Smith worked as a boy, collapsed today and slid into the East river.

Only two persons were in the building at the time. One, George Clark, 73, a night watchman, was injured seriously by débris.

'EXCITED' WOMAN DRIVER IS JAILED AFTER ACCIDENT

Mrs. Helen Nelson, 27 years old, 6442 Ellis avenue, was sentenced to five days in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in women's court on a charge of reckless driving. Mrs. Nelson was arrested on a warant obtained by W. J. Schelbe Jr., 18 years old, 6345 University avenue.

MRS. HELEN NELSON.

The automobile she was driving crashed into Schelbe's at Drexel avenue and 62d street on July 15, he charged. Schelbe and two of the three passengers in his car were injured. He testified yesterday that when he approached Mrs. Nelson's car she attempted to drive away. He leaped on the running board, but was thrown to the pavement and suffered a brain concussion.

"Too Excited," She Says.

When Mrs. Nelson testified she was "too excited to know what she was doing" in driving away, Judge Hermes dismissed a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and imposed sentence under the reckless driving statute. Police of the accident bureau testified the brakes of her car were faulty.

Drunk Driver to Hospital.

Three men were sentenced to the county jail for trafic violations and a fourth was ordered to the Bridewell for hospital treatment by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court yesterday.

Joseph Zenke, 47 years old, 1301 North Maplewood avenue, received the hospital sentence on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested at Roosevelt road and Halsted street, where he backed into another car after being told to drive to the curb after passing a red light.

Those sentenced to the county jail are:

Vincent Leyden, 25 years old, 15 North Sangamon street, a truck driver; 10 days for reckless driving.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

LET THE BUYER BEWARE

By CALEB

"CAVEAT emptor"—let the buyer beware! There was a phrase of the old days, ringing out the hazards of trade to the people who bought. In the Sudan it held—and at the caravan crossroads in Mesopotamia where horses, dates, and tapestries changed hands.

Later, on the Roman trails where the betrayed buyer bewept his purchase before the local magistrate, "Caveat Emptor" was the word! And no redress. The horse was blind? The dyes were bad? The steel was soft? "Caveat emptor! Look to your interests. Your eyes were open!"

In England under the common law, when sheep and land and implements—when grain and woolens and silver changed hands, "caveat emptor" was the rule of the road. In the village and in the walled barony, in the city, and on the street, "caveat emptor" rang out!

Where the words were not heard, still this was the shadow over every transaction.

Silversmiths combined cheaper metals with the precious silver and sold the alloys as the real thing. Leather poorly cured and illy prepared for the abuse of hard service was sold as prime.

In this country, certain Yankees bought nutmegs which failed to grate. Let the buyer beware! More recently, "Oriental rugs" with the designs skilfully airbrushed on natural color wools have been sold. Cottons have been sold as linens. Rayons have been sold as silks. Paper veneers have been sold as wood. Shoddy has been sold as wool.

Most American merchants are honest. Most have no desire to earn a dishonest penny—or dollar. Thanks to them, the standards of trade have risen. Chances are that even the chance purchase today is a fair one. We believe most advertising is honest. Most statements of salespeople over this broad land may be trusted.

We believe the American merchant is due credit for this great change. Today the cry is generally—and should be universally—"CREDAT EMPTOR." Let the buyer believe!

It is on that basis this business has been built. We do not ask the extent of our stake in any transaction. We ask, "Was the transaction fair to you? Did the merchandise live up to what we said?" If there is doubt, or if there was misrepresentation, we will adjust the transaction. "Let the buyer believe!" It's our way of moving forward.

ROOSEVELT TRIP TO DROUTH AREA STARTS AUG. 25

Series of Conferences Planned on Tour.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today set Aug. 25 as the date of his departure on an inspection of the drouth area. The trip will be featured by a meeting with Gov. Alf M. Landon, his Republican opponent, at Des Moines, Ia., about Labor day.

The date was set at a press conference during which Mr. Roosevelt, in replying to criticism that New Deal relief activities are making it difficult for private industry to obtain workers, charged that in many cases private contractors are unwilling to pay a subsistence wage.

In setting the date of his drouth tour Mr. Roosevelt revealed a change in his plans. Tentative plans had provided that he would leave for the west from Hyde Park at the conclusion of his eastern flood area inspection, which begins Thursday.

Plans Trip to Dakotas.

Today Mr. Roosevelt said he will leave from Washington the evening of Aug. 25 and proceed directly to the Dakota dust bowl area. The route may carry Mr. Roosevelt through Chicago, but he will not stop in the city except in railroad yards as his train is shunted.

He will arrive in the Dakotas the morning of Aug. 27 and expects to remain two or three days to confer with governors of the area. Then he will swing down to Wisconsin where he will meet with Gov. Philip La Follette and Gov. Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota.

He then will go on to his meeting with drouth area governors and will continue on to a fourth conference with governors of eastern Mississippi states before returning to the White House.

Scores Wage Rates.

With regard to complaints against the administration's relief activities withholding workers from private industry, the President said that when this type of complaint is run down it usually is found that failure to pay a fair subsistence wage is the root of the trouble. He made this charge in reiterating that the New Deal will make every effort to see that workers employed from the 45 per cent federal grants and loans from PWA projects come from relief rolls.

Complaints have been made from the Mexican border region that wages paid relief workers have been higher than local industries can meet unless they import Mexican labor. The New Deal, he said, is sitting tight and doesn't propose to pay Mexican labor prices. Similar complaints have come from the north on French-Canadian labor, he said.

Discusses TVA Plans.

Mr. Roosevelt said his dictum could not be taken as an absolute rule, as some communities do not have sufficient skilled labor. However, he continued, there will be no geographical limitations so that skilled workers may be drawn from relief rolls of other areas.

Before meeting with newspaper men Mr. Roosevelt discussed future TVA plans with members of the power project's board. Discussing his conference he said that it was concerned chiefly with dam construction progress and the scarcity of power among private power companies.

EAGLES TO OPEN 38TH CONVENTION HERE TOMORROW

The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will open tomorrow evening at the Morrison hotel. The convention, according to officials, will draw more than 30,000 delegates from all parts of the country. It will continue through next Monday.

Speakers at the opening session will include George Nordlin of St. Paul, who is president of the order. Mayor Kelly has been asked to make an address of welcome. Simultaneously with the national convention, the Illinois state division of the order will hold its annual convention at the Hotel La Salle. As part of the celebration a parade will be held Sunday at noon in Michigan avenue.

Brooks to Resume Campaign Speeches Today at Albion

BY LLOYD WENDT.

Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for governor, will resume his series of talks with Illinois voters today at the Edwards County fair at Albion in the southeastern part of the state.

After a week of speeches in six downstate counties, Mr. Brooks is to return to Chicago on Saturday to participate in the Junior Association of Commerce commemoration of the Fort Dearborn massacre. Mr. Brooks' other engagements this week are:

Friday—Cumberland county fair, at Greenup; Christian county picnic, at Morrisonville; Old Salem chatauqua in Menard county.

Last week Mr. Brooks started his summer campaign as a quiet tour to place him in close touch with the people of the state and to permit him to obtain first hand information on state problems.

Hailed in Enemy Territory.

Despite the fact that he traveled in what is regarded as Democratic territory, the tour was by no means so quiet as had been planned. Crowds reënforced with bands, parades, and Republican banners greeted Mr. Brooks wherever he went, and, at a conservative estimate, he addressed and met 70,000 persons during the week.

A highlight of the week was at New Douglas, in Madison county, where more than 7,000 persons poured into the town of 350 population to attend the Old Settlers' picnic and to hear Mr. Brooks speak. Residents of the town readily admitted that the nominee was the attraction. They said that never before in the history of the town had there been so many people at New Douglas.

At Sparta, in Randolph county, more than 6,000 attended a rally for Brooks.

Twice as Many as Democrats.

In Hancock county more than 5,000 assembled to hear Mr. Brooks at the Carthage homecoming. The crowd was twice as great as on Democratic day the day previous, according to Carthage citizens, despite the fact that the homecoming parade and pageant were held on Democratic day in a Democratic neighborhood.

In addition to his formal addresses Mr. Brooks is pausing at other towns not on his schedule to meet the voters in their shops and stores. The effect is electric. There are crowds in the streets five minutes after he stops.

The demonstrations are not only for Brooks, but for the entire Republican ticket, according to the folk who surge out so enthusiastically to greet the nominee.

ILLINOIS HOUSE VOTES INCREASE IN RELIEF FUNDS

Expect Senate to Pass Bills Tomorrow.

said they are cutting the relief load from what it was under the IERC, and from representatives of social service workers.

In the statehouse there are persistent but unconfirmed reports that the governor is ready to call the legislature into a fifth special session to consider school legislation recommended recently by his educational commission and to again consider a proposal to submit to the voters at the November election the question of calling a constitutional convention. The reports state that the session might be called to convene next week.

Several members of the educational committee including Senator Louis O. Williams [Dem., Clinton], and Representative F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson], said they expect the call to be issued tomorrow when the governor will have returned from a hurried trip to Chicago, or Thursday.

This commission recommended the creation of a nonpartisan state school board which, it was said, would in effect supplant in policy making the state superintendent of schools. The board also would study the entire state public scholastic system and make recommendations as to financial and other aid.

It is understood the purpose of a constitutional convention is to saddle workers and earners with an income tax. A similar proposal was defeated by the voters two years ago and by the general assembly more recently.

ONTARIO REVOKES ITS SIGNATURE OF SEAWAYS TREATY

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 11.—Premier Hepburn of Ontario tonight announced the abrogation by this province of its signature to the Canadian-American seaways treaty which was rejected by the United States senate. A three year clause, it is contended, gives this province the right to revoke its affirmation of 1932. Ontario is backing out of the old agreement partially because of the embarrassing $100,000,000 obligation involved in payment for power, need for which, it is claimed, has been eliminated by the depression.

Scoffs at Lewis Report.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today laughingly dismissed reports the state department had received a revised draft of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, which was killed by the senate two years ago.

The President was told that Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.] had been quoted as stating at Montreal a few days ago that Canada had sent a revised treaty to the state department for consideration.

"That's a new one," Mr. Roosevelt said.

Find Narcotics Hidden in Freighter's Sand Ballast

Boston, Mass., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Customs agents, raking the sand ballast and the shelter deck of the freighter Black Tern, found 100 pounds of raw narcotics valued at $20,000 today.

LANDON LEAVES FOR COLORADO TO SEE FAMILY

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

En Route to Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 11.—"Where is Gov. Landon?"

"He has gone to bed."

That was the answer tonight as hundreds of Kansans flocked down to the railroad station at Manhattan, Junction City, Abilene, and other points to see Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, start out on the first leg of a journey that is to take him to Colorado, Pennsylvania, New York, and back to Topeka in the next 17 days.

The governor, who has had a cold and a "touch of pleurisy," did not obey his doctors yesterday and worked too hard. As a result he had to stay in bed all day today and only got up to walk to his train. Then he took to his berth at dinner time and missed the crowds that came out to greet him. The cool, dry air of Colorado, where he will spend the next week with his family, is expected to restore him to complete health. A physician, Dr. F. L. Loveland, is traveling with him.

Conferences Postponed.

Conferences with Colorado Republicans have been postponed until the governor has recovered. On learning that Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, was in Estes Park, the governor said:

"Well, I guess I'll have to break the rules and see him."

Gov. Landon left Topeka at 6:58 and will arrive at Denver at 7:30 in the morning. He will then motor 75 miles to the McGraw ranch, where Mrs. Landon and the children await him. The governor's father, John Landon, got tired of ranch life and left there yesterday for Kansas City, where he can enjoy a game of bridge with his club cronies.

The research staf which has aided him in the gathering of speech material will leave Topeka for Chicago this week. From now on the governor will be on the road the greater part of the campaign, visiting the east twice. One trip to the northwest is being planned. He is not expected to go to the Pacific coast.

Awaits Roosevelt Invitation.

The governor is waiting for a definite invitation from President Roosevelt to meet him at a parley of drouth state governors in Des Moines. So far nothing has been heard outside of press dispatches. The machinery for state aid to the drouth farmers already has been set up here. Lower rates for feed, cattle shipments, and water have been granted by the railroads at Gov. Landon's request.

Within a day or two the state tax commission will announce a big slash in property taxes in Kansas.

The general tax levy last year was 1.44 mills for general purposes of state government and .74 mills for the payment of the annual installment and the interest on the bonus voted for the Kansas veterans of the world war. Both items will be cut materially and may go as low as 1.35 mills for general purposes and .70 mills for the bonus.

ROOSEVELT REPORTED ON SECRET POLITICAL DASH TO MARYLAND

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Sun says President Roosevelt, "moving with secrecy and dispatch," stepped into the Maryland campaign for his reëlection late today by attending a secret meeting of Maryland Democratic leaders at Oxon Hill, Md.

"Acting personally to bring the leaders . . . to their toes," the paper says, Mr. Roosevelt slipped away from the White House and motored, with his secret service escort, to Oxon Hill Manor, estate of Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state.

About 30 Maryland Democratic chieftains, summoned for "a very secret powwow back in the cloistered retreat," greeted him there, the paper says.

Is STEEL more than "Skin Deep" in your car?

If you could look beneath the outside steel of your car would you find steel clear through? Or would it only go part way—a steel roof with a body frame of wood, or a steel frame with a soft fabric top? Is the body of your car really ALL of steel?

It is . . . in HUDSON or TERRAPLANE

Nothing less than a body ALL of steel for today's highways! Hudson has been building steel bodies since 1926 . . . was first to build roofs of steel. And Hudson, alone in the automobile industry, has its own great body plant, manufacturing all its bodies of steel straight through, with solid roofs of seamless steel.

Hudson and Terraplane safety goes still further. You have the safest stopping ever built into any automobile. Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for). Latest, finest hydraulics, with a separate safety braking system that takes hold automatically from the same brake pedal if ever needed. And you have still a third braking system from the easy-handling parking brake.

You command the highways in these "biggest cars ever priced so low"—with more horsepower than the same money can buy anywhere else. You enjoy the smoothness of motors balanced as only Hudson knows how to balance them. And extra miles from every gallon of gasoline.

Let us show you actual owner records of 125,000, 150,000 miles and more in cars built by Hudson. HAMILTON TOLD OREGON IS 'IN THE BAG' FOR LANDON

Finds State in Best Shape of Any West.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Portland, Ore., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—After conferences with Republican state leaders and county chairmen, John Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, declared today that Oregon is in the best shape for the Landon-Knox ticket of all the northwest states.

Hamilton was met at the airport here by Senators Charles L. McNary, of McNary-Haughen bill fame; Frederick Steiwer, keynoter at the Cleveland convention, and Ralph Williams, veteran national committeeman.

"Oregon," said Senator McNary, "is in the bag for Gov. Alf Landon."

Best Reports of Northwest.

"The party organization," said Hamilton at a press conference, "is in splendid shape. My reports on Oregon are the best of any northwest state. In Washington state, the eastern part is in very good shape, while in the western end political unrest is indicated by a lot of things—the piling up of isms and asms—and the fight is going to be a real one."

The news hounds here told of reports being spread that Hamilton is a "foreigner" and the G. O. P. chairman seized the opportunity to pour it on James A. Farley, Democratic chairman.

"I've heard of those reports myself," he said, "that I'm a foreigner. I was born in Fort Madison, Ia. My father was born in Pennsylvania. His father was born in Belfast, Ireland. My mother was born in Iowa.

"Does that look like any foreign stuff? Iowa is perhaps foreign stuff to Jim Farley—just another typical prairie state. It's Democratic propaganda."

Foreign Imports an Issue.

Canada's reciprocal trade agreement and the tarif policies of the New Deal are considered a basic issue in these parts. In this port the situation is not unlike that in Seattle, where in July a vessel nearly every day came in bearing imports to compete with American farmers. Butter from New Zealand, corn from Argentine, powdered eggs from China, cold packed salmon from Japan, lumber and shingles from Canada were in the Seattle shipments.

"Canada, under the reciprocal agreement," said Mr. Hamilton, discussing the effects as reported by state leaders, "is allowed a quarter of a billion feet of lumber, but this surplus is bound to affect prices. Any surplus does.

Conservation a G. O. P. Policy.

When asked the Republican attitude on the Bonneville project, Chairman Hamilton remarked, as in Spokane:

"No Republican administration is going to abandon a worth-while project which is under way. Remember that water conservation was fathered by Theodore Roosevelt, and 90 per cent of the good projects were laid out under Republican administrations."

He took a crack at the 'Quoddy project, where the New Deal has poured out several millions of dollars on a project to harness the tides of Passamaquoddy bay, on the coast of Maine.

"We do think, however," he said, "It would be a good thing to promote projects that are trying to harness the tides and make the moon behave."

Oppose Regimentation Move.

In Portland loud opposition is voiced against any attempt to link the two Columbia river projects—Grand Coulee and Bonneville—into a federal power pool and to create a Columbia river authority, similar to that on the Tennessee river, as suggested by some New Dealers. Here the establishment of any such authority seems to be regarded as a move to control industrial development and to regiment power-using mills and factories.

Another cause of complaint is the damage to the salmon industry, which the Bonneville dam is said to be causing. Elevators were to be provided to let the salmon move up stream in spawning season, but these have been deemed inadequate.

One general comment heard today on Portland streets is that the dam at Bonneville, where electricity is to be produced cheaper than at Niagara, will develop power at the expense of the salmon industry in a region where the electrical plants now have a capacity in excess of demand.

THE VOLUNTEERS ARE INDORSED BY COUNTY G. O. P.

Work of Patriots Gets Unanimous Backing.

Unanimous indorsement of THE VOLUNTEERS, patriotic organization pledged to support Gov. Landon, was given yesterday by the Cook county Republican central committee in a meeting at the Hotel La Salle. The committee resolved to coöperate with THE VOLUNTEER movement in every ward and township in the county.

Committeeman John Leonard East of the Fifth ward presented the indorsement resolution after the work of THE VOLUNTEERS had been outlined and it had been explained that the organization has not been set up as a party, the workers being enlisted only for the duration of the campaign.

County Chairman Edward F. Moore spoke warmly of the work THE VOLUNTEERS are accomplishing and Committeeman East then offered his resolution. Several seconds came from the floor.

Colored Citizens Join Fight.

Enlistment of colored citizens in THE VOLUNTEERS went forward rapidly yesterday, following a visit to VOLUNTEER headquarters on the seventeenth floor of Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan avenue, by a group of colored women leaders who are determined to do all they can to elect Gov. Alf M. Landon as President of the United States.

Convinced that the future of the country is at stake and that THE VOLUNTEERS, who are pledged to work and vote for Landon, can be of substantial aid in the campaign, the colored women each took large bundles of membership cards and told Miss Ruth De Young, head of the women's division, that they would start work immediately.

Club Leader to Speak.

In the group was Mrs. Mary C. Clarke, 5758 South Parkway, president of the Colored Women's Republican club, a city wide organization. Mrs. Clarke is widely known as a speaker and plans to appear on the platform in Landon's behalf often this fall.

Mrs. Mildred E. Keller, 6215 Indiana avenue, president of the West End Republican organization; Mrs. Lillian Browder, 3550 South Park way, and Mrs. Albert B. George, 3231 Vernon avenue, wife of former Judge Albert B. George, were other members of the group. They told Miss De Young THE VOLUNTEERS soon would have units all over the south side.

The colored women became interested in THE VOLUNTEERS through Miss Rosalie B. Didier of the Webster hotel, a school teacher who is already organizing VOLUNTEER teacher units.

Phil Maxwell, head of the music division, will direct a rehersal this afternoon in VOLUNTEER headquarters of more than 100 children who will be taught Landon campaign songs.

Typical of the mail which comes daily to Mr. Maxwell's desk was a request received yesterday from Mrs. Carrie Hartman of Mounds, Ill., leader of women's Republican activities in Pulaski county, who has organized a glee club for the campaign and asked for music for it. THE VOLUNTEERS songbook and other musical material were immediately dispatched to her.

Maxwell announced also that Mark Love, well known bass-baritone and opera singer, has joined THE VOLUNTEERS and will sing for Landon during the campaign.

Favorable Reports in East.

Another new member is former State Senator James E. MacPherson of Farmingham, Mass., attorney and publisher of The Framingham News, who was in Chicago on business and made it a point to go to the headquarters and sign a membership card. He said he had heard many favorable reports in the east of the work THE VOLUNTEERS is performing.

And there were others by the dozens, eager to help preserve the American form of government, who appeared at VOLUNTEER headquarters.

TRIBUNE AD ENDS WORRIES OF TWO WOMEN IN HURRY

Mrs. Louise Levish, 5336 Dorchester avenue, was in a happy mood last night when she called at the home of her son-in-law, Albert Beerfield, 7130 Cyril parkway.

"My brother, Arthur Hess, who used to be editor of a paper in Berlin, is coming to visit me next Monday," she said. "We haven't met in 45 years. There's just one thing that's bothering me. I found a fine lady's wrist watch on the street and I'd like to get it back to the owner."

"That ought to be easy," said Mr. Beerfield. "Wait until I buy a TRIBUNE."

So saying, he went to a news stand in the vicinity. In the lost and found classification of the paper he located the address of the owner of the watch, Miss Bess Morse, 5206 Woodlawn avenue. The timepiece was valued at $475. Mrs. Levish, who picked it up when she bent over to look for a nickel she had dropped, and Miss Morse are both happy now.

Arthur J. Hayes, Building Contractor, Is Found Dead

Arthur J. Hayes, 43 years old, a building contractor, was found dead last night in his home, 8025 Rhodes avenue. His wife, Beatrice, said that he had taken some sleeping powders, but it was not determined whether these caused his death.

FARMERS' VIEWS TO DIRECT G. O. P. FARM CAMPAIGN

BY PARKE BROWN.

The effort to translate Landon sentiment into votes will be a real "back to the soil" movement according to Congressman Clifford R. Hope of Kansas, who took charge of the farm division of the Republican national committee at its Chicago headquarters yesterday.

"The Republican farm campaign," he said, "is going to have its roots out in the farm districts. The farmers themselves will tell us what they want and how they feel about things.

Set Up Advisory Council.

"It is to be a farm directed campaign in the fullest sense. Through an advisory council, which is to be set up with a unit in every agricultural state, we shall be able to get the viewpoint of the farmers throughout the country.

"In other words, this campaign is going to be based on facts as farmers see them and not on some theorist's view of what the farmers ought to think."

National Chairman John Hamilton and his associates have been laying plans for the set-up and operation of the farm division for several weeks. Conferences have been held in various sections of the country at which details have been worked out. The program is intended to cover the whole range of farm life and contemplates close coöperation with the farm women's division of the women's department of the national committee.

Arthur M. Curtis, assistant to Chairman Hamilton, made the announcement of Congressman Hope's appointment and also named three assistant directors of the division. They are Don L. Berry, publisher of the Indianola [Ia.] Record; E. H. Taylor of Yates Center, Kas., former assistant editor of The Country Gentleman, and Congressman Francis D. Culkin of Oswego, N. Y. The headquarters staf will include a group of field representives who are to be practical farmers.

From Wheat District.

Congressman Hope is the ranking Republican member of the house committee on agriculture. He has served five terms from a Kansas district which is said to grow 10 per cent of all the wheat raised in the United States. His home is in Garden City.

Assistant Director Berry was a delegate to the national convention in Cleveland last june and was chairman of the subcommittee which wrote the farm plank of the platform.

The new division has offices in the McCormick buildings, 332 South Michigan avenue, not far from the national committee offices in the Railway Exchange building.

JEWS OF WORLD GIRD TO FIGHT FOR HOLY LAND 'HOME'

Geneva Parley Considers Arab Menace.

GENEVA, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The troubled situation in Palestine, where the conflict over Jewish immigration and land ownership has broken into open fighting, was considered tonight in a special session of the world Jewish congress.

David Ben Gurion warned of "the danger that the doors of our homeland may be closed" by a cessation of immigration, which has been objected to by Arab leaders.

Gurion is chairman of the executive committee of the Jewish agency for Palestine, recognized by the league of nations as the supreme Jewish authority in the holy land, and president of the Palestine Jewish federation of labor.

Calls on Jews to Mobilize.

"There is need for the mobilization of all Jewish forces in defense of our rights in the Diaspora [all lands outside Palestine] and on behalf of Palestine," he said.

"You have assembled in a time of unprecedented trial and persecution. Ruthless foes, with the sign of Cain on their foreheads as they teach race hatred, have risen against us in the galuth [lands of the dispersion].

"The danger that the doors of our homeland may be closed makes it more urgent than ever that we should mobilize all our forces in its defense. Let us not yield to those seeking to deprive us from our rights.

"We will not abandon our claim to full political and civil equality rights in the Galuth, and not for one moment will we shrink from realizing our dream of salvation in the Jewish homeland."

Ludwig Assails Hitler.

Emil Ludwig, German-Jewish biographer and historian, whose works were banned in Germany, said: All the forces in Jewish life must be consolidated to resist the war upon us. I see in the world Jewish congress the instrument which will prepare the Jewish people to resist the war of anti-Semitism directed against them and to combat the ravages of the world war to come. I am waiting to hear from this platform [congress] the answer given to Hitler in the same terms as he addresses us. We must not mince words or be weak in action."

Three of the most important committee assignments of the congress were drawn by New Yorkers.

Horace M. Kallen, professor at the new school of social research, was named chairman of the committee to combat anti-Semitism; Abraham Goldberg, chairman of the political commission, and Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum, chairman of the economic defense and boycott committee.

The system of distributing relief funds to Polish Jews by the American Jewish joint distribution committee was criticized by Aaron Reiss, Jewish leader from Warsaw.

"We demand that we have a part in deciding how the money should be spent for us," he said. "It is not possible to see the fruits of the work of the joint distribution in Poland."

FIVE MORE SLAIN IN RENEWAL OF HOLY LAND RIOTS

JERUSALEM, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The 55th Jewish victim of Jewish-Arab disturbances in Palestine in recent weeks, a British soldier, and three other persons were killed in renewed fighting last night and today.

[The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reported 10 persons had been killed and many wounded during the night.]

Arabs shot at Jewish settlements around the lake of Galilee throughout the night. The colony of Mizpah, near Tiberias, was subjected to a heavy barrage.

The soldier, who succumbed to wounds at Rosh Pina, was the seventh British fatality since the disorders began.

MEXICO HUSTLES FASCIST GENERAL TO EXILE IN U. S.

Gold Shirt Leader Is Ousted by Cardenas.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11.—The leftist government of President Lazaro Cardenas today hustled Gen. Nicolas Rodriguez, leader of the Fascist "gold shirts" organization, into exile. The veteran military chief was placed aboard a military plane here, which took him to Juarez, from where he was escorted to the International bridge at El Paso, Tex., by Mexican soldiers.

The Mexican government's action was taken in an effort to stem the development of Fascism in Mexico and followed a clash between communist and Fascist groups in Monterrey several weeks ago in which two persons were killed.

Organized to Fight Reds.

The Gold Shirts were organized as a semi-military outfit several years ago for the express purpose of fighting communism. They have been concentrating more and more of their fire upon the socialist policies of Cardenas with the result that the president ordered their dissolution last week.

The government has recently been adopting a stronger pro-labor policy, settling practically all of the many recent strikes in favor of the employés. One other result of this, besides the spreading activities of the Gold Shirts and a sympathetic organization, the Confederation of the Middle Class, has been the uniting of groups of merchants and big planters in organizations to support Rodriguez.

The Confederation of the Middle Class is reported to have some 60,000 members now. Its avowed aims, like those of the Gold Shirts, are both anti-Semitic and anti-communist.

The chief opposing leftist organization is the nation-wide Confederation of Workers, which has as its objective the socialization of many Mexican industries.

Claims Bolshevism Rampant.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Gen. Nicolas Rodriguez, expelled leader of the Gold Shirts of Mexico, was deported here at 6 p. m. today, bitterly criticizing the Mexican government for the treatment accorded him. He charged bolshevism is rampant in Mexico.

"The treatment accorded me was high handed and absolutely against the law," said Gen. Rodriguez. "This sort of thing, as well as disorders in Mexico and lack of security, could very probably result in the same conditions in Mexico as exist in Spain."

Discuss Fr. Coughlin

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's political activities were discussed officially by Pope Pius XI. and Bishop Michael Gallagher of Detroit, Vatican prelates disclosed today, and were explained satisfactorily.

They disagreed with Bishop Gallagher's assertion that the matter had not been reviewed in high Vatican circles. But they said the doughty, white-haired champion of Father Coughlin had "accomplished his mission."

The bishop, Father Coughlin's ecclesiastical superior, explained the radio priest's activities and his "priestly qualities," they said. The visit, they added, ended any possible doubt concerning Father Coughlin's political activities in the minds of Vatican officials and bore out Bishop Gallagher's insistence that the matter waranted neither action nor censure by the Holy See.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Russian flyers, Sigismund Levanevsky and Victor Levchenko, en route to Moscow, arrived from Juneau this afternoon and alighted on Harding lake. They had left Juneau, about 600 miles away, at noon.

Levanevsky and Levchenko left Santa Monica, Cal., last week, planning to fly over the top of the world to survey possibilities for commercial transportation along that route.

Flying the 900 miles from Seattle to Juneau they were forced down Sunday along the British Columbia coast by poor visibility but reached Juneau yesterday after making two intermediate stops.

Cuba Observes Liberty Day with Ban on Celebrations

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 11.—Cuba tomorrow will celebrate Liberty day, third anniversary of former President Gerardo Machado's downfall. Though it is supposed to be a national holiday the government tonight canceled all public celebrations because of the "prevailing abnormal political condition and evidence of increasing conspiracy to overthrow the government." The police and army have adopted extraordinary precautions to avert street demonstrations.

RECEDING WATER IN ILLINOIS RIVER PERILS SHIPPING

Assail War Department for Checking Flow.

Shipping concerns operating boats on the Illinois waterway yesterday criticized the war department for its failure to authorize an increase in the diversion of water from Lake Michigan in order to maintain a safe navigation depth over the entire length of the waterway. The sanitary district of Chicago, which regulates the flow of water from the lake through the Chicago river, reduced the flow last Friday in order to meet requirements of a 1930 decree of the United States Supreme court.

As a result of the reduced flow, the water level in the Illinois river below the Starved Rock dam has begun dropping and will soon reach the point where the passage of boats will be obstructed, shippers assert. Under the combined effects of the cut in diversion and the drouth, the water level in the Illinois river below Starved Rock is now one foot below normal and a further drop is expected.

Blames War Department.

Robert I. Randolph, president of the Mississippi Valley association, which is composed chiefly of middle western shippers, said yesterday that his organization contends that the war department has authority to increase diversion to meet the needs of navigation.

"Our attorneys," said Col. Randolph, "do not agree with the solicitor for the war department that the secretary of war is bound by the Supreme court decree or by any affirmative action of congress that now prevents temporary diversion of any amount of water that may be necessary to meet the needs of navigation, and we have asked that sufficient water by sent down the river to meet the present emergency."

The Supreme court in 1930 ruled on diversion only for the port of Chicago and not for the entire waterway, Mr. Randolph pointed out.

The sanitary district, at the informal request of army engineers, increased the diversion of lake water from 4,100 cubic feet per second to 5,000 feet [exclusive of domestic pumpage] on July 8. At that time captains of boats plying the river had reported scraping bottom near Utica. The flowage was cut to 4,650 feet last Friday.

New Cuts Are Ahead.

The district, under the court order, is limited to an average diversion of 5,000 cubic feet per second until the end of 1938, when the flow must be cut to 1,500 feet. The average diversion for 1936 to date has been in excess of 5,000 and the district must reduce the flow for the balance of the year. It cannot increase the diversion over the 5,000 foot average for the year unless ordered to do so by the war department.

Boats operating on the waterway are supposed to be provided with a minimum nine foot depth. The depth has been below this in recent weeks, however, and with the present cut in diversion shippers have been notified by army engineers that they should load to not more than 6 feet in making the passage.

RUSSIAN WEARS GAS MASK 18 DAYS AS EXPERIMENT

KHABAROVSK, U. S. S. R., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A Russian soldier had been wearing a gas mask for eighteen days today and had not yet completed an experiment to see how long he could keep the apparatus on without deleterious effects.

Three times a day the soldier, Gregory Danchenko, removes the mask to eat. Otherwise it is on twenty-four hours a day, while he sleeps and works, plays volley ball and attends the movies.

He told doctors watching his reactions that he had become so accustomed to the mask he hardly noticed it any more.

LINDY DISPLAYS ROBOT HEART TO SCIENCE MEETING

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in his first public appearance as a scientist, and Dr. Alexis Carrel today displayed their mechanical heart to eager, excited members of the International Congress of Experimental Cytology.

In groups of ten, the scientists pushed into the small room to learn intricacies of the apparatus by which operations of organs of the body can be observed and studied in an artificial chamber.

Dr. Carrel, who supplied technical knowledge for construction of the heart, answered questions in French. Col. Lindbergh, who developed the mechanical apparatus, explained its details in English.

Exhibit Open Rest of Week.

The exhibit was closed after two and one-half hours, but will be open the remainder of the week. The program was held up for a time because the colonel could find no thyroid gland necessary to make the heart work. Finally a cat was located, deprived of the thyroid, and the show went on.

The scientists asked questions excitedly, and peered intently through the glass doors of the apparatus as they watched pumps send a blood serum through the heart with rhythmic pulsations. The action automatically introduced an oxygen supply and expelled carbon dioxide, much in the manner of a living heart.

Instruments from United States.

One scientist observed:

"It was a thrilling moment when these two blackclad scientists with black masks sat down at the black table to perform the operation. The whole scene reminded me of Rembrandt anatomical paintings. Dr. Carrel himself put the gland in the apparatus.

"Everybody held his breath. Would the artificial heart beat? It did—slowly, but regularly."

Sleeplessness
Comes from Constipation

Loss of sleep—a waning appetite—low spirits—these are only a few of the symptoms of constipation.

They warn that poisons from the waste matter are being absorbed by the blood and carried to all parts of your body. Your vitality is lowered until you become a prey to serious disease.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

Ask your druggist for Nujol.

23,000 Acres of Virgin Timber Laid Waste.

Siskiwit Bay, Isle Royale, Mich., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Via short wave radio to Minneapolis.—An airplane flight over this northern Michigan island revealed today the terrific ravages of forest fires which have burned virtually uncontroled for more than a week.

More than 23,000 acres of virgin timberland on this Lake Superior beauty spot, 40 miles northeast of Grand Marais, Minn., have been laid waste by towering walls of flame, which, to an observer from the air, appear to be roaring through the trees like a giant blast furnace on a rampage.

From tree top to tree top the fire danced like some monstrous demon, singing a wild chant of defiance at efforts to control it.

Men and Boys Wage Battle.

Flyers high above the blazes felt the acrid smoke biting at their throats. On the ground, where 1,300 men and boys fought until they dropped in their tracks, the heat struck like a gigantic white hot iron. Night and day airplane patrols, sent out to report on new fires and on the progress of old blazes through the tinder dry forest, were manned by two United States navy reserve pilots—Lieuts. Kenneth Salisbury of Minneapolis and Elmer L. Johansen of Great Lakes, Ill.

Despite the efforts of fire fighters, a southwest wind today swept the blazes eastward. A hurry call for reinforcements brought 600 fresh men across Lake Superior to take the places of the exhausted. The naval training ship Paducah was expected to arrive here tomorrow or Thursday to stand by to evacuate residents of the island if the fire becomes worse.

Smoke Hinders Observers.

"The great trouble in fighting the fires here on this island is their inaccessibility," said Lieut. Johansen.

"Then, too, the smoke is so thick the fires are hard to spot from the air. I couldn't see a thing from the leeward side.

"There are three main fires burning now and six or seven smaller ones—spot blazes going ahead of the main fires, and the men are working night and day to bring them under control.

"How long it will take to really conquer the fires it's hard to tell. The 600 new men sent in today ought to help a lot, but the only thing that's going to stop these blazes is rain—plenty of rain."

New Outbreaks Reported.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A new outbreak of brush fires and three serious blazes in Beltrami Island forest late today offset the work of forest fire fighters just when they had conflagrations in the northern tinder box area under control.

Fresh appeals for men and equipment to combat these flames came on the heels of an order releasing a number of groups of CCC and civilian fire fighters for much needed rest in other districts.

Berry pickers were blamed by Dick Willems, state forest ranger, for the Beltrami blazes.

KATHRYN EVANS DIVORCED FROM P. A. WELBOURNE

Mrs. Kathryn Louise Evans Welbourne, 23 years old, 1420 Lake Shore drive, was granted an uncontested divorce by Judge Philip J. Finnegan in the Circuit court yesterday from Paul Alfred Welbourne III. of Elmira, N. Y. Welbourne, member of an old Boston family, and his wife, the daughter of the late Albert Thomas Evans, lumberman, were married in Chicago on July 8, 1933. Mrs. Welbourne charged that her husband deserted her on June 16, 1935, after a quarrel precipitated by her objection to his arriving home intoxicated two or three times a week.

Corroborative evidence was given by Mrs. Welbourne's mother, Mrs. Grace Evans. Mrs. Welbourne waived alimony, informing Judge Finnegan that she has ample means to support her son, Paul Alfred Welbourne IV.

ACTRESS-BRIDE WINS DIVORCE FROM HUSING

Reno, Nev., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Pretty Celia Ryland, actress-bride of a few months, won a private trial divorce decree here today from Edward B. [Ted] Husing, radio sports announcer. District Judge Benjamin F. Curler granted the decree on grounds of cruelty.

Miss Ryland, the former Frances Sizer, Savannah, Ga., was Husing's second wife. His first, Mrs. Helen G. Husing, obtained a Reno divorce in July, 1934.

Miss Ryland and Husing were married April 27 at Harrison, N. Y. They separated shortly afterward and while Husing was in Berlin to broadcast the Olympic games his bride was living in a downtown Reno hotel establishing divorce residence.

Confesses Looting Three Homes in Niles Center

Frank Bartella, 36 years old, 4025 North Pulaski road, confessed at the Niles Center police station yesterday that he had stolen jewelry and clothing valued at $1,000 from three homes in the suburb. He also admitted that he had broken into two flats on Chicago's south side. Bartella was arrested on suspicion by the Niles Center police on Monday and was held after burglar tools were found in his car.

MORE TROUBLE ABOUT CHECKS.

William Koss, 43 years old, 8910 Throop street, who admitted he was released from the Bridewell in January after serving a year for passing a worthless check, was arrested by police yesterday on a similar charge.

Winning Women's Chorus in Festival Contest

VOTE UKRAINIAN WOMEN'S CHORUS BEST IN COUNTY

Wins Place in Music Festival Finals.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Ukrainian Young Women's chorus, under the direction of Samuel Chuba, won first place last night in the Cook county women's chorus contest held in the Drake hotel ballroom.

This group will compete Saturday against other singers who have won similar contests in areas outside the county. The chorus which emerges victorious will sing in Soldiers' field Saturday evening at the Seventh Chicagoland Music festival. These preliminary competitions, as well as the festival itself, are sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and coöperating newspapers.

Carl Craven Chorus Second.

Second place last night went to the Carl Craven Ladies chorus; third place to the Chicago Daughters of Isabella chorus, under Clemens A. Hutter's direction. Judges were LeRoy Wetzel, George D. Rees, and Henry Loeppert.

The Ukrainian Young Women's chorus consists of thirty-two Chicago girls of Ukrainian descent. It has been in existence only six weeks, but sings with accuracy and considerable expressive power. The chorus is a delight to the eye as well as to the ear.

Irish Tune Easy for Them.

Although the required number for the contest, "Follow Me Down to Carlow," is an Irish tune, these young misses whose forbears came from the opposite end of Europe had no trouble in coping with its difficulties or entering convincingly into its style. Curiously, its general character is not radically different from that of a large body of Ukrainian folk music. There is the same light hearted movement, the same deft use of the minor mode to mix thoughtfulness with gayety.

MIXED FINALS TONIGHT

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Six mixed choruses in Cook county will compete tonight at 7 o'clock for the honor of representing the county in the Chicagoland finals of the seventh Chicagoland Musical Festival mixed chorus contest which will be held Saturday noon in the Drake hotel. The competition tonight, to which the public is invited without charge, will be held in the grand ballroom of the Drake.

The choruses and their directors are: Chicago and North Western Railway Choral club, Harry Slater; Plon Mixed chorus, Alexander Karczynski; Uptown chorus, Emerson Abernethy; Douglas Smith Choral club, Berthena Klahn; South Park Junior choir, James T. Campbell, and South Shore Combined choir, Beecher C. Burton.

The winner tonight will sing against three out of Cook county groups on Saturday; namely, the Egyptian Choral club, led by Frank E. Trobaugh, of West Frankfort, Ill.; the Elmhurst Choral society, directed by Clemens A. Hutter, and the Minneapolis A Cappella chorus, led by Prof. George Hultgren and sent to Chicago by the Minneapolis Tribune.

One of the judges of the choruses Saturday will be Arthur K. Putland, organist and choirmaster of the Wesley United church and director of music in the public schools of Fort William, Ont. Mr. Putland, who was educated at Trinity college in England, is a member of the Canadian radio commission.

Reserved Seats on Sale.

Reserved seats at 50 cents each for the festival concert Saturday night in Soldiers' field are on sale at two Tribune Public Service offices, in the lobby of Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street. More than 100,000 persons are expected to attend the spectacle.

Firemen Save Their Truck from Flaming Town Hall

Eaton, O., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Firemen rushed into the blazing Camden village hall today and saved the fire truck from destruction. Defective electrical wiring was blamed for the fire.

MOBS COMPETE WITH OFFICERS IN MAN HUNT

Anniston, Ala., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Law enforcement agencies and armed mobs competed here today in a search for a colored man suspected of attempting to kidnap a white baby. The shooting of three possemen while they were searching for the suspect added tension to the hunt.

Two members of the posse, Pat Hicks and Forney Martin, were seriously wounded, while a third member, Albert Hicks, was shot in the knee. Clarence Hughes, who escaped injury, said the posse was hunting for a colored man who tried to kidnap Mrs. Ullman Williamson's baby.

"As we were going through the colored district we stopped in front of Art Bush's house," Hughes said.

"I called to him and he asked what we wanted. Before we could reply a shot was fired from the house. I believe there were several colored persons around the house, because shots came from two sides."

ELECTION BOARD FORMS 417 NEW CITY PRECINCTS

Chairman A. J. McKay of the election board announced yesterday that 417 new voting precincts had been created in Chicago in the process of bringing "overgrown" ones down to the maximum of 450 voters. The old total of precincts for the city was 3,164 and the new total is 3,581.

Maps showing the new precinct lines have been ordered printed. Those for the first twenty-five wards are to be completed next week and the remainder are promised for the following week. New maps for the country towns under the board's jurisdiction also have been ordered as twenty-eight new precincts were added in that territory.

Yesterday's registrations under the permanent registration act totaled 1,471, bringing the total to date to 11,342. Among those who signed up was an armless man who wrote his name with a pen held between his teeth.

TRAVELER FINDS PLACE THAT LETS THE WORLD GO BY

All Is Peace and Quiet in Normandy Village.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONT ST. MICHEL, France, July 30.—[By mail.]—Now that, after an 18 year period of comparative sanity, Europe appears more or less determined to go mad once more, perhaps the best place to get away by one's self for a detached view of the drama is this Normandy village, with its lofty walls and its medieval abbey. Certainly St. Michel's shrine, clinging fantastically to an isolated rock in the middle of a bay, offers rare opportunities for contemplation of things other than wars and revolutions.

Both the curious and the devout are attracted to this town towering above the sands. Nearly all the visitors make the further ascent to the summit of the conical rock, there to enter the seventh century Benedictine abbey. The mont itself measures 3,000 feet in circumference at the base and is 260 feet high. Looming above the walls and towers is the monastic church, looking for all the world like a giant sentry. A hundred feet below is a group of conventional buildings, half military and half monastic in character.

Through Three Gateways.

Entrance to the village is by three successive gateways and up a steep lane under overhanging houses. At the second gateway stand the Flemish cannons left by Lord Scales when he abandoned his siege of the fort in the reign of Henry VI. On the way to the third gate is an eleventh century parish church where, from a pierced wall stairway, one may enter the choir beneath.

Visitors to the abbey on the summit may mount to the entrance by either of two routes, the climb up the narrow street, or around the ramparts. The circuitous ascent provides the better view, not only of the city and harbor below, but also the distant islands of Chausey.

The abbey was founded by St. Aubert, bishop of Avranches, in obedience to the command of the Archangel Michel, who, says the legend, appeared to him in a vision in the year 708. Prior to that time the place had been known throughout the old world as Mons Tumba, a pagan sanctuary. After the abbey had been built, its monks were protected by Rollo and the succeeding rulers of Normandy. Beginning with the tenth century, pilgrims resorted to the rock in great numbers, and their gifts of paintings and objects of art so enriched the monastery that today it stands as France's most important medieval monument.

See "Pardon" of Locronan.

Mont St. Michel is one of many objectives of excursions out of St. Nazaire and Brest into Normandy and Brittany. The 500 Americans on a western Europe cruise aboard the S. S. Paris have been taking in everything from La Baule, a sparkling resort in the Cote d'Amour, to Locronan, a medieval village celebrated for its annual "pardon."

To this observer, whose bump of veneration is virtually a depression, the pardon at Locronan wasn't much of a show. Maybe it was the rain, and maybe the observance wasn't intended as a show anyway, but the parade of peasants up the hill from the flamboyant church struck no responsive chord in this breast. The crêpe suzettes, served hot off the kitchen stove in an ancient building near the church, did considerably better.

Go There to Cure Ills.

The pardon has something to do with St. Ronau, but we didn't take the trouble to find out what that something is. Each year thousands of pilgrims make the 8½ mile circuit of the forest where the fifth century Irish missionary had his hermitage, and doubtless they get a great deal out of it. So, doubtless, do the sick people who crawl under the tomb of St. Ronau, in the chapel adjoining the church. The crawl is taken in the belief that it will cure them of their ills.

Perhaps this isn't germane to the story, and perhaps the devout will resent its being told, but a statue of Ronau lies on top of the tomb, and so many pilgrims have kissed the nose of this statue in the last three or four hundred years that there no longer is any nose. It might have been better to place a brass plate over the nose to protect it, just the way a plate has been placed over the much-kissed toe of a much better known saint in another part of Europe.

Reminders of Stone Age.

For those who don't care for pardons, there are the prehistoric remains in southern western Brittany. A visit to Carnac brings one to the center of a mysterious stone age civilization which shaped and set on end great bowlders in long rows, and dolmens, or table formations. A visit to Quimper, a splendid old town at the meeting place of the Steir and Odet rivers, takes one to a Gothic cathedral that required nearly 300 years to build.

A visit to Angers, the historic capital of the old duchy of Anjou, takes one to a massive castle, one of the finest feudal strongholds in France. And if one is as lucky as we were in Angers, the trip also will include a reception by the mayor and all the dignitaries, with some of the best wine we have tasted in this wine-tasting tour.

What is the Cairn of Remembrance?
F. M.

It is not far from Braemer, Scotland, and is a heap of stones where the Clan Farquharson once gathered in time of war. Each man would bring a stone to lay on the heap in remembrance of those who died in battle.

Is the Giant's Causeway in Ireland?
K. L. F.

Yes, near Portrush. It is a group of more than 40,000 columnar rocks which are irregular polygons with from three to nine sides, the majority being six sided. They vary in height from a few inches to eighty feet.

Do the Italians produce silk?
A. P.

Como, largest city on Lake Como, is the center of the Italian silk industry. Mulberry trees grow profusely in the region and provide the leaves on which the silk worms feed.

How extensively is Wisconsin rehabilitating its lakes for we fishermen?
B. G. R.

The state conservation department announced recently that up to July 1 it had planted 555,061,000 fish in lakes and rivers. This exceeds the 1935 planting by more than 30,000,000. The cleanup drive on carp and other rough fish continues.

TAVERN OWNERS ORGANIZE TO BAR ALL HOSTESSES

A movement to clean up the saloon business was undertaken yesterday by the Illinois Tavern Owners Protective association, a new group formed three weeks ago. They met yesterday at 1411 Diversey boulevard, in the Forty-fifth ward, and enrolled 140 tavern keepers of the ward who adopted a program to "earn the good will of all citizens."

"Our platform calls for the elimination of all hostesses of every age," said Charles Burkart, 3232 North Damen avenue, president. "It also includes complete conformation with the existing closing hours for all taverns, regardless of the type of license, and the refusal to sell either in person or by telephone to minors."

Burkart said that an effort will be made next week to organize a branch in Rogers Park, where property owners are complaining about the tavern situation. Every ward in the city will also be organized, he said, as well as downstate towns. The plan, he explained, is to educate the saloon keeper to what is right and what is wrong.

LIBEL CHARGE BASED ON HATE; ASSERTS BRIEF

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—John S. Wise Jr., counsel for Robert Edward Edmondson, the pamphleteer, today filed a 46 page brief with Judge William Allen in general sessions in the indictments accusing Edmonson of criminal libels of the Jewish religion, Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve of Barnard college, and Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor.

The brief contends there was no "legal evidence" presented to the grand jury against Edmondson and charged that the indictments were handed up "on hate, malice, revenge and prejudice."

JOHN L. LEWIS WIDENS BREACH WITH A. F. OF L.

Craft Vote Swings to Landon in Dispute.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.] — John L. Lewis, czar of the United Mine Workers and ring leader of ten "rebel" unions, intensified the civil strife within the ranks of organized labor today with a new statement of defiance for the American Federation of Labor.

Lewis disclosed that his committee for industrial organization [C. I. O.] at a secret meeting last night decided to continue the drive for members in steel and other industries which the A. F. of L. ordered stopped. The A. F. of L. council voted to suspend the rebel unions from membership last week unless they disbanded C. I. O. by Sept. 5.

"No Change in Policy," Says Lewis.

"The C. I. O. will continue its work of organization among the unorganized workers in the mass production industries," asserted Lewis. "There will be no change of policy whatsoever because of the unwaranted and illegal action of the executive council of the A. F. of L., and the C. I. O. will continue a policy of vigorous administration of its plans heretofore publicly announced."

The C. I. O. meeting was held when most of the leaders of the movement were on hand for a meeting of "Labor's Nonpartisan league," which is nonpartisan in name only, for the organization is actively supporting the candidacy of President Roosevelt.

Labor Vote Turns to Landon.

Reports from the labor frontier were that, by his activities, Lewis was handing votes over to Landon by the thousands because craft unionists distrust and fear the mine workers' chief, who has been supported in his ambitions by President Roosevelt.

The craft unionists are angered because the C. I. O. is cutting across jurisdictional lines in its attempt to mass all workers in the steel, automobile, and rubber industries into big unions without regard to the trades in which the men are engaged.

Make Bid for Radical Press.

A move on the part of the C. I. O. to line up the radical press of the country was seen today in an announcement by Lewis that Heywood Broun, pink columnist and president of the American Newspaper guild, had been appointed to the board of the C. I. O.

"I hope and believe the guild membership will support me in declaring adherence to the principles and leadership of the C. I. O.," declared Broun.

The question of whether to throw their lot in with the C. I. O. or with the A. F. of L. has created the same sort of civil war within the guild as it has within other unions throughout the country.

TVA HOLDS 'ACE IN HOLE' SHOULD NEW DEAL LOSE

100 Million Bond Issue Authorized.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The economic planners building the vast governmental power empire in the Tennessee valley have an ace in the hole in the event the New Deal is voted out in Novmber, it was disclosed today.

The hole card held by Chairman Arthur E. Morgan and his fellow directors, Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal, of the Tennessee Valley authority, is an authorization from congress to float 100 million dollars worth of bonds when and if needed.

Although the authorization has been on the statute books for two years, the TVA directors have not issued a single bond. Instead, they have been tapping the United States treasury for funds. Up to the last available accounting, Aug. 8, TVA has chalked up net expenditures of $96,964,664 since its inception.

Funds Top 150 Million.

The funds for TVA spending have been drawn from four specific appropriations extracted from congress from time to time to a total of $150,900,000. The unexpended balance is deemed sufficient by TVA officials to carry dam construction and other building plans through until next year, when they may be faced by a hostile Republican house of representatives and a Republican President who will go slower in making over the map of the country.

Congressional appropriations might be halted next year, but still TVA would have the bonds to sell and the receipts to spend.

In this connection, it was learned, the terms of the three TVA directors have been so arranged that if Republican Nominee Landon is elected President he would not gain control of the authority during the next four years. Because of the staggering arrangement Landon would have a chance to replace only one of the three directors, and this appointment would not occur until 1939.

Lilienthal Renamed.

The replacement would be for the directorship of Harcourt Morgan, who is serving a six year term. The term of Chairman Morgan, who is no relation to his associate, is for nine years and does not expire until 1942. Lilienthal's three year term ended this year and President Roosevelt promptly reappointed him for a nine year term, ending in 1945.

Another factor in the strategy of TVA directors in keeping their bonds on the shelf, it was learned, was the fear that they might not be able to sell them if they were issued.

The TVA bonds are indirect obligations of the United States government and in the light of past experience would not be as favorably received by the public as are direct obligations such as the fully guaranteed treasury bonds, notes, and bills.

Public Buyers Shy.

For example, the Commodity Credit corporation issued 150 million dollars worth of notes bearing ½ per cent interest with a six months maturity a month and a half ago and the public took only $71,440,000 of the flotation. The notes were amply backed by commodities.

The acts authorizing the TVA to sell securities provide that they shall be serial bonds having a maturity not more than 50 years and bearing interest not to exceed 3½ per cent a year.

The authority to issue 50 millions dollars' worth of the bonds will expire in the next three years, but this will give the TVA directors ample time to make a "rainy day" sale should a Republican house and President halt the flood of congressional appropriations.

U. S. LINER HELD AT SINGAPORE BY STRIKE OF CREW

SINGAPORE, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Dollar liner President Hayes was held in midchannel tonight by officers and a skeleton crew of Chinese to await renewal of negotiations tomorrow with striking crew members.

The men struck after an oiler was demoted to the rank of fireman. The sailors later left the ship when the captain refused to send them food.

Police guards were posted on the wharf and the deck of the liner to protect the hundreds of tourists aboard the craft.

The company was said to be seeking postponement of arbitration until the ship reached San Francisco. The deck and engine crews and the stewards cabled the seamen's union for advice.

RARE PITCHERS SOLD.

NOEL, Mo.—Mrs. W. W. Pickering has sold her collection of pitchers, which was one of the largest in the country. She had 2,069 pitchers from all parts of the world.

Infant, Maternal Death Rates at All Time Low

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Infant and maternal mortality in Illinois dropped to an all time low for the period during the first half of this year, Frank Jirka, public health director, said today. The maternal death rate was listed as 4.8 and infant deaths as 51 for each 1,000 births, compared with rates of 5.4 and 54, respectively, for the same period in 1935.

HELD ON BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Justice of the Peace Martin McGrath in Oak Park yesterday held Harry Rusnick, 28 years old, 931 Lyman avenue, Oak Park, to the grand jury in $5,000 bond on a charge of passing worthless checks.

WAR GAME GIVES PROTECTION PLAN FOR GOLD HOARD

5 Billion Treasure House Nearly Completed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Treasury and war department officials drew plans for the protection of 5 billion dollars of the New Deal's gold hoardings based on recent maneuvers of 22,000 troops surrounding Fort Knox, Ky., it was learned today.

In the event of foreign invasion or civil strife the administration will be prepared to pour troops into the Fort Knox military reservation, where, tucked away in the rolling hills of the Blue Grass country, the world's largest gold treasure house almost is completed.

Plans for moving the gold out of New York and Philadelphia are veiled in the deepest secrecy. Treasury officials said only that the gold trains would move to Fort Knox "some time in September."

Maneuvers Provide Information.

The maneuvers of the troops of the second army, which started Aug. 2 at Fort Knox, gave treasury and war officials information on terrain, roads, bridges, supplies, and other conditions that would be required in wartime.

In addition to the regular army units stationed at the reservation, the National Guard and organized reserve played a large part in the maneuvers. The latter forces would be called in if the mechanized cavalry and artillery at the encampment were not strong enough to combat an invading army. The army force stationed permanently at Fort Knox consists of 1,310 enlisted men and 72 officers.

Located in the interior west of the Alleghanies, the bullion depository will be protected from an invasion by a foreign air force which, in the belief of military authorities, first would strike at the seaboard cities. The Kentucky cache will hold approximately one-half of the nation's 10 billion 600 million dollars' worth of gold. Two billion dollars' worth of gold was moved last year from San Francisco to the mint at Denver.

Army to Accompany Trains.

Army units will accompany the 50 or more trains that will transport the gold from the Philadelphia mint and New York assay office. Secret service men and postal inspectors will be on hand as guards.

Each gold bar, about the size of a building brick, will be wrapped separately and placed in a mail sack. Each train will carry approximately 50 tons of the yellow metal to its resting place in the Kentucky hills. A ton of gold is worth approximately one million dollars.

The New Deal's gold supply, like Lenin's tomb at Moscow, will be visible at all times and from all angles.

Vault walls will be two feet thick and reinforced with steel coils. The building will be saturated with time locks, electric eyes, chemical discharges, microphones, and other protective devices.

The only official explanation for locating the bullion depository at Fort Knox was offered by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. on July 1, 1935, when he said that it was considered "a safe place."

U. S. SENDS CASH TO MATCH STATE PENSION FUNDS

$855,792 Will End Illinois Deficit.

Federal funds in the amount of $855,792 were on their way from Washington to Springfield last night to be used in matching state money appropriated for old age pensions for July, August, and September.

The original old age pension bill was passed by the Illinois legislature in January, but the federal government declined to allow the state a share of the pension funds in Washington until amendments had been made. These amendments, designed in general to increase the control of the state administration and lessen that of the counties in administration, were passed by the legislature in June, and were described in Washington as satisfactory.

Get Only $15 a Month.

As a result of this whip cracking in the national capital, the state's aged poor have received not more than $15 a month, drawn from state funds, instead of the promised $30—the federal and state governments being supposed to share the burden of payment equally.

Many, however, have not even received this amount, due to the slowness of the Illinois pension machinery. These delays are expected to be discussed later this week by Gov. Horner and Frank Bane, executive director of the federal social security board, according to a dispatch from Washington.

2,811 Checks Received Here.

Meanwhile, 2,811 pension checks were being received in Cook county by applicants who have been waiting as long as four months for the assistance. Previously only 616 persons of the 56,000 who have filed applications here had received any money.

The federal funds, which were sent yesterday, will enable the state to pay in full all pensions for more than $15. Persons who have received $15 instead of their promised $20 or $30 will get the difference shortly, and the adjustments will be made retroactive to July 1. State officials say the payments will average $22 a month.

Wide-spread criticism of the state pension setup at Springfield recently led Gov. Horner to issue a statement in which he complained that many county old age pension agencies are proceeding at a snail's pace.

Conference Falls Through.

Cook county plans for speeding up the investigation of applications were balked yesterday when the state department of public welfare failed to send officials to confer with authorities here. Joseph L. Moss, director of the county bureau of public welfare, said he had been promised a conference on his request for 600 employés to add to his staf of 160.

Moss declared it will take two years to investigate fully all the applications now on file here.

COUPLE FOILS RED TAPE

August Pohlmann, 77 years old, 6253 South Whipple street, and his wife, Juliana, 71 years old, who were refused old age pensions because they could not find their birth or marriage certificates, remedied the deficiency yesterday. They got a marriage license and were remarried in the license court in the county building.

The Pohlmanns were first married in 1906 in Crown Point. Proof of age, as shown by marriage or birth certificates, is required of applicants for old age pensions. But the Pohlmanns found, after a search, that such records relating to them had been destroyed.

RUSSIA RECOGNIZES ROOSEVELT.

Communist Russia is supporting the Blum government in France, the Azana-Giral government in Spain, and the Roosevelt administration in the United States. The motives in France and Spain can be discussed later. Americans are interested in the motives here. Why do the communists desire the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt?

A bulletin issued by the communist international headquarters in Moscow states the reasons: "The decision of the comintern to join the workers' organizations in supporting Roosevelt is not because we indorse his policies or intend to stand responsible for his actions. We are going to work for the election of Roosevelt because we wish to strengthen our influence among America's many radical groups. We all have a common aim. It is to defeat Landon, who represents forces which oppose the development of class war and revolution in America."

Early in his administration Mr. Roosevelt recognized Russia diplomatically and sent over an ambassador, Mr. Bullitt. In a much more realistic sense Russia recognized Mr. Roosevelt. Max Litvinof, the cunningest foreign minister in Europe, came over here and visited the White House. Comrade Litvinof recognized Mr. Roosevelt at sight. Stalin recognized him from early reports, filled in with later details. Mr. Roosevelt was a familiar figure to the communists. He was a developer. They are finishers. Mr. Roosevelt was Kerensky, the man who started things he couldn't finish, who released forces he could not control, and who was swept aside when he had opened the way for revolutionaries who could finish and mop up.

The communists believe that Lewis, Hillman, and the other unionists who have rebelled against the American Federation of Labor and form the committee for industrial organization and the workers' nonpartisan league are training the proletariat for revolution and a class war. They believe that Secretary Wallace and Mr. Tugwell are preparing the farmers for an attack upon the industrialists, Mr. Roosevelt's princes of privilege and economic royalists. Many of Mr. Roosevelt's phrases give great encouragement to Moscow.

In the Farmer-Labor party the Russians see what to them would be a union of workers and peasants, the foundation of a dictatorship of the proletariat. They know that Mr. Roosevelt supports Lewis and that his secretary of labor, Miss Perkins, encourages the movement. Wallace and Tugwell are Mr. Roosevelt's favored administrators.

The New Deal is so frankly collectivist that the Russians could not mistake its purposes. Mr. Wallace says that the Marxist ideas would be modified to suit American temperament and adjusted to Americans conditions. That the Russians would recognize as the start desired. The communist bulletin warns against attaching the familiar tags to movements fostered in the United States. These are not to be known as communist or socialist. The familiar slogans are not to be used. The workers are not to expound Marxian doctrins.

The appearance of the communists on a new front is easily explained by events. They have not changed their minds but they have changed their methods, believing that three countries, France, Spain, and the United States, are shaping their destinies so as inevitably to make the red flag their national emblem and the commissars their governors. In Premier Blum of France, President Azana and Premier Giral of Spain, and Mr. Roosevelt of the United States they recognize those fateful figures of history who overthrow an established order, who can do that but nothing more. Then it is a tossup whether the dictatorship is communist or Fascist.

Spain has its class war now. France may be approaching one. The communists are not fools. They know that democracy is much safer in the United States. They know it may save itself. They know that the American people are safe if they are not incited against each other, if they are spared a panic, if they are not overwhelmed, as Germany was, by financial disaster, if they keep their heads, their footing, and their tried form of government. The Russians are for Mr. Roosevelt because they think that inevitably he must, with another four years, produce the conditions most favorable to them.

WHAT OF THE LIGGETT MURDER?

Mrs. Walter Liggett, whose husband was murdered in Minneapolis last December, has written to the attorney general of Minnesota to know whether anything is being done to discover and punish the criminals responsible.

The official has replied that "it is said the police are continuing their investigation of the murder of your husband."

Mrs. Liggett and others interested in justice will get a lot of satisfaction out of that. She wrote the attorney general that her husband "had not associated him with the corruption and inefficiency of the rest of the régime" and expressed the belief that the murder is "not insoluble." Of course it is not, but in time it will become so. The crime, which was flagrant and open, can be solved. If it is not solved it is because corrupt politics does not want it solved and is powerful enough to prevent it from being solved. In Minneapolis it is showing how great that power is. The authorities of the state can take over the investigation and bring all the guilty to justice. They will do so if the alliance of crime and corrupt politics is not their master also.

MOTOR EDUCATION.

Fifteen or twenty years ago a series of ten driving lessons was a definite item in every automobile sales contract. The instructors furnished were experienced men who taught the purchaser and beginner many courtesies of the road in addition to the mysteries of operating the machine. Since everybody is now assumed to be a driver, this item has been eliminated. The purchaser receives the machine from the salesman and drives gayly away. Frequently his sole knowledge is confined to two items—he can handle the gear shift and steer.

Would it not be possible for the motorcycle squad to supply this deficiency? Assign a limited number of courteous officers to the duty of cruising the streets for the purpose of observing the atrocities that are potential causes of accidents. Such include driving with the left arm dangling from an open window, turning right from the center of the road, turning left from the right hand curb, straddling trafic lines, zigzag driving whereby two or three car lengths per mile are gained at the risk of a hundred necks, impatient horn blowing.

The careful motorist knows that every one of these badges of the untutored or careless operator occurs with deadly frequency. He has avoided accidents for years by regarding every other driver as a moron who cannot be trusted to do the right thing. The motorcycle policeman would also note these irregularities and warn the operator that he is not only ignoring highway etiquet but courting an accident.

Observation and inquiry will prove that abysmal ignorance of road rules is an outstanding cause of accidents. It hurts to admit it, but lack of courtesy, boorishness, a fiendish delight in outmaneuvering the occupant of a less able car are others. Courteous admonition by an officer should stir an element of shame in the normal individual and gratitude in the untutored. It is also probable that the campaign would convince the public that trafic officers are human beings earnestly engaged in an assault on a terrible problem and not public enemies.

APOLOGIES DUE.

It is unfortunate that several New York reporters, commenting on the recent record breaking trip of the Queen Mary, so emphasized the incident of a wrecked observation plane that was left astern. The story created an erroneous impression that the master of the Queen Mary shirked the common duty of the sea—to give aid in distress. THE TRIBUNE commented on the seeming negligence in an editorial captioned "Cricket, But Hardly Baseball."

As the public has since learned, the plane had scarcely struck the water when the Queen Mary's engines were checked. The vessel swerved violently to come about and a light lifeboat was immediately manned, but of course could not be launched until the speed of the liner could be reduced. In the meantime the S. S. Exermont was racing toward the scene of the disaster, and, it being obvious that she could render assistance to the unfortunates at least fifteen minutes before the Queen Mary, the captain of the latter resumed his course. He surmised that limited medical aid would be available on the small Exermont and used his wireless to communicate the recommendations of his own complete medical staf. Instead of criticism, the master of the Queen Mary merits the highest commendation for having fully complied with the humanitarian traditions of the sea.

NEXT WINTER'S BREAD LINE WILL SADLY MISS THOSE 25,000 LOAVES.

[Carrollton, Ill., Patriot.]

Twenty-five thousand potential loaves of bread are rotting in a 17 acre field at the west city limits, alongside route 108, in plain sight, and nobody can do anything about it. Many more thousands of loaves in raw material are rotting in other fields of Greene county on account of—don't smile, it's a serious matter——

Planned Economy Through Scarcity!

In the face of a world wheat shortage of a half billion bushels, Greene county alone can account for not less than 5,000 bushels lying in the fields, excluded from use by the "planned economy" policy of the national administration.

Anybody can go out on North Main street and see that 17 acre field, as the writer did Monday evening. Get inside, gather up a handful of wheat stalks, shake out the full heads, and take note that the grains are at least normal in size and fully matured. Nothing wrong with them whatever. Meade Keeley is owner of that field. Last fall he signed up in the crop reduction program for which the present administration is responsible, through Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. He had already sown his wheat before signing a contract, and that contract provided that he should reduce his acreage by 17 acres. All his wheat acreage was allowed to mature. When it was harvested and threshed one field of seven acres averaged 20 bushels to the acre; another field averaged 31 bushels. But this 17 acre field was not harvested in the usual manner. Mr. Keeley went into it with a mower, cut it down, and let it lie as it fell. It is still lying there and will be until it is raked up and destroyed. That method of harvesting a crop was never practiced before this "planned economy" program was put in effect.

Beside adding 4,000 to 5,000 bushels [in Greene county] to the shortage of the wheat crop, and leaving several thousand hungry applicants empty handed in the bread line next winter, there is another point of particular personal interest to farmers in Greene county, possibly not all to the same degree.

In Meade Keeley's case that 17 acre field would have yielded 340 bushels on the lesser basis of his other fields, or more than 500 bushels if it produced in proportion to the best plot. Supposing he receives $13.50 per acre bonus from the government, he would still have been more than $100, possibly $300, better off if he had not signed that contract. Any farmer whose wheat yielded 15 bushels or more per acre would have been better off, would have had full control of his crop, and would have felt better if he values his independence.

DESPITE DIFFICULTY OF raising funds to send our American athletes to the Olympic games in Berlin because a minority thought we should not be represented in anything Nazi-sponsored, despite all the turmoil over various irritating factors, despite the brickbats so generously hurled at the American Olympic committee, our team captured 12 of 23 firsts in the track and field contests. That is one more victory than in 1932 at Los Angeles when the games were held in this country. It is the best American showing since our colorbearers garnered 15 firsts at Stockholm in 1912.

Considering that sports competition from other nations is becoming keener each year, that in one event, probably two, Yankee chances were nullified by illness of our best representatives, the result is a tribute not only to the actual competitors but to the officials who undertook the thankless task of directing and financing participation.

Here is a story told of the late Senator Tabor of Colorado. When the senator ordered built the million dollar Leadville opera house he told the architect he would return before the dedication. On his return he noted a marble bust of Shakespeare at the entrance. "What's that?" he asked. "That's Shakespeare, father of the drama," he was told. LOW BLOOD PRESSURE.

THE line from the old Scottish folksong, "Loch Lomond"—"Ye'll tak the high road and I'll tak the low road," might well refer to blood pressure. Some individuals will characteristically exhibit a high level and others a low one.

Low blood pressure [hypotension] is found as a rule in those who possess a low vitality. Some of them will not feel fatigued unless they are called upon for unusual activity, but on the whole, they tire quickly and are unable to drive themselves either in work or in play. Because of this inability to carry a normal load they may appear chronically exhausted and full of anxieties, worries, or fears. This circumstance need not be wondered at, as the nervous system will react to a sluggish circulation in just the same manner as will the muscles.

The typical low blood pressure patient is rarely acutely ill. However, he is not well and may complain of all sorts of symptoms — headaches, mental depressions, moodiness, ill defined pains, constipation, poor circulation, cold extremities, etc. The body temperature is generally quite low in the morning, often not more than 96 degrees F.

With some justification the term neurasthenia has been applied to this condition. It implies nerve exhaustion, and many of these sufferers will show a low level of sugar in the blood. They are never hungry and rarely can they be persuaded to eat more food. If a metabolism test—which shows the rate at which the body is functioning—is made the result will often be 15 to 20 points below normal.

At what level do we consider the blood pressure low? In a normal adult any systolic pressure below 110, certainly below 100, must be placed in this category. The experience of life insurance companies, however, shows that if a man or woman is otherwise healthy there is nothing in a pressure between 100 and 110 [systolic] that detracts from longevity. In fact, they prefer this type of risk to pressures of 150.

No diagnosis should be made of the "exhaustion" type of low pressure until a thorough search has ruled out possible organic causes. We can readily understand that if the heart action is defective, or if the heart muscle has been damaged the force of the beat will be reduced. Again, if a patient faints or suffers a severe hemorrhage or manifests what is termed "shock," there is a drop in blood pressure, occasionally to a dangerous level. An organic basis may obtain also whenever disease of the adrenal glands interferes with the normal secretion of adrenalin—that powerful substance that is constantly poured into the circulation and which helps to maintain pressure within the arteries.

W. A. Mortensen reports the case of a man whose boat capsized in the ocean while fishing a mile from shore. The accident occurred on an outgoing tide and there was no opportunity of securing aid immediately. The physical effort of keeping above water, calling for help, and the apprehension of drowning resulted in a state of collapse when rescued. Since that time attacks of extreme fatigue appeared daily. The blood pressure—from an aforetime normal—fell below 100 and dropped still lower whenever exercise was indulged in. A program of rest, with increased quantities of food, brought about a complete return to health.

The treatment is not easy and the best plan involves rest in bed for from two to six weeks. Many will respond well to frequent [five or six] modest meals daily, each containing a small amount of glucose. This is the stuffing plan of S. Weir Mitchell, who advocated padding tired nerves with fat. Sometimes it is necessary to use adrenalin until the increased circulation reëstablishes the normal output of the adrenal glands.

At any rate, the tone of the sympathetic nervous system must be raised until control of the capillaries in the skin is restored. Of course, the heart may be the underlying factor and a careful examination is called for. The size of this organ is not important, but everything depends upon its power to contract and force the proper amount of blood into the arteries. Any abnormally fast or slow rate of contraction [beat] may mean that too little blood is reaching the vessels.

FEARS OVERWEIGHT.

H. J. M. writes: I had a tumor removed and, at the time, the doctor found it necessary to remove the uterus. I have been told that I will get very stout. Is there any precautionary measures that I can take to prevent this?

REPLY.

Artificial menopause sometimes causes obesity but not always. If it should occur, your physician can advise you as to the use of certain glandular injections which will control the tendency to stoutness. If the ovaries remain, the danger is minimal.

EXCESSIVE WEEPING.

Mrs. A. M. writes: Is excessive crying harmful to the eyes? Due to crying a great deal a girl has a steady twitching of the lower eyelids. Is this a form of nervousness or what?

REPLY.

Excessive crying is hard on the eyes and also on the nervous system. The twitching you describe is a nervous manifestation. Try to remove the cause of the tears and see if both the tears and the nervousness do not disappear.

LATE PREGNANCY.

Mrs. C. J. writes: Can a woman aged 46 going through the menopause possibly become pregnant? How can a woman be sure the childbearing period is over for her? Is it true that women have become pregnant later in life?

REPLY.

Pregnancy cannot occur after the menopause has been fully established. The menopause is sometimes delayed and in such cases pregnancy, of course, can take place. Not many women bear children after 50.

CYSTIC MASTITIS.

K. J. B. writes: Is chronic cystic mastitis malignant or can it become so if breasts are not removed?

REPLY.

A single large cyst rarely contains cancer cells. Of course, if cancer is present the breast must be removed. However, cysts may degenerate and become cancerous. If in doubt a small cyst can be removed by a minor surgical procedure and then examined under a microscope. This will settle the question.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

The Effect of Slavery on the Constitution.

The week past has found the delegates remaining in front of difficult problems, one of which undoubtedly is slavery. The northern states are reluctant to concede anything to the institution, but are unwilling to wreck the constitution on this rock. The Virginia delegates regret that slavery is instituted in their state, but must realize that it is there. The Virginia slaves are now expensive labor and the moral sentiments of the gentlemen, added to the cost of the system, incline them to its abolition.

In North and South Carolina and Georgia slavery is regarded as a necessary institution, and here arises the insistence that it be recognized and that importation of slaves be accepted for a period. Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania has delivered the most impassioned address on this subject. He has declared the institution a blight which shows itself in the physical characteristics of the regions in which it exists, making the slave states unpleasing to the view as compared to the states where freemen work for their own advantage. Mr. Morris also advanced the following theory:

The admission of slaves into the representation [this refers to the proposal that three-fifths of them shall be counted in the proportional representation in the house of representatives] fairly explained, comes to this: that the inhabitant of Georgia and South Carolina who goes to the coast of Africa and in defiance of the most sacred laws of humanity tears away his fellow creatures from their dearest connections and damns them to the most cruel bondage shall have more votes in a government instituted for the protection of the rights of mankind than the citizen of Pennsylvania or New Jersey who regards with a laudable horror so nefarious a practice.

He would add that domestic slavery is the most prominent feature in the aristocratic countenance of the proposed constitution. The vassalage of the poor has ever been the favorite offspring of aristocracy. And what is the proposed compensation to the northern states for a sacrifice of every principle of right, of every impulse of humanity? They are to bind themselves to march their militia for the defense of the southern states, for their defense of those very slaves of whom they complain. They must supply vessels and seamen in case of foreign attack. The legislature will have indefinite power to tax them by excises and duties on imports which will fall heavier on them than on the southern inhabitants, for the bohea tea used by a northern freeman will pay more tax than the whole consumption of the miserable slave which consists of nothing more than his physical subsistence and the rag that covers his nakedness.

He would sooner submit himself to a tax for paying for all the Negroes in the United States than to saddle posterity with such a constitution.

FINANCE

165

Q.—Who said: "Too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy"?

A.—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Q.—How much is the national deficit?

A.—For the three years ending June 30, 1936, the Roosevelt deficit will average $3,000,000,000 per year. For next year Secretary Morgenthau estimates the Roosevelt deficit at $5,966,000,000.

FLAUNT AND DUE.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—You and I laughed heartily, you editorially and I with you, when that stronghold of democracy, the New York Times, misused the word "olympiad" recently.

Why have you given the Times an opportunity to laugh last by permitting our next President to say flaunt when he means flout? [Vide paragraph in bold type on front page this morning.] And after all that has been said on the subject of the amusing results of confusion of mind regarding these two words.

And another thing: Can't you instruct your various writers regarding the meaning of the word "due"? It's an adjective, not a connective, not an adverb [except in "due west," etc.], and you cannot say, grammatically, that "due to this or that, thus and so is true." If "owing to" or "because of" can be substituted, your "due" is wrong. You can just about drop it out of your vocabulary and get along. And you'll be safer. [I've seen it misused in the first line of your leading editorial.]

I have read you forty years, and I would just rather not have you criticized. B. L. KIME.

AT THE CONCERT.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Last evening my wife, two children, and myself decided to attend the band concert in Grant park. We arrived on the scene at about 6:30 to find practically all the seats occupied with the exception of the entire center section from the band shell to the rear, chained and roped off and guarded by police and red shirted WPA workers. I was informed that I could not occupy seats in that section unless I had a card, and upon inquiry I was told that I could possibly find the "man" in the rooms under or adjacent to the band shell.

The officer on guard at the band shell allowed me to go in to find the "man" who, however, was not to be found. Giving up in disgust, I inquired if it was permissible for me to go through the reserved section, where I was at that time, to rejoin my family who were waiting for me in the standing crowd in the rear, and permission was granted.

I had not proceeded very far, however, when a chain and red shirt stopped my progress and I was asked very roughly where my ticket was. I explained that I was not aware that one had to have a ticket to get out, and, if so, who did I have to see to get it. I was pushed this way and that and finally broke away. On my way out the same thing happened only this time a little more violent than the last, my coat being nearly torn from my back in an effort to put me out, notwithstanding that that was the object uppermost in my mind at that moment. I explained to the "man" that an argument or fight would not solve the problem and that if he would unhand me I would proceed on my way out. He called a policeman and directed him to "throw this guy in the jug" for making a disturbance. The officer ordered him to leave me alone and escorted me in a very gentlemanly fashion to the rear.

I am aware that the police department is not to blame in any way for this deplorable situation. In fact, I received nothing but courteous and gentlemanly treatment from all officers I encountered, but I am making this formal complaint to you with the hope that it will reach the officials who will, I hope, take the necessary steps to prevent other law abiding citizens from being manhandled and treated as hoodlums by these red shirt WPA workers. DONALD KNOWLES.

LAUGHING CANDIDATES.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 5.—Every picture I have seen lately of the four major candidates, Gov. Landon, Franklin Roosevelt, Col. Knox, and Garner, shows them laughing with great vigor. In almost every view the candidate is pictured with his head thrown back and mouth wide open in what appears to be the delivery of a loud horselaugh.

I don't get it. Is the campaign going to be a laughing contest? Surely the situation cannot be that gay. J. C. RUSSELL.

THE WELL KNOWN PRECEDENT.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—In discussing the New Deal and the extravagances of the present national administration, why not quote from the Declaration of Independence? One of the charges against King George was: "He has erected a multitude of new offices and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance." OTTO F. RING.

NO MORE BALL PLAYING.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Friend of the People.]—Connected with our building in the rear is a yard which we have landscaped in grass and flowers.

One of our tenants, a man around 40 years of age, has gathered about him a gang of boys from the building and from the neighborhood in general, ranging in age all the way from 13 years up to 18 or 20, and they play ball regularly in this yard, screaming and yelling, destroying flowers, breaking windows, etc.

The janitor has protested time and again, but this man only jeers at him and tells him he has a perfect right to play ball and invite any one he wants to play in the yard. J. F. S.

The commanding officer of the 6th police district reports that the offender was interviewed and warned not to invite boys to play ball in the yard and to discontinue playing ball there. The place will be kept under surveillance to see that the ball playing is stopped. [illegible] their cause for complaint.

JAMES P. ALLMAN, Commissioner of Police.

A LYING LIE DETECTOR.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Connected with a trucking concern and after I quit they accused me of taking merchandise. I did not take it and offered to submit to the lie detector. This tester showed I lied in everything, but I am innocent. The company holds $24 of back salary. How will I recover it, as I have no funds to employ an attorney? J. R. Y.

The Illinois statute authorizes recovery of attorney fees on wage claims. Presumably it was the purpose of the legislature that the fees so allowed should be sufficient to enable the claimants to employ counsel. [illegible] inadequate fees or none at all [illegible]. The legal aid bureau of the United Charities, in deserving cases, assists those who are unable to employ an attorney.

HASTEN DEFENSE AGAINST 'RED' AIR RAID ON CHICAGO

Blue Army Expects Foes to Show Up Today.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Second Army Headquarters, Allegan, Mich., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Officers of the blue army defending Chicago hurried their preparations today for anti-aircraft defense in the expectation that red [enemy] bombers and attack planes will reach this area some time tomorrow.

The 61st coast artillery, which is an anti-aircraft unit, is on its way here under its own power from Fort Knox, Ky., where the battalion has been helping the blue army stave off an attack from the direction of Nashville.

Speed Amazes Officers.

Officers expressed amazement this morning at the speed with which this motorized unit moved over the road on its way north yesterday. An average speed of twenty-nine miles an hour, including stopping time, was made until the unit stopped for the night at Niles, Mich. The 61st will go into camp somewhere north of Dunningville.

If the air attack comes as expected tomorrow the sixth corps troops, made up of the 12th brigade [regular army], the 33d division [Illinois National Guard], and the 32d division [Wisconsin and Michigan National Guard], will move east Thursday morning into concealed bivouacs to wait for an attack by the Red mechanized force, known to be on its way here.

Expect Visit by Horner.

Brig. Gen. John H. Hughes, who is a member of the United States army staf, at the war department in Washington, arrived last night and spent today inspecting the preparations for the defense of Chicagoland. He said that he would not take an active part in the maneuvers, but would act merely as an observer.

It has been rumored at Pearle that Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois will come there some time this week to observe part of the maneuvers and possibly to confer with Roy D. Keehn, major general of militia, commanding the 33d division, on the subject of Works Progress administration assistace for the building of national guard armories in Illinois.

Fire Peril Causes Worry.

Troops today went through routine training exercises, with some making short "hardening" marches to prepare them for the "war."

The major worry for the stafs at this time is the fire hazard that has been bad, but will grow worse when the men become scattered through tinder dry woods areas. Warnings have been issued against carelessness with matches or cigarets as a fire, once started, might sweep across a large area.

Corporal Robert Eben, from Jefferson, Wis., and Private Edward Lemanski, from Beaver Dam, Wis., were seriously injured last night when the car on the running board of which they were riding was sidewiped by a hit and run truck driver near Saugatuck. Both men were taken to the army hospital at Camp Custer.

COURT ORDERS DODD TO RETURN CHILDREN HERE

Attorney Walter F. Dodd, an authority on constitutional law, was given ten days by Judge Joseph B. David in the Superior court yesterday in which to return his children to the court's jurisdiction. The children, Walter Jr., 9 years old, and Laura Alice, 6, are with Dodd's relatives in Atlanta, Ga., Their mother, Mrs. Sue Hutchison Dodd, who is seeking to gain their custody, has not seen them since she and her husband separated in May, 1935. She is suing Dodd for separate maintenance.

Dodd was not in court. His attorney, Earl J. Walker, said that Dodd is on a vacation trip.

Yesterday's order was entered at the instance of Mrs. Dodd's attorney, Robert N. Golding. He declared that Dodd had failed to keep a promise, made to Judge Sabath at a hearing on July 11, to return the children to Chicago "within a reasonable time."

SIX OIL DEALERS ARE FINED FOR SHORT MEASURE

Six owners of gasoline stations were fined $35 each by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the License court yesterday on charges of giving short measure to patrons. They are John Thompson, 6310 Woodlawn avenue; the Ace Service Station company, 947 East 79th street; Jack Crane, 5432 North Western avenue; William A. Susanka, 5500 North Western avenue; William Farrell, 105 North Crawford avenue, and Irving Sager, 2901 South Halsted street.

Four defendants convicted of delivering coal without a weighmaster's certificate and the fines assessed against each are: Pasquale Angelillo, 2343 Grenshaw street, $85; Luvern Anderson of Morris, Ill., $40; Andrew Carlson, 7119 Summerdale avenue, $35, and Lowell Thompson of Morris, $30.

2 GUNMEN SLAY WIFE KILLER ON WAY TO COURT

Dallas, Ga., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Harry P. Howe, 49, was shot to death on the public square here today while being transferred under guard from the jail to the courthouse to face charges of murdering his wife, Mrs. Hettie Brown Howe. Worth and Pinson Brown, middle-aged brothers of the dead woman, surrendered after the shooting and were held without charge.

Handcuffed, Howe was surrounded by Sherif J. F. Couch and three deputies for the walk from the jail across the street to the Paulding County courthouse in the middle of the square. According to Couch the brothers stepped from behind shrubbery near the rear entrance to the courthouse and opened fire without warning. Howe wheeled, stumbled a few paces, and fell with six pistol bullets in his body.

A large crowd, gathered near the courthouse steps where United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. was to make a noonday address for reelection, witnessed the shooting. Confusion swept the crowd until the Brown brothers, both farmers with families, walked out and surrendered.

"This thing has been pressing on our minds—we couldn't stand it," one of the brothers said.

Howe was arrested in a flat at 1310 North La Salle street, Chicago, last July 25 following discovery of his wife's body in a woods near Dallas on April 19. It lay beside a truck registered in Howe's name.

At the inquest a son of Howe testified his father told him: "I killed Hettie. Get in touch with my lawyer and you'll hear from me in 15 or 30 days."

Prosecutors, who were to open Howe's trial on the murder charge today, said they believed Howe accused his wife of giving evidence for a raid on a liquor still. In addition to the murder charge he was under indictment at Atlanta, Ga., for jumping a $2,000 bond in a state liquor law violation case.

CHICAGO'S 'HOME RULE' IS A MYTH, HODES DECLARES

Powers Over Trafic Very Scanty, Says Opinion.

Chicago's belief that it has home rule, even of its streets, is for all practical purposes a fantasy, according to a 35 page opinion which Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes is to submit today to the ctiy council.

Mr. Hodes prepared the opinion—a summary of which he made public yesterday—after extensive research because the council wished to control the use of Chicago streets by interstate lines of buses and freight trucks. From his study of state and federal bearing on the matter, Mr. Hodes will assure the aldermen that such regulating can't be done.

Moreover, he asserts, the city is forbidden to impose a tax or a license fee upon the business of transporting passengers or freight in interstate commerce.

Fixed Powers Are Narrow.

Indeed, the only city right which he finds to be impregnable is the authority to impose a vehicle tax or a license fee upon private residents of Chicago for the privilege of using its streets. Even trafic regulations, according to the opinion, must be "not inconsistent with the Illinois act regulating trafic on highways."

The corporation counsel holds that the city may impose a tax or license on the transportation of passengers and freight within the city, but if the Illinois commerce commission has granted a company a certificate of convenience and necessity, such a company may not be thus taxed or licensed except on its purely local transit business.

Rely on New Statute.

Most of Chicago's powers over local transportation are derived from so-called "home rule" legislation enacted by the general assembly last winter and ratified by the city's voters in a referendum in April. This law defines the city's rights to tax, license, or otherwise regulate all public utilities engaged in the local transportation of passengers for hire. Under it, the city proposes to regulate street cars, elevated lines and buses.

Even this authority may be put to a court test, according to Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], who disclosed at the last council meeting that the Chicago Surface Lines were disposed to appeal to the state commerce commission in the event of a city order for feeder bus lines in Foster and Kimball avenues.

4-H PRIZES AWARDED AT ALL DAY PICNIC OF COOK COUNTY FARMERS

Approximately 1,000 farm people of Cook county gathered in Santa Fe park near Tiedtville yesterday for the annual all day picnic of the Cook county farm bureau. Four-H club contests filled the day for the younger generation of farmers, while ball games, races, and contests in husband hitting, milk drinking, and ringing a dinner bell were the diversions of their elders.

Frank Broadstreet, 19 years old, of Elgin [part of which is in Cook county[won two first and two second places in the 4-H stock contests with his four Guernsey calves, Patsy, Marcia Jeanne, Jerry, and Polly. A senior at Elgin High school, he has been in 4-H club work four years.

Bernilda Stuckey, 15 years old, of Frankfort won first place in the grand revue of cotton clothing made by 4-H club girls. She modeled a school dress of yellow and brown plaid cotton broadcloth, which she made at a total cost of $1.32.

A blue ribbon was awarded to Jeannette E. Boncaskey, 14 years old, of Elgin, who entered a pair of pajamas she had made at a cost of only $1.11.

SON'S WIFE WINS A ROUND IN TILT WITH FARRELLS

Harry K. Farrell, 46 years old, was ordered by Judge Leon Edelman in the Domestic Relations court yesterday to pay $5 a week for the support of his estranged wife, Florence, pending settlement of an eviction suit against her brought by Farrell's parents. The judge continued a charge of nonsupport against Farrell until Sept. 21.

Farrell's father, William, is head of the mailing department of the Crane company. His mother, Viola, is chairman of the home and welfare committee of the Chicago Woman's club and a past president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

The elder Farrells sued several weeks ago to evict their daughter-in-law from her living quarters in their home at 1348 Rosedale avenue. Florence Farrell's attorney, S. W. Hollander, charged in court yesterday that the suit was brought because his client quit cooking and doing chauffeur work for her "in-laws" after performing these duties for three years after her husband left her.

POLICEMAN WOUNDED ON RANGE.

Policeman Frank Palonis, 39 years old, 2415 North Sawyer avenue, was wounded in the nose yesterday by bullet splinter which ricocheted from a metal target at the Shakespeare district range. He was treated at St. Anne's hospital.

JAIL 7 SUSPECTS AGED 17 TO 20 AS AUTO THEFT GANG

The police last night were holding seven young men suspected of being members of a south side gang responsible for recent automobile thefts and robberies.

Those held are Robert Begeley, 19 years old, 6705 Parnell avenue; Robert Hannus, 19, of 7018 Justine street; John Bonkema, 17, of 1015 West 69th street; Richard Pierce, 19, of 627 West 73d street; William Vasios, 20, of 8220 Vincennes avenue; George Kres, 18, of 734 West 61st street; and James Vasconellos, 20, of 216 West 70th street.

Police arrested Begeley, Hannus, and Bonkema Sunday in a stolen car after a bullet-punctured chase near 70th street and Emerald avenue. The others were arrested yesterday at their homes on information supplied by the prisoners.

DR. JACOB FRANK, NOTED AS BRAIN SPECIALIST, DIES

Long Illness Fatal at 80; Here Since 1886.

Dr. Jacob Frank, noted surgeon, died last night in his apartment at the Surf hotel, Surf street and Pine Grove avenue, after a lingering illness. He was 80 years old and had been prominent in Chicago medicine since 1886.

DR. JACOB FRANK

Dr. Frank was born in Syracuse, N. Y., and received his medical education at the University of Buffalo. He practiced in Buffal until coming to Chicago.

Rise in Chicago Rapid.

Dr. Frank soon established a reputation as one of the leading surgeons of the city. He contributed numerous articles to medical publications and became known as a specialist in brain surgery.

He was a member of the stafs of the Cook county, Grant, Columbus, and St. Elizabeth hospitals, and served as consultant for most of the other city hospitals until retiring from active practice eight years ago. Dr. Frank was a former surgeon general of the Illinois national guard and served as a lieutenant colonel in the medical corps during the war.

Wife and Daughter Dead.

His wife, the former Sarah Lederer of Syracuse, died several years ago, and his daughter, Myna, wife of Dr. Sylvan Coombs, died last year. He is survived by a grandson, Dr. Robert Coombs.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the Surf hotel. By Dr. Frank's own wishes the body will be cremated and his ashes scattered in Lincoln park where lie the ashes of his wife.

FULLER PARTY KEPT IN ARCTIC BY SNOWSTORM

A snowstorm yesterday balked efforts of his sons to start home with the body of Dr. Leslie Elmer Fuller, professor of Northwestern university and Garrett Biblical institute who was drowned on a canoe trip in Canada north of the arctic circle and 2,500 miles northwest of Chicago.

Dispatches from Edmonton, Alta., said that airplane company officials there had received word of the storm from Aklavik, the Arctic ocean port of the Mackenzie river, near where the tragedy occurred. It was considered possible that Dr. Fuller's sons, John and Charles, and their companions, Arthur Lee Gore, Riverside, Cal., and Robert Clutter, 2215 Maple avenue, Evanston, might decide to come by way of Alaska rather than Edmonton.

Dr. Fuller's widow, Mrs. Mabel Fuller, 811 Colfax street, Evanston, received no direct word from her sons yesterday. A brief telegram Monday announced Dr. Fuller's death and said they would fly home with the body. Mrs. Fuller, who collapsed upon learning of her husband's death, was under care of a physician yesterday.

MRS. ELIZABETH NOLAN, 65 YEARS IN CHICAGO, DIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Moran Nolan, 67 years old, who had lived since she was 2 years old in the house at 2915 Bonfield avenue, died yesterday at the county hospital from injuries received three weeks ago in a fall.

Mrs. Nolan's father, John Moran, a lumber dealer, built the house on coming to Chicago from Wisconsin, where Mrs. Nolan was born. The frame dwelling was one of the first in that southwest section of the city. The neighborhood was threatened in the fire of 1871, but was untouched.

Mrs. Nolan's husband, John, a packing house foreman, died 30 years ago. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Laurette Bambula, 3438 West Monroe street.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday from the chapel at 2963 Archer avenue to St. Bridget's church, Archer avenue and Haynes court. Burial will be in All Saints cemetery.

FR. WILLIAMS DIES; CHAPLAIN AT ST. PATRICK'S

The Rev. James A. Williams, 51 years old, chaplain at St. Patrick's academy for the last five years, died in the Alexian Brothers hospital yesterday after an illness of three years. Father Williams was born in Lead, S. D., and was educated for the priesthood in St. Viator college at Bourbonnais, near Kankakee. He was ordained in the Sioux Falls, S. D., diocese 20 years ago. Before coming to St. Patrick's he was a professor of languages and history in Columbus college, Sioux Falls. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday in St. Patrick's. Burial will be in Bourbonnais.

Mrs. Helena Hartsburg, 83, Kane County Pioneer, Dies

Mrs. Helena Simons Hartsburg, 83 years old, a pioneer resident of Kane county, died yesterday at her home in North Aurora, where she had resided since 1870. Mrs. Hartsburg was born in Utica, N. Y., and was brought to Aurora by her parents in 1855. Her husband, William A. Hartsburg, a manufacturer, died in 1928. She is survived by a son and four daughters. Funeral services will be held at the residence tomorrow at 10 a. m.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Mutual system's announcement a few weeks ago that it would extend its facilities all the way to the west coast this fall has evoked enthusiastic response among its program sponsors. Two sponsors, one on the network now with a one hour program and another soon to return, already have set aside time for coast to coast programs, to start when the expansion move is completed.

Furthermore, a score of clients have signed renewal contracts or extended their current schedules on Mutual. And a flock of new ones are to take the air shortly. The network's billings for sponsored programs during the last month were just about double that of last year—$109,561 as compared to $58,446 last year.

Among the renewals have been the sponsors of Ted Weems, Tom, Dick, and Harry; Pleasant Valley Frolics, The Crusaders, Kid Sister, Magazine of the Air, The Lone Rranger, Sherlock Holmes, National Amateur Hour, the Lutheran Hour, Let's Listen to This [which is to go coast to coast]; Calendar of Melody, Music Box Master, Molly of the Movies, Life of Mary Sothern and the Lamplighter.

Last Sunday the Wonder Show featuring a community sing and old melodramas, was launched on MBS [this one plans to go coast to coast]. Other new Mutual programs will feature Gabriel Heatter, news commentator; Bernarr McFadden and Bachelor's Children [now on W-G-N only].

Another big sponsored show is to emanate from Chicago this fall. It's the Sears Hour Glass, a program of drama and music depicting the influence of women on the lives of great men which the mail order house is to present at 9 Thursdays over CBS starting Sept. 17, in connection with its golden anniversary observance. Bess Flynn and Herbert Futran are to write the show and Bess Johnson is to handle production. Carlton Kelsey, who is coming here from Hollywood, will direct the orchestra.

The Princess Pat dramatic series, formerly aired over NBC, is to be brought back on the Affiliated [Insull] chain of 20 stations beginning next Friday evening. Alice Hill of W-G-N's "Painted Dreams" will play the lead on the first program. That's the third sponsored program landed by this net of small stations.

Wayne Van Dyne, W-G-N tenor, formerly with Father Coughlin, was invited by the radio priest to sing at the Union for Social Justice sessions in Cleveland this week but was forced to decline because of program commitments. . . . Chubby Kane, 9 year old boy singer, impersonator, and announcer of WFIL, Philadelphia, came here to appear on "Welcome Valley" last evening. . . . The new comedian of the Show Boat hour, Horace Nimble, will be none other than Sam Hearn, formerly of the Jack Benny show.

MRS. EMMA KIRK McEWEN, KIN OF SOAPMAKER, DIES

Mrs. Emma Kirk McEwen, 59 years old, a granddaughter of the founder of James S. Kirk & Co., soap manufacturers, died in her home at 808 Hill road, Winnetka, yesterday after a brief illness. She was the widow of John McEwen, retired director of the soap company, who died in 1933.

Mrs. McEwen was born in Chicago and had lived in this area all her life except between 1911 and 1916, when she lived in California. She was the daughter of Martin Kirk. She married Mr. McEwen in Chicago in 1902. Four children survive. They are John of Indianapolis, and William, Mrs. Earl McCarthy, and Mrs. Robert T. McDevitt, all of Winnetka.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Sacred Heart church in Winnetka. Burial will be in All Saints' cemetery.

This Is the Way Movie Dances Are Evolved

Reporter Watches Berkeley and His Aids.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The one creative mind around the studio who can never get his formula down on paper is the dance director. The dialog writer, the scenarist, the special effects man, the art director and the gag man all can think up their stuff and write it down. But the fellow like Leroy Prinz, Hermes Pan, Dave Gould or Bobby Connolly, who has to come through with a new dance number for a cutie chorus in a big musical film, has no way of working out his idea except with actual dancers on an actual dance floor.

The man who originates the dance steps uses a young woman—usually one of his "stand-by girls" who is familiar with his pet time, steps, and routines and who uses the jargon of the professional hoofer.

For hours at a time the girl—perhaps two or three girls and sometimes dancing boys are brought in to partner them—go through routines, break into bits of adagio, sink to the floor in splits and jump up again in nip ups while the dance director watches, frowns, occasionally says "That's good," but more often says "Stop a minute; maybe we can do something with it."

The girls make suggestions, too. So does the property boy, and the pianist. That's how they get the musical dance numbers.

The big sound stage where Busby Berkeley is planning a main number for "Gold Diggers of 1937" echoed lonesomely to such activity. The chorus of seventy-five delectable lookers who will do the dance in the finished scene weren't there. Only Berkeley, Lee Dixon, who is a featured eccentric dancer; two of Berkeley's "line" girls, a piano player, and a tired looking prop man were there. Dixon until recently was an entertainer with Rudy Vallee's band.

Berkeley was talking earnestly to Dixon, placing him here and there on the floor while the blond 22 year old youth seemed somewhat nervous. This is his first movie appearance. Dixon ran up and down some steps which represent the judges' stand on the side of a tennis court. His feet tapped rhythmically as he swept up and down.

"The girls will be out here on the tennis court," Berkeley explained, pointing to a bare stretch of board floor. "Probably playing tennis. Twenty-five girls on a side. I'll figure that out later though. What we want to do now is get you off this stand in a novel manner. You can't just tap down and step off. How'll we make it sensational?"

"How about the girls forming a net with their hands and let him do a swan dive into the group?" asked one of the two line girls, taking off a slipper and patting the sole of her foot with her hand. "Nope, won't do," said Berkeley. "Been done too much before. Got any ideas, Ralph?"

Ralph, the piano player, scratched his head. "Might let him float down on invisible wires," he said.

"That's not so bad," urged Dixon.

"That would be O. K.," said Berkeley. "But I don't want to break the rhythm at any point during the dance. It would have to stop while you floated down."

The other girl, the brown haired one, broke in: "Aren't you using waiters in this scene? It's a lawn party, you know."

"We could put waiters in," said Berkeley. "What's your idea?"

"I thought they could be coming along with trays just at that minute," said the girl. "Mr. Dixon could tap down on the trays just as the waiters walked by."

"Swell," agreed Berkeley. "That's just what I want. They'll have to be big waiters, though. I'd rather not use the wire if they can hold him up as he taps down."

But Berkeley's expression of satisfaction clouded. "All right?" he conceded. "But what will the girls be doing all this time? They're still in the shot, you know."

"Couldn't they all be carrying trays?" asked the prop man. "They could mimic Dixon in the background as he did his routine with the waiters."

"No, we couldn't do that," the dance director insisted. "We already had established them as having tennis racquets in their hands, earlier in the same scene. No, we'll have to figure it out some other way.

A FEW days ago a La Grange housewife had no more than reached the loop when she remembered that she had left some potatoes boiling on the gas stove. She telephoned various neighbors to ask them to get into the house and turn off the gas, but found none at home. Finally she got in touch with the La Grange police department and told the desk sergeant about the potatoes on the fire. A squad car was sent to the house, police broke in, tossed the potatoes into the sink, and turned out the gas. When the housewife returned home she was gratified to find the only damage done was the burnt pan and the unpleasant odor in the house. One of the squad car men, however, was heard muttering after the incident was he a police officer or a Boy Scout.

AN actual incident from the southland is reported by a Lexington, Ky., woman. A minister of one of Lexington's fashionable churches preached a sermon on the evils of alcohol, and ended by saying "I wish I had all the wine, bear, rum, and whisky in the state of Kentucky so that I might throw it in the river! . . . Let us pray." Immediately after the prayer the superintendant announced the next hymn, "Let Us Gather at the River."

Grays Popular as August Fur Sales Prosper

All Tones Represented in Style Exhibits.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

One of the big surprises of the fur fashion showings is the popularity of gray. Gray in every imaginable tone from pale silver, through stunning chinchilla grays to the dramatic tones of dark iron gray. The furriers call one of the best selling gray tones ripple gray. It has a slight brownish cast shading into flattering tones of warm French gray.

Silky caraculs in gray are going so fast that the supplies are renewed almost every week. Since gray is the most neutral of tones you can wear it with any and every color, and it still does a grand job of flattery. With green, with rust, with bright vivid blue, violet, brown, and black it is the perfect foil and excellent foundation fur coat for any wardrobe.

Gray caraculs lead the parade. You can find them in tightly curled pelts of unusual beauty. Gray Persian, distinctively shading into deeper tones, or all of lovely silver grays, comes next in the public favor. Dusky, blackish silver goat skin for sports type swagger coats are hastily grabbed by the younger set to wear with plaid or bright colored wools. And gray squirrel is becoming a better buy each new shopping day.

Short coats, the chubby, short daytime models to wear with slim dark skirts and dresses, longer swaggers that reach anywhere between the hipline and the kneeline, together with all kinds of swanky Russian type gray furs, are made with tight waistlines, full skirts, and sharply creased and plaited shoulderlines.

Fashion photograph . . . Huge white fox cuffs accent the snowy, silky beauty of white caracul in this lovely evening wrap. Backline fullness is accented with a gradual upcurving line overlapping the front. A gently curved collar is as simple in design as the coat itself.

Dr. Harkins to Take Two Honor Students with Him to Cornell

Dr. William D. Harkins, professor of chemistry at the University of Chicago, announced yesterday that he will be accompanied by two honor students from the university when he goes to Cornell university to continue his experiments in surface chemistry. The students, who have worked with Dr. Harkins in this field of research, are Charles J. Tressler Jr., 5805 Dorchester avenue, and Fred Fowkes, 2110 West 107th street.

"I am trying to find out whether molecules stand up or lie down on surfaces," was Dr. Harkins' explanation of his experiments.

While conducting his experiments Dr. Harkins will hold the George F. Baker lectureship at Cornell, delivering two lectures a week during the fall semester on his present specialty. Two scientists from the University of California, Dr. George C. Nutting and Dr. Franklin A. Long also will work with Dr. Harkins.

Large Swift Clan to Have 2 Debutantes

Annie May Henry Will Bow on Sept. 19.

BY JUDITH CASS.

SIX years ago two young members of the large Swift clan, Miss Geraldine Swift, now Mrs. A. Thomas Taylor, and Miss Hortense Henry, now Mrs. Gordon P. Kelley, were debutantes and during the coming season their two younger sisters will be among the buds.

Miss Jane Gertrude Swift, youngest of the Gustavus F. Swifts' three daughters, is to make her debut at a tea in town, and Miss Annie May Henry, younger daughter of the Huntington B. Henrys, will make her formal bow at a tea in Lake Forest on Sept. 19. During the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Henry will give a ball for their daughter, but the date has not been set.

The Swifts have not decided upon the date for Jane's debut nor for an evening party they and the Robert C. Orrs will give at Christmas time for Jane and Adair Orr. It will be a dinner-dance.

When Geraldine Swift and Hortense Henry were buds the Swifts and Henrys gave one of the most brilliant balls of that winter, two nights after Christmas at the Blackstone hotel. Miss Swift had made her debut at a tea at her parents' Astor street home earlier in the season, just as the middle daughter of the family, Marie, did four years ago. The Swifts are spending this summer in the Louis F. Swift house in Lake Forest but they will be back in their handsome house at 1551 Astor street late in the fall.

The Henrys' elder daughter was introduced at a Lake Forest autumn tea given at the home of Mrs. Henry's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Swift, which the Henrys now occupy and where Annie May's tea will be given. Last summer the Henrys entertained before they left Lake Forest to return to their town apartment at 1500 Lake Shore drive, for three buds of the season, Miss Cornelia Ranney, Miss Barbara Hutchins, and Miss Barbara Stanley.

Miss Ranney and Miss Hutchins will be the special guests at many parties before long, undoubtedly, for Miss Ranney is engaged to Wyndham Hasler and although no date for the wedding is set their friends think it will be an autumn or early winter one, and Miss Hutchins is the fiancée of John Jay Borland with Oct. 20 set as the date for their marriage.

SYNOPSIS.

Shortly after the world war Roger Mallard, handsome young Englishman, is embittered by the loss of hearing in one ear from a war injury. Mal has been raised by his godfather, William Grimwood, an actor. Grimmy persuades Mal to attend a New Year's eve party where he meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners. A month later Mal marries Zelda. After two years the marriage ends disastrously. In a rage at his failure to make a living on the stage Zelda flings a mirror at Mal and unknowingly destroys the hearing in his other ear. Fourteen years later, under Grimmy's tutelage, Mal has become a great success in pictures, hiding his affliction from his public. Zelda has refused him a divorce. Pamella Wyeth has a home in Pasadena. David Barkley, son of an old friend, boards with her. At the première of Mal's latest film David meets Ellen Greet, and invites her to a New Year's eve party at the hotel where Mallard lives, and asks Pamella along as chaperon. Mal is mourning the sudden death of Grimmy. He writes a letter of resignation to his producer. David, as a joke on Ellen, has a boy page her with a message that Roger Mallard wants to meet her. Mal, skillful at lip reading, is sitting at the next table. Attracted by Pamella, Mal introduces himself and asks to join their party.

INSTALMENT XV.

DITCHED.

The dinner now progressed on a tone of excitement constantly augmented with the aid of Mal's champagne. He noted that Mr. Barkley was downing glass after glass in the most reckless manner. To hold the center of the stage, was far from Mal's habit, but he insisted on doing it now. Judging from the delighted looks on their faces, even Miss Wyeth's, whose delight was also mixed with a sort of puzzled wonder, he allowed himself to believe that they didn't grudge him his spot light. He led the talk, tossing it skillfully about. He took pains to toss it most frequently in the direction of Miss Pamella Wyeth.

"Accent on the second syllable, please, Mr. Mallard," she corrected him.

"Thank you," Mal murmured.

A crash of music broke into Mal's contemplation of Miss Wyeth. He could feel the vibration of the drums and horns and cymbals on the floor. Even the air pulsated with rhythm. Couples were leaving the tables and moving out into the center of the dance floor.

Mal turned with an eager smile to Miss Wyeth, who smiled back at him. Her smile was charming, though it denied him and nodded him on to Ellen. Before Mr. Barkley could do so, Mal stood and bowed over the girl.

"Would you care to dance?"

Would she care to! As she sank into Mal's arms, she tossed back, laughing: "See here, you boys. There's to be no cutting in on this dance."

There's to be no cutting in on this dance.

Mal found out all about Miss Ellen Greet as he guided her over a floor so crowded with dancers it was a miracle how any of them danced at all. He learned that his little partner had left a home in Hartford, Conn., to come west, seeking a job unaided. How she'd been forced to land in the offices of a Pasadena law firm by means of a stenographic course she'd had at school and a letter to the head of the firm from her father. How she liked her job at earning her own living and at seeing life through a law office. He was told all about her experiences at his première the preceding evening, and her feelings arising therefrom. And he did his best to edit her panegyrics over the part he had played in stimulating her emotions.

"Would you mind telling me," whispered Ellen, nestling with delight in his arms, "telling me—what—what made you notice me in all this crowd of lovely girls and women?"

"Your young chaperon," Mal answered with prompt truth.

"Well, I knew you'd approve of chaperons," Ellen said triumphantly. "That's why I wouldn't come here with David without one."

"You'll never know how grateful that makes me!"

"You're just the kind of man who——"

"Not putting another halo on me, are you, for I'm not eligible to wear it."

"O yes you are!"

"See here, my dear, don't let your idealistic imagination run away with you. Picture stars are more than apt to be—just people with the full quota of failings and—in some cases at least—lacks. You'd be woefully disillusioned, wouldn't you, if I were to tell you that one of the most beautiful of the stars is half-blind, for instance, with eyes so myopic they're almost crossed. Another is well-nigh totally deafened—though rather clever with it. Another makes his audiences howl over his antics though he helps himself to do it with an artificial hand. And one of the great screen lovers lost a leg in the war."

"Three of these—well, if not lame ducks, exactly, certainly lame swans—are here. But I'll not pick them out for you. You'll have to find them yourself," Mal said, laughing at her. "We of the picture world only give away our scandals to the public."

Ellen replied by saying: "O, dear, the music's stopped!"

When it began again, Mr. Barkley sprang up and snatched his defaulting Cinderellen out from under Mr. Mallard's greatly admired nose. This seizure didn't please the lady, but after all, David was a tricky dancer, her surrender seemed to say. While the other two couples were slowly becoming separated from their champagne glasses, Mal held out an eager hand to Pamella.

"And now—at last, Miss Wyeth——"

She got up and laughed in a reminiscent little way.

"I was hoping this might happen!"

"Hoping? What's that to do with certainties?"

The crowd was growing steadily more hilarious though midnight was still over an hour and a half due. Miss Wyeth seemed so small and defenseless, keeping very much to herself—quite unlike other women within his arms, that Mal looked anywhere but into her face. He was trying with all the skill he had to keep her from being crushed among the jam of dancers. Then he felt her eyes searching his. He glanced down quickly.

"You said something? This is the second time," he laughed, "I've caught you mistaking me for a ghost."

Her reply didn't fit the awed conviction shining in her face.

"No—I just wanted to see if you looked as scornful as your silence indicated, over my banal remarks about your kindness in giving us such a thrill tonight—on top of the thrill you gave us at the première."

"I'm sorry! There's such a racket. Rather awful isn't it?"

She nodded, but on the whole gave the impression that she would put up with the racket for his sake. A delightful girl!

"Let's get away," Mal said abruptly. "Let's go out on the terrace where we can have some quiet while we talk."

Miss Wyeth readily agreed to this, and Mal suggested that they first return to the table for her wrap.

They found the table deserted and left very much in disarray. Several champagne glasses were toppled over among crumpled napkins. Chairs were pushed back with a look of haste, one or two of them tipped drunkenly forward. Miss Wyeth began to look worried.

Propped against an empty bottle at her place, was one of the Excelsior's elaborate white and silver menus. A black scrawl of writing smeared itself across the back of the card.

"Too much competition mixed with deceit from an unexpected quarter. As I can't convince my little Cinderellen that our friend isn't any more Mallard than I am, in spite of his goshawful voice and shifty eyes, I'm kidnaping her for the rest of the evening. Surely the Mallard imposter, who pretends to do everything the right way, will offer to see you home.

"P. S.—My advice—if he does—is to turn him down cold. D."

Mal never missed a chance to strengthen his position by being squeamish about reading over shoulders. Yet he asked anxiously: "Anything wrong, Miss Wyeth?"

"Yes. I've been most—unkindly ditched."

At Forty Plus Heed Feet and the Silhouette

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"Perhaps you beauty editors are so sensitive that you hesitate to extend advice directly to women of 40 years plus. O, yes, you give us all the reducing information needed and you, Miss Donnelly, have done a great deal to reshape the great American silhouette and probably have saved countless lives through your preaching the lean silhouette for the long race. But outside of that you slight us.

"For instance, until recently, although I'm in the late forties, I never had the need of good corseting drummed into me. That's one item you could talk on endlessly. I spent enormous sums for clothes, but the corset was an after thought and there was little left over to pay for it.

"Another thing we older ones need and need badly is more information about the care of our feet. I mean the importance of going to chiropodists to get relief from corns, horn-toed nails, and calluses, so that we won't go along dragging our feet as if they were a burden put upon us by a merciless fate. I, myself, have reformed on that feature, which is why it is on my mind. I now go fairly regularly to have my feet treated, and whereas before I used to walk along like an old woman with an expression on my face that would sour cream, I now walk with speed and gusto. Maybe I have no facial beauty, but at least my face is minus its vinegar aspect.

"Personally, I think these two items cover the major concerns of us oldsters who don't want to be consigned to the limbo of forgotten women. After all, if you can create the effect of a good silhouette, which you can't do at our ages without a good foundation garment, and if you can step along on feet that aren't crucifying you with every step, you still can hold your head up in the parade and perhaps dance a bit to the inspiring music of life.

"Anyway, I've said my say and hereby commit our future to your not too tender care, please.

"EMANCIPATED."

And enough said, Emancipated, and thank you. You've put the case up to women as well as any one could.

Don't Sacrifice Man's Interest for Girl Friend

BY DORIS BLAKE.

It's a question whether it is a noble gesture to withdraw from a romance-promising scene just because a girl acquaintance of whom you're fond is in love with the man in the case.

We have seen such a gesture resulting in three persons eventually becoming losers, and nothing being gained whatsoever. Rose, we'll call the girl, was extremely close to Amy. In fact, they maintained an apartment together. Amy marked this particular man who visited the girls as her particular prey. Although Rose had sufficient encouragement to stamp her as the preferred one and, liked the man, too, she took deliberate pains to alienate herself. Presently, the gentleman withdrew himself from the scene entirely. A couple of years later Rose was to learn from his own lips that if she had given him a chance at all she would have been the woman he married instead of the one he took on the rebound.

This case is one of many known to us in which the impulse to do the self-sacrificing thing netted nothing in the long run. Sometimes, it has happened that the Amys have landed their men, and to all intents and purposes have worked out a successful marriage for themselves, a marriage which might just as well have been Rose's lot had the Roses of the world the sense to appropriate for themselves what is just as much their right as the other girls'.

If it were a sister's happiness that appears to be at stake, this self-sacrificing withdrawal becomes understandable. Although it, too, may not be the wise move. But against one girl into whose composition goes none of the consideration the second may have in her makeup, we think competition is the thing, even at the expense of a lost friendship with the girl. After all, the women friendships are only fleeting, at best. They don't round out a life or contribute any of the advantages that a beloved man has to offer. So, why sacrifice a possible mate under the circumstances?

If you need a little steel to harden your spine, just remember that the other girl isn't making any foolish sacrifice for your sake. Nor should she, if she sees what she wants and exerts every wile and lure to get it.

The Brilliant Child Also May Be a Problem

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"I have a little boy 4½ years old," writes a mother, "and I want him to go to school. In our town they will not admit him until he is 5, and then it will be kindergarten. He has been given an intelligence test and it was found that his mental age was 7.

"I am afraid that if he goes to kindergarten he will be bored and get into mischief. Don't you think a bright child can be as much of a problem as a backward one? What would you advise?"

A bright child can become a problem, but not in the same way a backward child does.

A child intellectually brilliant is difficult if not properly handled. He may be made insufferably self-conscious and conceited, and will get into mischief at school if he is placed with those far below him in mental capacity. This makes it possible for him to do the class work so quickly that he has time on his hands.

On the other hand, one can reason with the bright child more easily. Given intelligent handling, he responds quickly to it, and when in a group of his peers he seldom creates classroom disturbances.

If this were my little one I would give him every chance to develop at home until he is at least 6 years old. He doesn't need instruction as much as he needs opportunity to read, to write, to have his questions answered, and to use his hands and creative ability in the crafts, modeling, drawing, and painting. Of course, playing outdoors is as much a part of his life as that of any other child.

Tomorrow we'll continue the subject.

We have a leaflet containing reading references on the gifted child. A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Annie May Henry Will Bow on Sept. 19.

Orr of Wilmette, to Elmer Horace Cook II., son of Mrs. Elmer Horace Cook of Cheyenne, Wyo. The wedding will be an evening one at 8:30 o'clock in St. Mark's church in Evanston. A reception will follow at the Country club of Evanston.

Cherry Sue Orr will be her sister's maid of honor and three of the bridesmaids will be former roommates of the bride's at the Ogontz school, Miss Clare Hagerty of Atlanta, Miss Jane Dyke of Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Vilas of Cleveland.

The other bridesmaids will be Miss Mary June Miller of Wilmette, Miss Josephine Fleming of Lake Forest, Miss Billie Anderson of Winnetka, Miss Pattie Quisenberry, and Mrs. John B. Henry Jr. of Evanston.

George Bowman Kreer of Winnetka will be the best man and ushering will be Bradford Carpenter, Thomas Beers, and John B. Henry Jr. of Evanston, William D. Truesdale Jr. of Winnetka, William Perry, and Robert Stine of Chicago, Albert Clough of Douglas, Wyo., and Francis E. Meyers of Ashland, O.

The round of prenuptial entertaining for Miss Orr started last Saturday with a linen shower at which Miss Miller was hostess and will end with the bridal dinner the night before the wedding at the Tavern club. Miss Anne Tracy has planned a pantry shower for Aug. 19 at the East Walton place apartment of her mother, Mrs. Raymond L. Redheffer; Miss Margaret Huxley will give a paper shower on the 21st at her home in Evanston; Mrs. Henry will give a tea on Aug. 27, and Miss Evelyn Totman will give a party the evening of the 29th for Miss Orr and Miss Andersen, who is to be married to Mr. Kreer on Sept. 17.

On Aug. 31 Mr. Carpenter will entertain the bridal party at his home in Evanston and the next evening Miss Quisenberry will give a party. On Sept. 2 Miss Andersen will be hostess at a shower for Miss Orr and that night the spinster and bachelor dinners will be given. Miss Fleming will entertain the bridal party at the dinner-dance at the Onwentsia on Thursday, Sept. 3.

Hold Corn Roast Tonight for 16 Boys at Camp.

Leonard M. Prince, who is leaving on Friday with his wife to spend two or three weeks in northern Minnesota, has arranged with some of the husbands of the board of managers of the Emily Lehmann Peacock Camp for Crippled Children to give a corn roast and hot dog picnic tonight for the 16 boys at the camp. Among those who will assist Mr. Prince in entertaining the boys are Howard Enig, Richard Gunthorpe, who plays the saxophone, and Ralph Longstaff, who plays the piano. Mr. Prince is a banjoist, so there will be music after supper.

The Princes will motor north with a trailer.

Mrs. Thomas H. Fisher [Ruth Page], who returned not long ago from Cincinnati where she gave several dance concerts, had five little guests for luncheon and a swimming party yesterday at her home on the lake shore in Winnetka. In addition to her two little nieces, Jane and Anne Page, who are visiting her, she had Mrs. Alice Evans' three youngsters. Mrs. Evans and her children were passing through town on their way back to their home in Santa Fe, but the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Page of Port Washington, N. Y., are spending several days with their aunt and Mr. Fisher. So is Mrs. Fisher's mother, the senior Mrs. Lafayette Page of Indianapolis. Jane and Anne will return to their eastern home on Friday.

John E. Hughes went to Saratoga Monday with the sales there as his objective. He will be away a week. Mrs. Hughes spent last week at Eagle river, fishing for muskellunge with John and Mansfield, the two oldest Hughes boys. Marshall Hughes is returning the end of this week from Desbarats, where he has been visiting Malcolm Walker, one of the Samuel J. Walkers' sons.

Mrs. Elliott Donnelley and Children Return.

Mrs. Elliott Donnelley and her children have returned from a visit with Mr. Donnelley's aunt, Miss Naomi Donnelley, in Cape Cod. Mr. Donnelley will go to the Cape for a week or two at the end of the month.

The Albert B. Pattous and their daughter and son, Mardo and Brace, have gone to Fish Creek for two weeks. When they return, Miss Mardo has plans for a little trip or two before she returns to her studies at Dobbs Ferry.

The Alexander E. Kirks are spending a three week vacation in the west.

Miss Dorothy Stirling and her ward, Miss Margaret Fiske, have returned after several months in the east, and will spend the remainder of the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Gregory Jr., in Glencoe. Mrs. Gregory and her two younger daughters, Ann and Dorothy May, are at the Huron Mountain club. Mr. Gregory will join them early in September with Miss Janet Gregory, the oldest daughter, when she returns from a summer in Germany and Austria. Miss Gregory will enter Bryn Mawr.

Charles H. Bosworths Have Family Reunion.

The Charles H. Bosworths are having a family reunion in Evanston. Their daughters, Mrs. Gordon L. Padley and Mrs. Trevor Stamp and Mr. Padley and Dr. Stamp, and the Padleys' little girl and the Stamps' little son are there. The Stamps and the Padleys are here from their homes in England. Dr. and Mrs. Stamp are leaving on Friday or Saturday for a short trip to California, and when they return Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth will give a party for them and for the Padleys. Mr. and Mrs. Padley will sail for England Sept. 9.

The Charles O. Randalls and their children, Georgianne and John Albert Randall, and Miss Frances McDaniel, are vacationing in Western Canada. They will visit Banff and Lake Louise before returning to Evanston.

"Moon Flower" Is Quilt with Quaint, Old-Fashioned Air

Moon Flower.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Not cataloged among the oldest of the quilt patterns, "Moon Flower" is quaintly old-fashioned in spirit when it is appliqued in a combination of materials. It is exceptionally effective when a different print is used for the petals with a solid color, either light or dark, used for the eight pointed star. For a quilt composed of all plain colors, ivory and pale green make a most attractive scheme against a pale blue ground. The applique blocks are set together with plain blocks in an alternate arrangement.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

When it comes to eye shadows we will take ours as softly creamy as possible. We loathe them when they are not of the texture that goes on smoothly; when they're smooth they look better and there's no pulling of the delicate skin of the eyelids.

That's one reason why we like some that recently came on the market. But there are other reasons, too, particularly the matter of pretty, conservative, and flattering shades. There are four in all—blue, violet, green, and brown—and each one has artistic virtues of its own. Shades are subtle, which is just as it should be.

It's fairly easy to go hay-wire with eye shadows. A bit too much, or the wrong, strong color will make the most ladylike woman look too theatrical for good taste. And we are the first to admit that to choose the right shade is somewhat tricky business.

The best way is to experiment until you find the tint that is not obvious on your lids, but that does intensify the color and depth of your eyes. Blue is always a safe bet for the blue eyed, but those with hazel and brown and green eyes should try out various shades until they find the one that does the trick. Violet can be marvelous with some brown eyes, awful with others. Costume colors are in the picture, too.

But you should use eye shadow; it dresses up a face flatteringly when it's right.

These new shadows are very creamy; the maker of them insists that their creaminess is good for the texture of the skin of the eyelids, which is often dry and needs lubrication to forestall crinkles. It comes in a tube which can be conveniently carried in the purse.

Urges Higher Standards for Beauty Schools

Sees Strict Examinations by State Boards.

BY ELEANOR NANGLE.

The beauty operator of the future will be a high school graduate and the one with a college degree will be preferred. This was predicted yesterday by Mme. Florence Le Clair of Milwaukee. She spoke on the legislative needs and trends of beauty culture before the shop owners and operators assembled for the convention of the Beta Beta Lambda society at the Congress hotel.

So far as the special educational requirements of the profession are concerned Mme. Le Clair indicated that the beauty training course generally would be longer, perhaps with six months as a standard, and that courses in shop management, advertising and salesmanship would be part of every school curriculum.

The legislation of the future, she said, will undoubtedly bring about strict examinations by a responsible licensing board, and may include special practical experience and an examination for shop managers. She pleaded for elimination of the practice of apprenticeship, and expressed the belief that future state boards of control would be headed up by professionals of ethics, experience and vision.

She touched on many of the sore spots within the industry. She pleaded that shoestring financing be outlawed as a step toward the elimination of cut rate operating and that beauty schools and shops be operated separately. She especially urged that the problem of reciprocity be settled.

Leaders in the beauty profession, Mme. Le Clair said, should "unite behind the lines" to provide mutually desirable legislation. In the past the failure to iron out differences within the profession before applying for legislation has nullified many efforts for the common good.

In the seminar in the afternoon Dr. John S. Coulter, representing the physio-therapy council of the American Medical association, described the sources and effects of infra-red and ultra-violet radiation. He expressed the personal belief that the beauty operator should not attempt to use ultra violet for therapeutic purposes. He also warned beauty culturists against exploitation by manufacturers of valueless lamps.

Following Dr. Coulter, Dr. Siegfried Maurer read a paper on the relation of diet to skin disorders.

This afternoon Dr. Cleveland J. White, Chicago dermatologist, will conduct a skin clinic and a representative of the American Red Cross will lecture on the value of the knowledge of first aid for the occasional cuts and burns which may be expensive accidents for the shop owner.

Columbia U. Issues Volume on Medical Fees of Century Ago

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—A hundred years ago physicians in eastern cities charged by the mile, like modern taxicab drivers, according to Dr. Henry Burnell Shafer, whose book, "The American Medical Profession: 1783 to 1850," was released today by the Columbia University press.

In Lowell, Mass., for example, the standard charge for treating patients at home was 75 cents for the first mile and 40 cents for each additional mile, with a surcharge of 25 cents a mile for night trips.

Dr. Shafer's research discloses that in those days New York surgeons charged $50 for amputation of a leg, $10 for amputation of a finger or toe. Bleeding charges were: By cupping glass, $5; at the arm, $2, and at the jugular vein, $5.

Albuquerque Girl Will Become Bride of Indian

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Miss Vivian Scheer, socially prominent daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Scheer, Albuquerque, said today she would be married in September to Tom Dodge, Navajo Indian, assistant superintendent of the Navajo Central agency, Tuba City, Ariz. Dodge, son of Chee Dodge, last of the Navajo war chiefs, was divorced several months ago by the former Alison Summerville, New York. Dodge recently resigned as head of the Navajo tribal council.

WOMAN'S SPORTS FROCK.

Here is a delightful spectator sports frock for the woman with a mature figure. The dress is becomingly tailored and designed to minimize breadth in shoulders and hipline. Because it is trimly cut it is suitable for a wide variety of smart cottons and linens, always in prominence at outdoor events. The V neckline, considered indispensable in dresses for the heavier silhouette, is glorified in this frock with a smart rever arrangement which is wonderfully flattering. Below the revers is a pointed vestee of self-fabric. The cool sleeves are short and without cuffs. The skirt is paneled to fit the hips beautifully, and there are two plaits below the knee in the front skirt section which give the desired fulness.

Sheer or sturdy cottons, linen and linen weaves, besides pastel tub silks all are suitable and attractive for this informal model of many uses.

Style No. 3126 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material.

Hurry Letters, Sally Plea to Young Friends

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Most of the girls who want to see "Heidi" seem to have heeded my warning and have their letters written and mailed long before the deadline—but the boys seem to be the slow-pokes this week. Tomorrow's the day I make up my mind about who's coming and who isn't, you know—so you young fellows had better get a move on if you expect to be my guests on Aug. 20.

I'm going to take 50 boys and 50 girls to see "Heidi," the famous story of the little Swiss girl who lived with her grandfather in the Alps, which will be dramatized and presented especially for us by the Jack and Jill players, under the direction of Marie Agnes Foley. It's an immensely interesting story, and I know the children who are lucky enough to win invitations will have a wonderful afternoon.

The players, you know, are children—many of whom have been acting on the stage and the radio. There will be regular footlights and curtains and costumes and sets such as they have in the famous big theaters.

If you'd like an invitation, you still have time to try to be a winner. Simply write and tell me why you'd like to be included in this party—and be sure to tell me your full name, address and age. If you remember those three little things, and have your letter on my desk tomorrow morning, maybe you'll see your name listed with the winners in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

I understand that some of you children who've attended other parties have felt that one was the limit—so I wish to assure you that any boy or girl is eligible to try for an invitation. Being at a previous party does not bar you.

Address your letters to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Vegetables Are Starred in New Jellied Salads

Ring Molds Are Welcome in August Menus.

BY MARY MEADE.

"What shall we have to eat?" is woman's eternal plaint. Not that there is any derth of ideas and recipes. Quite otherwise. But most of us need a starter, a suggestion, a sort of gentle push into menu-making.

Jellied vegetable salad, made in individual or family size ring molds, is a good starter for almost any August menu, simple or elaborate. For a main dish, chicken, tuna fish, salmon, or veal may be added to the vegetable combination. In this case the salad usually is more attractive if the meat and vegetables are in layers.

Beet gelatin ring mold served on lettuce and garnished with cheese balls and mayonnaise is colorful and a bit tangy due to the horseradish used in its preparation.

Beet Gelatin Ring Mold.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup hot water
⅓ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup mild vinegar or lemon juice
1 cup finely chopped cooked beets
1 cup shredded cabbage
⅓ green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons grated horseradish

Sprinkle gelatin on top of cold water and let soak for five minutes. Dissolve in hot water. Add sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar or lemon juice and allow gelatin to thicken slightly. Add other ingredients and turn into ring mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm.

The flavored gelatin may be used in jellied salads as well as the plain type. This jellied tuna fish salad with vegetables is made with the flavored gelatin.

Jellied Tuna Fish with Peas.

1 package lemon gelatin
1 pint warm water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup flaked tuna fish
1 cup cooked or canned peas
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
⅓ cup mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in warm water and add vinegar and salt. Chill until slightly thick and fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into ring molds and chill until firm.

Almost any vegetable or meat and vegetable combination may be made by using a basic gelatin recipe. Using flavored gelatin the basic recipe consists of the first four ingredients given in the jellied tuna fish recipe—1 package of gelatin, 1 pint of water, 2 tablespoons of vinegar [or less] and a teaspoon of salt. Using plain gelatin the basic recipe consists of the first six ingredients in the first recipe in today's column—1 tablespoon gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1 cup hot water, ⅓ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, and ¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice.

A few suggestions for a combination vegetable salad using either of these bases:

CARROT AND CABBAGE SALAD—Add 1 cup shredded cabbage and 1 cup grated raw carrots to the gelatin.

MEXICAN SALAD—Add 2 coarsely chopped tomatoes, ½ green pepper chopped, ½ cup chopped celery, 1 small onion, finely chopped, and 1 tablespoon horseradish to the foundation recipe.

According to CULBERTSON

LISTEN TO THE BIDDING!

Brilliant opening leads depend more on a keen and discriminating sense of hearing than on any other single factor. And that hearing is aimed at the opponents' bidding!

A defender can build up an excellent mental chart of the opponents' distribution merely by listening in on their exchange of information and [here is where the discrimination comes in] sorting out the false from the true; i. e., the cue bids, asking bids, etc., that do not testify to any particular length of suit from the obviously "honest" bids that do.

In the hand shown below not one, but two so-called orthodox opening leads presented themselves to West. Too many players, I fear, would choose one or the other. But West had listened to the bidding and knew what to lead!

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts [final bid]

The two "orthodox, safe" leads at West's command were, of course, the diamond queen and the club king. But West gave neither of them a passing thought. He could see in his mind's eye, as plainly as though he were looking into his partner's hand, that East had a singleton spade, at the most. North had opened with a spade bid and received a raise from South. These two bids accounted for at least seven spades and West himself had five. That left only one for East, and possibly none. In either case a spade lead would be highly desirable. If East had one it must be removed while West still had his first round trump control. If East had no spades it would be even better, since then he would be able to ruff the first lead.

So West opened the four of spades and from that point declarer struggled against a lost cause. He immediately led trump, but West hopped up with his ace and, as per plan, returned another spade. East ruffed and after that there was no way for declarer to avoid the loss of two diamond tricks, for a one trick defeat. Obviously, on either a diamond or a club opening, the contract would have been a laydown.

The corollary to this may appear to many readers to be that the North-South bidding was entirely too informative to the defenders. But such a criticism would be most unfair. The proper contract was reached in the most logical manner consistent with safety and it was just hard luck for North and South that West happened to hold five spades and knew enough to capitalize his good fortune.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: With both sides vulnerable and North the dealer, the bidding went as follows:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	2 spades	3 hearts	3 spades
4 hearts	4 spades	Double

I was West and held:
♠Q 10 6 5, ♥9 7 3, ♦K J 8 6 5, ♣10.
What was my correct bid over the double, redouble, or pass?

Answer: Pass! You have every right to feel that the contract will be made, but you certainly do not want to persuade North to go to five hearts, which a redouble might very well do. If you had good defense against five hearts [which you have not] a redouble would be proper.

Sickly, Pale Rundown, Skinny, Nervous and Tired?

NOW IS THE TIME YOU, NEED TO GET KELPAMALT'S IODINE INTO YOUR BLOOD AND GLANDS!

These Results Guaranteed—or the Trial Costs You Nothing
1. Improves Appetite.
2. Adds at least 5 lbs. of Good Solid Flesh.
3. Strengthens Nerves.
4. Banishes Ordinary Stomach Trouble.
5. Makes you Sleep Sounder.
6. Gives you New Strength, Energy and Endurance.

Prove to Yourself How Seedol Kelpamalt's NATURAL IODINE Can Build Worn Out, Pale, Sickly Folks Into Red Blooded Men and Women!

Seedol Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, gets right down and corrects one of the real underlying causes of weakness, skinniness and nervous rundown conditions — IODINE STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is, you stay weak and nervous, tired out and skinny.

The most important gland—the one which actually controls the body weight and strength-building—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—NATURAL ASSIMILABLE IODINE—not to be confused with chemical iodines which often prove toxic. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested foods into firm flesh, new strength and energy.

To get this vital mineral in convenient, concentrated and assimilable form, take Seedol Kelpamalt now recognized as the world's richest source of this precious substance. It contains 1300 times more iodine than oysters, once considered the best source. 6 tablets alone contain more NATURAL IODINE than 486 lbs. of spinach or 1387 lbs. of lettuce.

Make this test with Seedol Kelpamalt. Take 3 Seedol Kelpamalt tablets with each meal for one week. At the end of this time, if you have not added 5 new pounds of solid "stay-there" flesh—if you haven't developed a husky new appetite that enables you to relish food . . . if you do not sleep better, feel better, and your nerves are not stronger, then bring back the unused portion of Seedol Kelpamalt and get your money back.

TWO JAPANESE OFFICERS NAMED IN SPY CHARGES

Accused of Conspiracy in Farnsworth Case.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Two officers of the imperial Japanese navy, former assistant naval attachés at the Japanese embassy in Washington, were named as co-conspirators in a new indictment returned by the district grand jury today, charging John S. Farnsworth, former lieutenant commander in the American navy, with efforts to sell military secrets to Japan.

YOSIYUKI ITIMIYA.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The Japanese officers, Commander Yosiyuki Itimiya and Lieutenant Commander Okira Yamakis were not indicted, but their names were set forth in the true bill in what was described as a departure from the customary practice of shielding suspected foreign espionage agents.

Prosecuting authorities expressed an opinion, unofficially, that the Japanese officers would be protected from prosecution by diplomatic immunity and that, anyway, Japan would refuse to extradite them. Both have returned to Japan.

Attaché Identifies Officers.

The indictment did not divulge the official status of the Japanese officers, but they were identified by the office of the Japanese naval attaché, Capt. Tamon Yamaguchi, who declared that he did not know Farnsworth.

A previous indictment, returned by the grand jury less than a month ago, charged Farnsworth with turning over to the Japanese government a confidential naval document entitled "The Service of Information and Security."

The second indictment charges that Farnsworth, Itimiya, and Yamaki "knowingly, willfully, unlawfully, corruptly, and feloniously conspired with each other and with divers other persons to the grand jury unknown to unlawfully deliver and attempt to communicate to a foreign government, to wit, Japan, various documents relating to the national defense, with reason to believe that such, or any of them, were to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of Japan."

Code Books Specified.

The indictment specified the following: "Writings, code books, signal books, sketches, photographs and negatives, blue prints, plans, maps, models, notes, implements, and writings." In this specification, however, the indictment merely was following the language of the espionage statutes, and did not charge that all such things were sought to be delivered up to Japan.

Farnsworth, arrested here last month, is being held in the District jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

LA GRANGE VOTES DOWN CITY OWNED WATER SYSTEM

Residents of La Grange voted yesterday, 1,478 to 1,257, against a proposal that the municipality purchase and operate its own water supply system.

La Grange now gets its water from a plant owned by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. The company franchise expired last month, and an offer to sell the system, including mains and pumps, for $350,000 was made to the town. The voters were asked to approve a bond issue for this amount and for $160,000 more with which it was proposed to put in water softening equipment and other improvements.

It was regarded as likely that the village council, in view of the vote against public ownership, would enter into negotiations with the utility company for a renewal of the franchise.

CALL BANNISTER AN EASY TARGET FOR SHAKEDOWN

Ann Harding's "Ex" Angered at Trial.

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Harry Bannister, mustached villain of the movies and the stage, was a sucker for almost anybody who wanted to shake him down, according to testimony today in the trial of Raymond Derringer, cameraman, and Jerome A. Jacobs and Hurry Hechheimer, attorneys.

In addition to the $2,000 Bannister alleges he paid the defendants, he paid out the same amount to "gangsters" who threatened his life. The gangsters, however, Humbert J. Fugazy, ex-banker and now prize fight promoter, testified, took checks.

Fugazy followed Bannister to the stand today in the second session of the trial. Defense attorneys cross-examined Bannister. The name of Chamberlin Brown, Broadway producer, was introduced for the first time.

Jumps to Feet in Anger.

Bannister was asked, "Before 1920 did you live with Chamberlin Brown?"

Bannister answered, "No."

Bannister was then asked the same question concerning E. Romaine Simmons, a Broadway character. Again he answered negatively.

Then John A. Bolles, attorney for Derringer, said, "Did you ever have any personal relations with either?"

Bannister, red with anger, jumped to his feet and turned to Judge Morris Koenig, saying: "I don't see why I have to answer these vile questions."

At the same time Assistant District Attorney Finnegan made an objection to the line of questioning. He was overruled and Bannister answered the question with another "no."

Called "As a Friend."

The high point of Fugazy's testimony was his statement that Bannister had paid $2,000 to "gangsters."

Fugazy said he had been called as a friend of Bannister and of the two accused attorneys to act as a conciliator.

It was during a meeting at the Hotel Warwick, Fugazy said, that Bannister charged Hechheimer with causing him to lose $4,500.

Part of this money is alleged to have been paid to the defendants to suppress affidavits detrimental to Bannister's character, and the remainder, Fugazy said, was paid to the "gangsters."

The state charges the three defendants with extorting $2,000 from Bannister by threats to send his wife, Ann Harding, a number of damaging affidavits concerning Bannister prior to their divorce.

The defense says that the money was paid to detectives hired by Miss Harding to check up on Bannister.

POLICE QUESTION TWO LEADERS OF NEW RACKET MOB

Frank Nitti and Louis [Little New York] Campagna, leaders of the old Capone gang which has been revived to control gambling, prostitution, bootlegging, and other rackets were arrested late yesterday at Madison and La Salle streets by Police Lieut. John Howe.

Lieut. Howe detained them for half an hour in Police Commissioner Allman's office at the city hall and then sent them for questioning to the detective bureau. Lieut. Howe said it was a long time since the pair had been interrogated.

In July Nitti, Campagna, and State Representative James J. Adduci were reported running a new Sicilian camorra to organize Chicago rackets. They were sought then for questioning in the gangland murders of State Representatives John M. Bolton and Albert J. Prignano. Prignano was slain last Dec. 29 and Bolton was shot to death July 9.

Questioned at the detective bureau showup last night, Nitti and Campagna disclaimed any knowledge of the murders. They said they had been in Florida since last fall and returned to Chicago only recently.

BIERMAN TO RUSH ALL-AMERICANS INTO ACTION

COACHES MEET TOMORROW TO OUTLINE PLANS

Hard Work Will Be First Order.

BY BERNIE BIERMAN.
[Coach of college All-American football team]

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 11.—What a grand squad of football players!

Naturally that was my first reaction when informed by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE that the football fans of the nation had named me as the head coach of the College All-Stars for their annual game with the Detroit Lions, professional champions, at Soldiers' field on the night of Sept. 1.

Frankly, I must admit a man's size job lies ahead for me and the able assistants selected by the public. I have studied the list of available players the last few days and while I know practically all the stars by reputation, there are quite a few I haven't seen in action. This means the coaching staf's first task will be to get acquainted, learn something about which side of the line or back field the boys play the best and something about their size, speed, and the like.

Action from Opening Gong.

My plan is to swing into action at once. I plan to leave here tomorrow night and call the entire squad together with the coaching staf Thursday afternoon for a detailed discussion of our plans and practice program.

It has been my experience that college football players usually keep themselves in good physical condition after completing their playing careers, and for that reason it will only be a matter of eliminating the usual soreness that comes with renewal of practice before the daily drills can go ahead at full tilt.

I am as anxious as every one of the players to pull the All-Stars through victoriously in this game. Under the new rules, we must start the eleven players who received the largest number of votes in THE TRIBUNE poll. That will call for some rearrangement of positions, for some of the eleven starters are accustomed to play the same position. However, I feel these changes can be made without much difficulty, because the players are experienced men who will catch on to new assignments in short order.

New Rule Advantageous.

The fact that the coaching staf's starting team already has been picked for it means that we can concentrate on this group at once. There is an advantage in that, because we'll be able to develop a little better team play than if we had to pick the eleven men the staf believed to be the cream of the lot.

As for the game itself, nothing would give me a greater thrill than to have the collegians win. I appreciate the caliber of opposition. The Detroit Lions are a magnificent team. They naturally have an advantage because they have played together through at least one season and should have a pretty fair idea of their assignments.

It's almost impossible for me to announce any of our plans. I have some idea of the routine we should follow, but I am anxious to get the ideas of my coaching associates. After we have conferred, we'll probably have something concrete in the way of methods to be employed before the All-Stars actually take the field.

Clubs Evenly Matched.

I think this All-Star-Pro game is a splendid idea. It furnishes an ideal opener for the fall's football activities. Naturally, this event will stimulate interest in the game throughout the country. In the first two games of this type, the collegians have more than held their own. In fact, they came pretty close to winning both games. That indicates rather conclusively to me that there isn't much difference in the caliber of football played by these two groups.

THE MORNING AFTER

—the night of Sept. 1. How will you feel? Will you still be thrilling to the spectacular play of the nation's greatest football aggregations? Or will you be reading The Tribune and moaning, "Why didn't I go to Soldiers' field last night?"

Save yourself the hangover of a sports fan who missed the biggest event of the year! Tickets for the meeting of the College All-Americans and the Detroit Lions, National Professional league champions, are on sale today.

All seats are reserved. Prices are $1.10, $2.20, and $3.30. Get tickets at The Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street.

READY FOR HARD WORK

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Jay Berwanger, who received the largest number of votes in the nation football poll which named the All-American team to meet the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field Sept. 1, also led the invasion of the college stars who will assemble at Northwestern university tomorrow to greet Head Coach Bernie Bierman and his staf.

Jay arrived yesterday afternoon by plane from Los Angeles, where he had a part in a football picture written by Frank Wallace. Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame and Gomer Jones of Ohio State, teammates with Berwanger in the Hollywood movie, wired yesterday they would leave by plane today and arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning.

Feels Right at Home.

Berwanger hopped off the airliner just before 3 o'clock and by way of making him feel at home a photographer stepped up and snapped his picture.

"That reminds me," Jay said, "of Hollywood. Every time we turned around out there we bumped into a photographer or a pretty girl."

About the time Berwanger arrived home yesterday, Don Elser of Gary, Ind., Notre Dame full back, reported at Tribune Tower. Elser is in excellent condition and ready to fight for a chance to replace Sheldon Beise of Minnesota, who was chosen for full back in the starting college lineup by the fans of the country.

Other Players Assemble.

Danny Fortmann, Colgate guard, a student at the University of Chicago medical school, and Paul Tangora, Northwestern's guard, who has been named in the starting lineup, have been in Chicago for several weeks. Al Lind, Northwetern center, recently returned from summer camp and is at home. All these boys have to do is to check in at the Hinman house, Northwestern, which will be the headquarters for the college boys during their practice session.

James Lawrence, Texas Christian

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Although accustomed to a banquet of base hits when battling the humble St. Louis Browns, the White Sox weren't able to get anything better than a sandwich yesterday in the opener of a three game series. It was nothing more than a three hit morsel served up by Ivy Paul Andrews. Meanwhile the Brownies gave their former pal, Merritt [Sugar] Cain such a thorough going over that the usually peppery Chicagoans folded up, 7 to 2.

The only three fellows able to collect proof that they really faced the roly-poly Andrews during the afternoon were Zeke Bonura, Luke Appling, and Jack Hayes. Hits by the former pair came together in the second to give the Sox a fleeting one run lead. Hayes made his contribution to the final total in the fourth. Thereafter only two of Jim Dyke's hired hands reached base, both on passes.

Cain Yields 13 Hits.

The thirteen hits for which Cain was assessed represent only part of his sufferings. The attack was aggravated by the fact that one of the hits was a homer, one a triple and two of them doubles. The homer was the work of Julius Solters who sent No. 12 into the seats with a mate on base in the fifth, thereby breaking a 2 to 2 tie. The triple came from Old Jim Bottomley, who recently announced his retirement and then forgot to quit. This also occurred with a Brownie on base in the fourth when the Sox were feeling right chipper over a 2 to 1 edge.

Andrews' three hit achievement added one more afternoon of unhappiness to the recent experiences of Rip Radcliff, who a short time back was topping the league hitters. Radcliff's 4 futile appearances against Andrews raised him to 30 times at bat for a total of 5 hits since the decline set in. In four of the last seven games he has failed to hit.

Browns Score Early.

Cain was slightly shy of control in the first inning and the Browns converted the deficiency of their former mate into one run. Lary opened the battle with a walk and a theft of second. Clift also walked. Solters flied to Kreevich and Lary was able to dash to third after the catch, but Clift was doubled trying to reach second. Bell poked a single into center to score Lary, after which Cain threw out West to end the inning.

A couple of hits proved sufficient to build up two runs for the Sox in the second. Bonura led off with a single over short and galloped around to the plate on Appling's three base drive into the right field corner. Appling languished on third while Hayes was popping to Bottomley, but en

NICE GOING, BUT THE DAMAGE IS DONE

Luke Appling, White Sox shortstop, makes the play as West of the Browns is forced out at second in the fifth inning of yesterday's game at Comiskey park. Hayes is standing by. The damage was already done, however, before this bit of action checked the Browns, for Solters had hit a home run with Clift on base earlier in the inning to break a 2 to 2 tie and give the Browns enough runs to win.

RUTECKI LOSES OLYMPIC FIGHT; U. S. PROTESTS

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The American Olympic boxing committee today protested the decision of the judges against Chester Rutecki of Chicago in favor of Mandi, the Hungarian. Rutecki had his opponent down three times and international boxing experts near the ring backed the American protest but without avail.

The judges who decided against Rutecki belong to the new triple alliance of Germany, Italy, and Austria and the man to whom they awarded the decision is a national of their political ally, Hungary.

American boxing experts hold that one of the judges who returned a slip awarding all points to the Hungarian "could not have been as inefficient as he seemed." He returned the slip with all points for the Hungarian though he should have been deprived of at least three points because the referee warned the Hungarian three times.

Davis Considers Withdrawal.

Rutecki appeared on the way to his second victory in the first round when he floored his Hungarian rival for a count of three. Mandi survived the round, however, and he began to pile up points in the second round when he changed his style of fighting.

Roy Davis of Chicago, chairman of the American Olympic boxing committee, at first wanted to withdraw the entire team but then decided this would deprive the other contestants of their chances.

Petrone Takes Applause.

In the first excitement after the fight Petrone assumed he was the winner and took the applause of his vociferous countrymen with Johnny Behr of Chicago, coach of the American team, who was packing Wilson into his blankets and seemed ready to pounce into the ring and protest with his fists. This was unnecessary, however, for the judges announced Wilson's victory.

Ted Kara, Cleveland featherweight, and Andy Scrivani, Chicago lightweight, advanced to the second round.

Kara won from Gabuco of the Philippines on a technical knockout after two minutes of the third round, and Scrivani took a decision from Simpson of England.

American Olympic Divers Sweep Springboard Event

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Paced by Dick Degener of Detroit, America's Olympic divers swept the first three places of the springboard finals today, but the 800 meter relay team was soundly beaten by the Japanese.

The day thus was no more than half way successful for Uncle Sam's forces, although it supplied some capital entertainment for 20,000 fans who packed the sun splashed Olympic pool for almost ten solid hours.

They were given more thrills than ordinarily would be anticipated in any diving event when Marshal Wayne of Miami, Fla., made a brilliant but unsuccessful effort to overtake Degener in his final optional springs. The final tally was 163.7 points for Degener and 159.56 for Wayne, a thin margin of 4.01 points for the Detroiter.

Al Greene Third.

Al Greene of Chicago finished third with 146.29 points, but never endangered the lead his teammates piled up the first day in the compulsory program. The competition consisted of five compulsory and five optional dives spread over two days.

The Americans' elation over their first medal of any sort since the water games opened Saturday proved of short duration, however. In the next event America's relay team encountered the Japanese.

Head Coach Bob Kiphuth inserted Ralph Flanagan of Miami, and Johnny Macionis of Yale into the lineup in place of Charles Hutter of Cambridge, Mass., and Ralph Gilman of Alameda, Cal., but this change was of no avail. Masanori Yusa gained a full length on Flanagan on the first 200 meter leg and the next three Japanese swimmers followed his example with intense enthusiasm. By the time they had finished they had left the runner-up Americans at least 15 meters behind and established a world and Olympic record of eight minutes 51.5 seconds that may take a long time to beat.

Japanese Girl Wins.

After watching the Japanese men perform, Hideko Maehata won the women's 200 meter breast stroke championship, but only after a hard tussle with Martha Genenger, German girl who stayed right at her shoulder for the last 50 meters and was beaten by only a foot.

The day's biggest surprise was supplied by the strong American showing in the preliminaries of the women's 100 meter backstroke. With the 1932 champion, Eleanor Holm Jarrett, looking on from a press box seat, the remaining pair, Alice Bridges of Uxbridge, Mass., and Edith Motridge Segal of Los Angeles, easily won their respective heats and caused their supporters to believe that maybe all was not lost after all.

Swim Standings

STANDINGS of the nations in Olympic swimming, based on a scoring system of 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six places in each event, follow:

Hungary	14	Great Britain	1

WOMEN.

Holland	17½	Denmark	4
Germany	11½	United States	1

UMPIRE BAITING LEADS TO FIGHT AFTER VICTORY

Chase Four St. Louis Players.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 11.—The Cubs battled their way back into first place today in a tumultuous 6 to 4 ten inning conquest of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The champions came from behind with two out in the fifth to even a 2 to 0 disadvantage on a homer by Stan Hack with Ethan Allen on base and they evened a 4 to 2 deficit with two out in the seventh when Bill Herman singled to drive home Johnny Gill and Allen. And in the tenth, with the Cards crying as though their hearts would break, they loosed an attack in which two runs and victory were achieved on a single by Frank Demaree, a walk to Galan, a wild pitch, a single by Bill Jurges and a double by Phil Cavarretta.

The late sobbing was occasioned by the fact that the Cards had expected to win in the ninth. With one out and Terry Moore on third, Lynn King was walked. Then Medwick slammed the ball at Bill Lee, successor to Tex Carleton as the Chicago pitcher. Lee whirled and threw to Jurges at second. Jurges, without emphasizing the tagging of second base to force King, relayed the ball to Cavarretta to double Medwick, while Moore raced home.

Cards Start Debate.

The entire Cardinal pay roll swooped down on the umpires claiming Jurges had not touched second and that Moore therefore had scored the winning run. A long and disorderly demonstration followed in which most of the 22,855 cheered on the lacrimose Cardinals.

The Cards finally resumed work, thinking they might win anyhow, but when the Cubs scored two runs in the tenth and had runners on third and second with one out as a result of Cavarretta's double, the tears began to well again. There was another delay while the umpires cleared balls and bats from the field and ordered Capt. Durocher, Coach Clyde Wares and players Pepper Martin, Jess Haines, and Rip Collins to the clubhouse.

Fan Attacks Umpire.

The excitement did not end with the last putout. When Garibaldi terminated the contest with a fly to Galan, a fan leaped out of a box behind the Cardinal dugout, hurdled the barrier, and ran out to attack Umpire Bill Stewart. Stewart, a Natonal league hocky umpire, who is familiar with the fisticuff technique, asked no succor. He squared away and exchanged blows with the infuriated Card partisan until players and the two fellow umpires halted the proceedings.

The starting pitchers were Carleton and Roy Parmelee, each of whom gained a decision over the other in the series in Chicago last week. Neither was around for a decision today, however. Carleton gave way to Gill in the score tying activities of the seventh and Parmelee bogged down from the heat and surrendered at the start of the eighth. Lee was the victorious pitcher, hanging up his twelfth victory of the season.

Cubs Fumble Chances.

The Cubs fashioned scoring chances in each of the first three innings, but failed to follow up on any of them. The first run of the game then bloomed from an error in the St. Louis third and another marker was added after the side should have been out. Moore was safe on Jurges' low throw, went to third on Frisch's single to right, and scored on King's fly to Galan. Medwick forced Frisch for the second out, then Mize doubled to left, scoring Medwick.

Cavaretta walked to start the fifth,

HALAS HAS TIP FOR LIONS AND ALL-STAR TEAM

Bear Coach Recalls First Two Games.

[This is the first of a series of articles by George Halas, head coach of the Chicago Bears, who have often fought it out with the Detroit Lions, and who met All-Americans in the games of 1934 and 1935, winning by a score of 5 to 0 in the 1935 encounter.]

BY GEORGE HALAS.
[Head Coach, Chicago Bears.]

This is an emphatic and solemn warning, directed to Coach [Potsy] Clark and his Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football league. The warning is simple. It is merely that if the Lions let up for even a minute in the game with the All-Americans on Sept. 1 they are liable to lose a football game.

It only takes 9 or 10 seconds for a great running back like Jay Berwanger to scat 60 or 70 yards to a touchdown.

That warning is not idle chatter, based on observation from a comfortable seat in the grand stand. It is born of experience gained from sliding uneasily up and down the Bear bench during our encounters with the All-Americans in 1934 and 1935.

Plenty of College Try.

Take it from one who knows, the college lads simply won't stay licked. They are keyed to a tremendous pitch. The pageantry surrounding the game itself is a stimulant. If you haven't attended one of these games you have no idea of the thrilling spectacle they present. I've been around football for 20 years, but that spectacle sends shivers up my spine.

The result of the introductory ceremony, together with the weeks of fanfare preceding the game, sends the college boys in there to play the game of their lives. Each collegian tackles, charges and runs as though it was to be his last tackle, charge and run.

Before proceeding, however, I want to deal the facts face up. I believe the Detroit Lions will win the game. I hope they win. They carry the colors of the National Football league with the prestige built up by years of pioneering at stake.

Not only do I believe the Lions will emerge victorious, but I'm willing to extend my neck to the point of calling the shots by which they will win. In later articles in this series I'll describe and diagram plays which Detroit has used effectively against the Bears, which I believe will gain plenty of ground against the All-Americans, and probably score.

Three Touchdown Plays.

But I am going to hold back three touchdown plays of the Lions which I am willing to gamble will take Detroit across the All-Americans' goal line. Before the game I'll describe and diagram these plays, seal them up and deposit them in escrow with a dependable third party—namely: Grantland Rice. I shall take great care to keep these diagrams out of the hands of my friend, Arch Ward, "athletic director" of the All-Americans. The plays would be as safe with Ward as a runt safety man tackling Bronko Nagurski in an open field.

After the game the secret diagrams will be published here and I shall be either the world's greatest football forecaster, or—or else. Until after the game the plays will be carefully guarded, but here is one tip: If, during the game, you see 21 players all running east and you see one man, a half back named Glenn Presnell, formerly of Nebraska, running northwest headed for a touchdown with the football you'll know this fellow Halas can hold up his head among men.

Fourteen Points No Lead.

And here is a warning word for the All-American coaches. It has been our experience that a seven point lead, or even a 14 point margin over the Lions is not safe, even going into the final ten minutes. Detroit has plenty of what is known as the old college try and real team spirit. It is a great scoring machine. Evidence of that is its record of having scored in all but three games during the last five years.

Some time during the ensuing articles space will be taken to show some of the momentous decisions that will have to be made in one second by the right end of the All-Americans, Keith Topping, for example, who will start in that position. That will be the instant when it will seem to Keith that the entire Detroit team, including the alternates on the bench, are bearing down on him, with Ernie Caddel somewhere back of the screen with the ball.

25 CARS RACE IN EIGHT RIVERVIEW EVENTS TONIGHT

Twenty-five cars are entered in the eight-event racing card scheduled for tonight at Riverview Speedway, Addison street near Western avenue. Duke Nalon and Everett Rice, Chicago favorites, are back from an eastern invasion and will drive in the 30 lap feature.

JAY BERWANGER FIRST ALL-STAR READY FOR DRILL

half back, and Taldon Manton, a team mate at full back, arrived yesterday afternoon. They were the first of the players from the deep south. Bobby Wilson, star half back from Southern Methodist, will arrive by plane tonight. Darrell Lester, T. C. U. center, came in last night at the Dearborn street station.

Frank Loebs, Purdue end, is scheduled to arrive this evening from Cleveland. The Minnesota delegation, with the exception of Dick Smith, who lives in Rockford, and Vern Oech and George Roscoe, who are motoring to Chicago, will arrive at the Davis street station in Evanston tomorrow morning at 8:15. These boys, Babe Le Voir, Sheldon Beise, Dale Rennebohm, and Glenn Seidel, will be joined within a few minutes by their coach, Bernie Bierman, at Hinman house.

Easterners Due Tomorrow.

Tuffy Leemans, George Washington university half back, Washington, D. C., may bump into Bierman at Union station, for his train from the east is due about the same time as Bierman's train from Minneapolis. The eastern contingent from New York, which includes Joe Maniaci and Amerino Sarno of Fordham; Wayne Millner, Notre Dame; Phil Flanagan, Holy Cross; Lou Little of Columbia, a member of the All-Star coaching staf, and Stanley Woodward of the New York Herald-Tribune also will arrive tomorrow morning.

Riley Smith of Alabama, chosen in the nation-wide poll to pilot the starting all-star eleven, will arrive this afternoon from Columbus, Miss. Tonight Joe Stydahar of West Virginia, giant tackle, will check in from Shinnston, Va.

An hour later a quartet of western stars accompanied by Bill Leiser of the San Francisco Chronicle, will reach Chicago's loop and head for Evanston. These boys tonight are en route from the Pacific coast and include Larry Lutz, California tackle; Charles Cheshire, California [Los Angeles] half back, and Wagner Jorgensen and Eddie Erdelatz of St. Mary's Galloping Gaels.

Issue Uniforms Tomorrow.

The St. Mary's players only caught the train Monday night, after going to the wrong station, because a kindly conductor delayed the start for six minutes.

"Holding the train while we caught up was fine," Jorgensen wired yesterday. "Now if we can hold the pros while our backs make a few touchdowns, the trip will be a success."

The entire All-Star squad is expected to report for its first meeting tomorrow afternoon at which time practice uniforms will be issued. Bo McMillin of Indiana, and Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, members of the coaching staf are expected today or early tomorrow morning. Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, the other member of the college staf, is busy at the home base preparing for tomorrow's opening session.

Lasater Wins Tam O' Shanter at Westmoreland with 151

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Dr. R. L. Lasater of Westmoreland, with 75—76—151, and Don Heppes, former Northwestern university star from Oak Park, with 71—77—148, yesterday led the field of 181 home in the Tam o' Shanter annual invitational tournament of the Westmoreland Country club.

Under a new ruling which restricts the Tam o' Shanter championship to members, Dr. Lasater became the title holder and first prize winner among the members. Heppes, who had won last year's event, when the title was open to the field, took low gross among the visitors. Gunnar Nelson, Rockford professional, shot a 75—73—148 to duplicate Heppes' card. Steve Williams Jr., of Evanston, who had led the field at 18 holes with a 70, one under par, slipped to an 80 in the afternoon, hitting three balls out of bounds.

The field was the largest in the 21 year history of the tournament.

FAVORITES WIN IN WOMEN'S PARK GOLF TOURNEY

Favorites won in all of the first round matches yesterday in the women's Illinois state public parks golf tournament at the Waveland course in Lincoln park. But today, in the second round, it may be different.

Louise Johnson of Mohawk, the defending title holder, had a one sided victory of 8 and 6 over Mrs. Frank Meyers of Lincoln park and today plays Mrs. Loren Darr of Lincoln. Mrs. Darr yesterday defeated Mrs. Rose Adler of Bunker Hill, 3 and 2.

Another favorite, Eloise Briese, 18 year old former Wisconsin champion, had a 6 and 4 margin over Mrs. Harry Sherman of Twin Orchards. Virginia Jensen of Mohawk won, 7 and 6, from Evelyn Moore, Lincoln park, and today Jensen and Briese meet in the second round in the feature match.

Other winners in the first round were Josephine Souchek, champion in 1934, who defeated Mrs. Trinette McCormick, unattached, 3 and 1; Mrs. C. M. Epstein, Mid-City, 5 and 4, over Mrs. Mildred Simmons, Jackson park; Miss Bessie Miller, 6 and 4, over Florence Strunk, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. Beatrice Sturm, Glenbard, 6 and 5, over Mrs. Roy Garland, Lincoln.

Other pairings for today are:

Mrs. Sturm and Miss Miller, Mrs. Epstein and Miss Souchek, and Miss Johnson and Mrs. Darr.

Only 2 Qualify for Title in Printers' Golf

The Union Printers' International golf tournament enters the third round today at Olympia Fields with only two men playing for the title, because of limitations adopted by the committee. It was ruled that any player able to shoot from 140 to 170 for the first thirty-six holes should qualify for the final two rounds.

Edgar Merkle of Washington, and H. F. Augustin of Chicago, were the only two able to crack 170. Merkle had 83—83—166 over courses 1 and 2, and Augustin, who carded 86 Monday on No. 1, had 82 yesterday over No. 2 for an aggregate of 168.

W. D. Jacobs of the Chicago Tribune, with 89—82—171, was shunted into the first flight, along with several others of championship caliber. They were William Begg, Detroit, 84—88—172; William Childress, St. Louis, 88—85—173; Ed Gabelman, Cincinnati, defending champion, 85—89—174; William Williams, Indianapolis; Harry Smart and Robert McKay, Chicago, and Lloyd Hall of Cleveland, deadlocked at 175.

Reports on Conditions in Canada Disagree.

BY BOB BECKER.

The National Association of Audubon societies state that there ought to be drouth relief for wild ducks by giving the birds a reprieve from all hunting this year. The More Game Birds foundation says that the Aububon group doesn't know what it is talking about.

Lack of rain in the prairie provinces of Canada has seriously affected this year's wild duck crop, according to a recent report from the chief federal migratory bird officer of the prairie provinces in Canada. On the other hand, the Biological Survey of the United States believes that the losses of wild ducks in our northwest are more than offset by the increase in the number of ducks in Canada.

Hunters Are Puzzled.

That's the way the reports on the duck situation seem to contradict each other. We have been reading them for weeks, the latest comprehensive report being one from Canada. Meanwhile, American waterfowl hunters are wondering what it's all about and what the season on waterfowl is going to be.

During the last few days our telephone has been ringing because of the rumor that the season would be closed this year with nary a shooter being permitted to hunt ducks and geese. Our personal reaction to that is to give little credence to the rumor. In fact, we'd be willing to wager that the season will not be closed. The government has not yet issued regulations for the 1936-'37 season but the regulation should be out most any day now.

More or Fewer Ducks?

Here is what the Biological Survey said about the duck situation in a recent public report:

"Field parties of the Biological Survey, in close touch with the waterfowl situation, report that large broods have been hatched out in the northern breeding grounds of Canada. Last spring the migrations to Canada were somewhat larger than in 1935—due largely to the severe restrictions on waterfowl hunting in the United States last fall."

Thus the bulletins on the ducks up north do not fit together. However, we have a hunch that American hunters will get not more than 30 days of shooting this fall.

Tom pointing to our Family's Whiskey being sent over some place

We can't hardly go any place these days but what we see our Family's Whiskey being sold to somebody. This here picture shows the three of us last week-end when we was up visiting some of our relations. It's Tom in front and then me and my brother William. Tom's hollering at Barney Wright "Hey, what you got there?" Barney claims he's got more Wilken Family Whiskey customers than any others, and Barney's got a good trade with a mighty fine class of people. Harry E. Wilken

Our own Family's Whiskey—
the same whiskey as us distillers!

If it's the same over your way as it is up around where we live—it don't seem to count much how well-to-do a person happens to be—you find him going for our Family's Whiskey just as much as folks that have got their eye on the neighborly price our Family's Whiskey is sold at.

So it can't be how little money everybody is charged for our Family's Whiskey that's making folks so excited over it. You just like what we distillers like in our whiskey. You like tastiness and something just as smooth as can be—so it just sort of oozes down your throat.

Well, you're getting just the same as us! The Wilken Family Whiskey has got everything that Dad and us and Grandad ever found out concerning making whiskey extra tasty and smooth. And knowing how you can't go to fiddling with a recipe and expect it to turn out good, you can count on this here Family's Recipe of ours always being just one way—the way you like it! Harry E. BEES, 5; PHILLIES, 4.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Wally Berger's 20th home run of the season gave the Boston Bees a 5 to 4 ten inning triumph over the Phillies in the second game of their series today. The hit broke a 4 to 4 tie that had existed from the eighth inning and gave the Phillies their ninth straight defeat.

Umpire Magerkurth banished Baxter Jordan and Rupert Thompson in the ninth inning after an argument over a third strike called on Jordan.

SHERIDAN SHORE YACHTSMEN LEAD JUNIOR REGATTA

The Sheridan Shore Yacht club's team of three youths took the lead yesterday in the series which will decide the Lake Michigan junior yachting championship, being sailed in Star class sloops off Belmont harbor. Dick Otter is skipper of the Wilmette crew.

Philip Upton, skipper of the St. Joseph River [Mich.] team, finished first over a ten mile course yesterday morning. Upton had finished third in the first races, Monday, so he sent one of his crew to St. Joseph for his own sails. These were received yesterday morning and were used in the race.

Due to their victory in the afternoon race, the Sheridan Shore team scored a total of 27½ points. The St. Joseph team was runner up with 26¾ points, and the Northport Point crew third with 25¼ points.

The final race will be held today to decide the regatta's winning team. Tonight Rear Commodore Joseph A. Moller of the Lake Michigan Yachting association, in charge of junior racing, will preside at a banquet for the twenty-one boys here from four states in the series. He will present the new C. N. Moller memorial trophy to the champion junior team.

TALK FAST, BUZZ, TALK FAST

Coach Clyde (Buzz) Wares (facing corner) speaks his piece as the Cardinals break out in a rash of temperament during the Cubs' triumphant tenth inning rally at St. Louis yesterday by throwing bats and ball bags out of the dugout. Umpire Bill Stewart, who had chased Shortstop Leo Durocher, listened a while then chased Wares. Substitute Charley Gilbert (No. 4), who relieved Durocher, is helping Wares.

but Carleton hit into a double play, Mize to Durocher to Mize, after which Allen singled to center for his second and the Cubs' third hit. Hack then tied the score with a homer over the right field pavilion.

Error Causes Trouble.

At the start of the home fifth Hack grabbed Moore's roller off the foul line and threw to the Chicago bullpen, Moore reaching third. Moore was credited with a single and Hack charged with an error. Frisch singled to right, scoring Moore, and moved up on King's sacrifice. Medwick singled to deep short, Frisch reaching third, and when Mize singled to right, Frisch scored and Medwick stopped at second. Ogrodowski popped to Jurges. The runners advanced on a wild pitch. Durocher walked, filling the bases, but Garbaldi flied to Demaree.

With two out in the sixth, Frisch reached base for the fourth straight time when his grounder hit Cavarretta in the forehead and knocked him down but he was out trying to steal.

Cavarretta was thrown out by Durocher at the start of the seventh. Gill, batting for Carleton, walked. Allen drove his third straight hit to center. After Hack flied to Moore the runners advanced on a wild pitch. Herman ran the count to three balls and two strikes before sending a single to right to score Gill and Allen with the tying runs.

Activity from then on until the tenth was limited to fumbled opportunity and displays of temperament by the Cardinals.

Noble Kizer Plays Iron Shot and Goes to Hospital

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Noble Kizer, Purdue university athletic director and football coach, was recovering in a local hospital today from an arm injury suffered while playing golf yesterday. Physicians said Kizer must remain in the hospital until Thursday for observation. Kizer injured the arm in some unexplained manner while making an iron shot.

CARLETON AND DEAN FINED $25 FOR FIST FIGHT

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Tex Carleton of the Chicago Cubs and Dizzy Dean, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, today were fined $25 each by Ford Frick, National league president, for their fight during yesterday's game at St. Louis. Dean, who went off the mound to meet Carleton as he came out of the dugout in the first inning, was allowed to continue the game after the fight at the request of Manager Grimm of the Cubs.

Browns Tie Score.

The Browns tied it in the fourth and only a stroke of luck for Cain kept the damage from being more extensive. West singled and scored on Bottomley's triple. Hemsley scratched a single to Bonura and Bejma walked to fill the bags with none out. Andrews tapped a grounder to Cain and a double play was perpetrated by way of the plate. The third out was recorded on Lary's roller to Hayes.

Solters attended to the untying of the knot in the fifth. Clift opened with a single to left. Solters immediately blew the entire inning to bits. He blasted the ball into the right field seats for his 12th homer of the season and a 4 to 2 lead for the Browns.

Two hits and a pass caused Cain more suffering in the sixth. Hemsley led off with a walk and Bejma bounced a single off Cain's glove. The two runners moved up on Andrews' bunt. The infield came in for a possible play at the plate but Lary didn't hit that kind of ball. He poked a two bagger over Bonura's head, Hemsley and Bejma scoring. This put the Browns in front by 6 to 2.

Browns Increase Lead.

The only hit to pop off the Sox bats between the second and the finish was a single to left by Hayes. This followed a fumble by Bejma on Appling's roller with two gone in the fourth. Dykes rolled to Lary for the third out. The only other scoring possibility arose in the sixth. Kreevich walked with one out, and after two were out Appling walked. Appling was the last Chicagoan to reach base.

The Browns hung up their seventh and last run in the ninth inning. Bell singled to left and moved around to the plate on West's third hit of the day, a double to the score board in right center.

Vernon Kennedy, who won the only game for the White Sox in the recent series at Cleveland, will attempt to use the Browns as a short cut to his season's No. 16 victory this afternoon. Jack Knott probably will be started by Manager Rogers Hornsby.

Both Ted Lyons and Luke Sewell were absent yesterday. Ted was confined with a sore throat and Sewell with a kidney complaint. Zeke Bonura is two patients in one. In addition to a bruised heel he has a sty on his left eye.

Tickets for the Saturday and Sunday double-header with the world champion Detroit Tigers can be purchased in advance at The Hub, the ball park, or by mail order.

BOWLING LEAGUE MEETS.

Chicago Nine Wins Again in Printers' Meet

Tourney Facts

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis vs. Boston at Wrigley field, 1 p. m.

New York vs. Cincinnati at Wrigley field, 3 p. m.

St. Paul-Minneapolis vs. Baltimore at Lyman field, 2 p. m.

Washington vs. Pittsburgh at Grant park, 2 p. m.

Chicago scored six runs in the eighth inning to defeat Washington, defending champion, 12 to 11, in the 26th annual International Union Printers Baseball league tournament at Grant Park yesterday.

Chicago, Cincinnati, and New York now lead with two victories each. The Cincinnati nine trounced St. Louis, 23 to 6, at Grant park, and New York scored an 8 to 1 victory over Pittsburgh at Lyman field yesterday.

In other games Boston routed Detroit, 18 to 3, and Baltimore defeated Indianapolis, 11 to 4. The defeats of Detroit and Indianapolis eliminate them from the tournament.

CLINGENDAAL IS VICTOR BY NECK; YELLOW TULIP 2D

Compton Beats 4 Prairie Stake Candidates.

BY FRENCH LANE.

A long striding son of Pharmond II. and Bossie—Clingendaal is his name—galloped into the front ranks of contenders for the Prairie State stakes at Washington Park yesterday when he came up with a mighty drive in the stretch to win the Woodlawn purse.

The race engaged four of the outstanding candidates for Saturday's $5,000 2 year old stake. Yellow Tulip from the Bomar stable was made an outstanding favorite at even money while Clingendaal, which races for A. C. Compton of San Francisco, was one of the extreme outsiders.

Odessa Girl was another stoutly backed entry and there was some backing for Chigre, a stake winner at the recent Latonia meeting.

Pace Setters Tire.

Yellow Tulip was outrun from the beginning by Odessa Girl, Uneasy, and Clingendaal. Wheeling into the stretch, Odessa Girl enjoyed a lead of a length. Then she began to falter. So did Uneasy.

As their strides shortened, Clingendaal began to step along in his best stride. He moved up on the outside and the field was not far along in the stretch when he stepped by both of them. Once in front he widened his lead into a margin of two lengths.

Then Yellow Tulip finally started to run. He was in last place when he opened his drive. He moved past all those in front of him with the exception of Clingendaal. Jocky Callahan was easing that big fellow up. He timed his finish to perfection and was able to beat the fast finishing Yellow Tulip by a neck. The latter was a neck in front of Odessa Girl.

Time Is Fast.

The race was at six furlongs, which is to be the distance of the Prairie State stakes. The first quarter was run in :23 1-5 and the half in :47 2-5. Clingdendaal rounded out the three quarters of a mile in 1:12 2-5. The track was still a bit rough from the week-end rains, making the time excellent. Clingendaal carried 115 pounds. It was the second victory he has scored at Washington Park. He appears to like this track exceptionally well.

The most excitement during an afternoon of upsets came in the mile and a furlong sixth, which engaged a dozen route running platers. First past the finish line was Mrs. C. A. Muldoon's Night Flower, which had made the pace from start to finish. Still they didn't pay off on her.

Night Flower was disqualified and her rider, C. Parke, was suspended for ten days for fouling Carnelian about fifty strides from the finish. Night Flower came over so sharply that Carnelian was almost knocked through the infield fence.

Move Up Sorcery.

The foul caused Jocky Cowley on Carnelian to pull his mount up almost to a walk, still the filly finished third. Sorcery, which probably was second best to Carnelian in the race, was clear of the interference and finished second. The disqualification moved him into first place, which caused great cheering. He had been stoutly backed. Carnelian, at 40 to 1, was moved into second place, and third money went to Blue Hour.

It was the roughest bit of riding of the Washington Park season and took place directly in front of the grandstand.

U. S. Olympics Divers Win on Springboard

serious reverses today that a strong counterattack will be necessary to keep the United States from losing the rowing title captured in the last two Olympics.

Germany's robust oarsmen dominated the Olympic regatta's opening day during qualifying competition in three events in which the Americans brought up the rear every time.

Harvard's four with coxswain was beaten off the starting mark so badly they never recovered and wound up tied with Poland for fourth place in the heat won by Germany's title defending crew in the fastest time of three heats, 6 minutes 41.1 seconds.

The Philadelphians, George Lewis Dahm Jr. and Harry Sharkey, suffered a similar setback in the pair oared without coxswain when they were whipped by Hungary, Denmark, and Jugo-Slavia in that order in a heat timed in 7:19, while Philadelphia's single sculler, Dan Barrow Jr., finished fifth and last in an all-star heat won by Germany's Gustav Shaefer, European champion, in 7:17.1.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 lined the banks of the Langer See to witness the start of the Olympic naval battle. The crowd is likely to be doubled for tomorrow's program bringing competitors for four other titles into action, climaxed by three heats for eight oared crews.

The University of Washington's boat crew worked out following this afternoon's program and was pronounced fully fit by Coach Al Ulbrickson. The Huskies are bracketed with England, France, Japan, and Czechoslovakia in the first heat.

Mary Lou Petty, Swimmer, Ill of Ptomaine Poisoning

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(AP)—An illness diagnosed as ptomaine poisoning today put Mary Lou Petty of Seattle, 400 meter free style swimmer, on the sick list. Miss Petty was taken ill this morning. Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, vice president of the American Olympic committee, said her condition was not serious and that Miss Petty hopes to be able to compete when her event is held Thursday.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 2-5, :59 4-5, 1:06 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Charwitch, $93.20 straight, $33.00 place, $17.00 show; Maxine B., $9.40 place, $5.40 show; Countess Mario, $5.00 show. Winner trained by C. C. Miller. Went to post at 2:54½. At post half minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

CHARWITCH, away fast and having speed from the start, was under light restraint for almost three-eighths, increased her margin quickly on the stretch turn and held MAXINE B. safe in the drive. Latter, forced to lose much ground when improving her position in the opening quarter and raced a trifle wide thereafter, could not get to the winner but held on gamely. COUNTESS MARIO, away fast and on the inside throughout, went evenly.

THIRD RACE—One mile. Claiming. Purse, $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 2-5, 1:12, 1:38 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Brilliant Light, $8.80 straight, $4.80 place, $3.40 show; Holdum Brown, $5.40 place, $4.60 show; Erla, $15.00 show. Winner trained by B. S. Michell. Went to post at 3:21. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

BRILLIANT LIGHT, taken back repeatedly for three-quarters and forced wide for room in the stretch where he responded to mild pressure, was up in the final fifty yards and drew clear fast. HOLDUM BROWN, raced wide throughout and in hand for five-eighths, went gamely in the drive. ERLA, rushed to front on the inside displayed good speed for seven-eighths, then weakened.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Claiming. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 1-5, :46 4-5, 1:11 2-5. [Track fast]. Two dollar mutuels paid: Smuggled In, $19.40 straight, $7.80 place, $4.00 show; Below Zero, $5.20 place, $3.20 show; My Surprise, $3.00 show. Winner trained by B. A. Jones. Went to post at 3:48½. At post half minute. Start good, for all but Liquidation, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

SMUGGLED IN, under light weight and racing in his best form, took command easily and rated under snug restraint for a half mile, readily increased his advantage when urged and won with something left. BELOW ZERO, forced to lose ground and under strong reserve for about three-eighths, could not get to the winner but held on with good courage. MY SURPRISE, also raced wide and reserved off the pace, failed to rally when mildly shaken up in the final quarter, but held on well.

CLINGENDAAL, well up from the start, and taken to outside on the turn, quickly headed ODDESA GIRL after straightening out in the stretch, then held on gamely to wihstand YELLOW TULIP'S rush. Latter, away fast, lacked sufficient speed to keep up, but saved ground on the turn, came between horses when closing with fine speed and was getting to the winner. ODDESA GIRL displayed speed from the start, saved ground the final three-eighths and held on with good courage.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time: :24 2-5, :48 4-5, 1:14, 1:40, 1:54. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sorcery, $14.20 straight, $8.80 place, $5.40 show; Carnelian, $28.20 place, $17.60 show; Blue Hour, $5.60 show. Winner trained by C. L. Helm. Went to post at 4:42. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won driving, place same.

NIGHT FLOWER, under light weight and rated under steady restraint for seven-eighths, came out slightly after reaching the stretch and bearing over when holding on well in the final eighth, blocked CARNELIAN for which she was disqualified. SORCERY, on the outside throughout and a strong factor from the start, was forced wide by NIGHT FLOWER entering the stretch and held on gamely in the drive. CARNELIAN, on inside throughout and also close up from the start, failed to get through on inside of NIGHT FLOWER on the stretch turn and when coming again in final eighth was again sharply blocked by NIGHT FLOWER. BLUE HOUR went evenly.

KAPENA, placed forwardly early, then steadied under mild reserve, came around the leaders in the stretch, took command and drew out to win with something left. TOMFOOLERY began slowly, moved up stoutly after half a mile, closed resolutely, but was overmatched. CELIBA, taken in hand for half a mile, raced to the front when urged, continued well to the final eighth then weakened.

Winner trained by M. Thompson. Went to post at 5:39½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won easily, place driving.

BLACK SCOUT, prominent from the start, took command in the stretch, then drew out slowly to win handily. ESKIMO, never far back, gave way approaching the stretch but rallied to strong riding and closed resolutely. BISTRITA rushed to the lead early, continued well to the final eighth, where she weakened.

J.K.Tener, Former Head of National League, Marries

Portland, Me., Aug. 11.—(AP)—John K. Tener, 73, governor of Pennsylvania from 1911 to 1915 and a former president of the National Baseball league, was married today to Miss Leone Evans of New York. Tener was a widower, his first wife having been Harriet J. Day of Haverhill, Mass., whom he married in 1889.

LOUIS POUNDS SPARMATES AS SPIRIT RETURNS

Brown Bomber Turns In Best Drill for Sharkey.

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—An aroused Joe Louis was turned loose on two sparmates today. The lazy, indifferent Bomber, whose poor form in training for next Tuesday night's match with Jack Sharkey had alarmed his followers, suddenly disappeared, and in his place was an alert, spirited slugger that recalled the Louis that trained here for Carnera, Baer, and Uzcudun.

Moving around with the speed of a lightweight, Louis treated Willie McGee and Young George Godfrey harshly during the four rounds he worked with them. Punching fast and accurately, he had McGee's nose and mouth bleeding at the conclusion of their bout. Louis eased down a bit with the smaller and awkward Godfrey, but occasionally lashed out with a stinging left that jolted the Baltimore boxer and forced him to cover up.

Louis' Best Exhibition.

It was the most impressive exhibition Louis has given here since he started training last week for Sharkey.

"Joe's just beginning to find himself," explained Trainer Jack Blackburn. "He's getting back some of the spirit and viciousness he had last year, but which was missing at Lakewood."

SHARKEY NEAR TOP SHAPE.

Orangeburg, N. Y., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—At the end of a 44 minute exercise gallop topped by four rounds of boxing with three partners, boxing observers who watched Jack Sharkey train today were agreed that the Bostonian is near his best condition for his ten round bout with Joe Louis at Yankee stadium a week from tonight.

Sharkey did no serious punching in his round each with Don Petrin who started and Eddie Mader who finished the glove exchanges. His two rounds with Eddie Malcolm, New York colored boxer, was filled with fireworks. Malcolm tore in throwing lefts and rights in Sharkey's direction.

Sharkey blocked, bobbed and weaved until he saw an opening. He rocked Malcolm to his toes with a well timed left hook to the jaw to end the round. The second session found Sharkey giving an eye opening exhibition of weaving and bobbing to make his helper miss.

Fire Menaces Clubhouse at Homewood

The track fire equipment had to be called out at Washington Park early yesterday afternoon when fire was discovered on the top floor of the clubhouse. It was extinguished before most of those in the crowd were aware there had been a blaze. The damage was slight.

Apprentice Basil James is the best rider in the country, claims Trainer George Brooks of the Shady Brook farm. Since the Kentucky spring campaign James has ridden nine Shady Brook horses and never finished worse than second. He won with six and placed with three.

Miss Diavolo, coupled with Cotton Club, will represent Valdina farm of Texas in the featured handicap at Washington Park today. Miss Diavolo won at the long price of $115 during the Arlington season. Other starters in the race include Chief Cherokee, Bolo, Salaam, Bandalore, and Lady Montrose.

PLAN FOUR DAY TOURNEY FOR POLISH BOXERS

Under the advisorship of Stanley Adamkiewicz, former member of the city council, and a director of the Polish Roman Catholic union, the Polish Roman Catholic Union Athletic association will present a four day boxing tournament at the Humboldt park bicycle bowl, Aug. 25, 26, 27, and 28.

During the year, the union hopes to battle Chicago's best amateur boxers, by matching them with those from the Golden Gloves and C. Y. O. According to plans being made by the tournament committee, survivors will meet a picked Polish team in Warsaw.

Ten Trotters to Run Today in $36,000 Hambletonian Stake

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Presenting checks for $500 each, ten horsemen made the final payment today to enter ten horses in the famed Hambletonian trotting stakes, to be run tomorrow at Good Time Park. Nine horses started last year. The largest number of starters ever to go to the post in this harness classic was fourteen, in 1926.

This is the most open Hambletonian in years, and many horsemen felt that luck in the draw may have a great deal to do with the battle. It was the draw that decided the post positions of ten starters—Hollyrood Hermes, Brownie Hanover, Gaiety Mite, Recovery, Pinero, Clova, Rosalind, Ruth M. Mac, Peter Song, and Ed Lasater.

The ten starters each paid a total of $960, the first instalment being made when they were yearlings. The value of the race will be $36,000, the winner taking 55 per cent.

Ed Lasater Starts 10th.

Of the ten starters, Ed Lasater, co-favorite with Rosalind, had the hardest luck in the draw. He must start in tenth position. Only eight trotters can start in line on this track, so Peter Song and Ed Lasater must answer the starter's shout of go from the second tier of horses. The pole position, considered the most favorable in the race, finds John L. Dodge, an amateur, driving his Hollyrood Hermes.

Rosalind, the story book horse that is certain to be heavily played, drew a good position, number seven, just two positions from the outside rail. Rosalind is a fast breaking filly that likes to get out in front and make the pace. From this position she will have an excellent opportunity to do just that.

Of the ten drivers four have won the Hambletonian before. No driver has won the race twice in its ten year history. The four men who will be trying to achieve this feat are Sep Palin, driver of Ed Lasater, who won with Greyhound last year; Tom Berry, driver of Ruth M. Mac, who won with Hanover Bertha in 1930; Ben White, driver of Rosalind, who won with Mary Reynolds in 1933, and Dr. Hugh M. Parshall, who won with Lord Jim two years ago.

Trained by Drivers.

All of the horses with one exception are trained by their drivers, including Hollyrood Hermes. The exception is Ed Lasater, which is trained by Ben White.

The fastest heat ever trotted in the Hambletonian, which is contested on the best two out of three heats basis, was 2:01¼, done by Hollyrood Dennis in 1932. Hollyrood Dennis was not the race winner, however, the Marchioness winning that year.

The entries for tomorrow, according to post positions:

Belloise Knocks Out Doherty in 9th Round

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Mike Belloise, whom the state athletic commission regards as the world's featherweight champion, knocked out Joe Doherty of South Brooklyn in the ninth round tonight before a crowd of 3,000.

WEIDNER MEETS DUSETTE TONIGHT ON ARCADIA MAT

Bill Weidner, Glendale, Cal., who lays claim to the light heavyweight wrestling championship, and George Dusette, Boston, will meet tonight in a scheduled 90 minute bout at Arcadia Gardens, 4444 Broadway. Hans Schnable and Ivan Rasputin will be semi-final opponents. Preliminary matches involve Mike Kilonis and Frenchy La Rue, Red Vagnonne and Babe Kasaboski, and Ernie Peterson and Denny Lentz.

Kid Howard Carr will appear at the Illinois boxing commission today to make application for permission to hold a headliner between Max Marek and Eddie Boyle at White City, Aug. 21. Mique Malloy, who intends to offer a card topped by Leo Rodak at the same arena on Sept. 11, said he will file a protest, holding that he has prior rights to offer shows at White City. . . . Marek was paid 25 per cent of the net receipts, which amounted to about $1,400, for his three round knockout of George Valles at Marigold Gardens Monday. Al Nettlow received $75 for his three round technical knockout over Benny Barrish. . . . Milt Aron and Harold Brown clash for ten rounds in the next windup at Marigold next Monday. . . . Pete Lello, Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight titleholder, sustained a cut eye in the third round of his winning effort against Art Brewer recently which will keep him inactive for three weeks.

FELLOW RIDERS OFFER BLOOD FOR M'NAMARA

Dr. Earl H. Snavely, medical director of the hospital, said McNamara's illness had not been definitly diagnosed. He showed some slight improvement today.

BANK TO SELL MIDDLE WEST STOCK INTEREST

BY HERBERT VEDDER.

The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company will sell its 14.3 per cent stock interest in Middle West corporation to the Chicago corporation for approximately $5,700,000, it was learned yesterday.

W. J. CUMMINGS.
[Seymour Photo.]

As purchaser, Chicago corporation is acting for itself and A. G. Becker & Co., investment banking house, which is to take two-fifths of the Continental's block of 475,046 shares of stock.

Neither Chicago corporation nor Becker officials would comment, refusing to acknowledge the deal until it is closed. Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the Continental bank, said:

"We have received an offer for our stock and expect to complete the sale. However, we haven't seen the money and still have the stock, so you can see there is no deal yet."

Agreement Reached.

All parties to the pending transaction are in agreement, it was learned, leaving only legal details to be arranged. Formal announcement of the sale is expected in a few days, unless it is decided to wait until after Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson awards fees in connection with reorganization of Middle West last November.

Banking creditors received 56 per cent of the new comany's stock under terms of the reorganization. In addition to the block of stock which went to the Continental, Bankers Trust company of New York received 568,022 shares, First National bank of Chicago received 472,057 shares, and the Reconstruction Finance corporation obtained the 173,995 shares allotted the Central Republic Trust company, liquidating shell of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company.

Other Banks Not Included.

Neither the First National nor Bankers Trust company is negotiating for sale of its stock, so far as could be learned.

The RFC, however, is reported to be receptive to offers and it was thought in some financial quarters that Chicago corporation also may purchase this block of stock.

The agreed purchase price, placed at $12 a share, would enable the Continental bank to break even on its loan to the old Insull company. It needed a price of $10.50 a share to be in the clear, without taking into account unpaid interest, legal fees, and other expense in connection with the case.

Chicago corporation's share of the Middle West stock now held by the Continental bank—approximately 60 per cent—would represent an investment of slightly more than $3,400,000.

The only larger holding now in the investing company's portfolio is stock of the Continental bank itself, of which 24,624 shares were held on June 30, before a 20 per cent stock dividend.

Long Term Investment.

Chicago corporation is said to be acquiring the Middle West stock as a long term investment. This would not be out of line, it was said, because the June 30 portfolio showed less than 10 per cent of the $45,946,220 of the corporation's assets invested in utilities.

The stock to be acquired by A. G. Becker & Co., it was believed, may be offered publicly at a later time.

By making the purchase jointly, neither Chicago corporation nor A. G. Becker & Co. will hold as much as 10 per cent of Middle West's stock. This exempts them from being classified as affiliates of Middle West under terms of the utility holding company legislation passed by congress during 1935.

Reports were current in New York yesterday that the two concerns have acquired enough additional Middle West shares to enable them to elect two of the utility's nine directors if they also obtain the RFC's holdings. Middle West stock has cumulative voting power, so that 368,000 shares can elect one director.

Studebaker Sales in Seven Months Top All of 1935

Studebaker corporation yesterday reported that sales by its dealers in the United States during July totaled 5,348 passenger cars and trucks, bringing the aggregate for the first seven months of 1936 to 43,512 units. The seven month total this year exceeded each of the three previous full years. Total retail deliveries last year were 43,435; in 1934, 42,917; in 1933, 39,551.

N. Y. Central 6 Months' Net 7 Cents a Share

Sharp gains in earnings were reported yesterday by a number of leading companies, including the New York Central system, which showed profits for June and the first six months of this year compared with deficits a year ago. The railroad's June net income of $1,045,726, or 21 cents a share, after fixed charges, compared with a deficit of $736,815 in June of last year.

For the six months ended June 30 the carrier's net income after charges amounted to $360,864, or 7 cents a share, compared with a deficit of $4,160,013 in the first half of 1935.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company reported net income of $423,054, or 49 cents a share, for June, against $278,055, or 32 cents a share, a year ago. Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company had net income of $138,325, or $1.82 a share, for June after charges, compared with $53,378, or 70 cents a share, in June, 1935. The Rutland Railroad company announced a net deficit of $3,291 for June, against a deficit of $35,196 a year ago.

Hoe Earnings Rise.

R. Hoe & Co., Inc., world's largest manufacturers of newspaper and magazine printing presses, yesterday reported for the June quarter preliminary consolidated earnings of $32,314, compared with a net loss of $58,958 in the corresponding quarter, the third of the company's fiscal year, in 1935. Earnings for the nine months ended June 30 amounted to $5,962, compared with a loss of $338,254 for the like months of the preceding fiscal year.

A combined total of $4,748,950 of orders was obtained by the company and its British subsidiary in the nine months ended June 30, an increase of about $1,500,000 over a year ago and the largest volume of sales for any corresponding period since 1930. Unfilled orders on June 30 were approximately $1,000,000 larger than a year ago, according to the company's statement.

The printing press concern said the rise in orders and earnings was largely due to the increased demand for new presses and equipment, reflecting increased newspaper and magazine advertising lineage and the heaviest volume of newsprint consumption experienced in the last six years.

Greyhound Profit Lower.

The Greyhound corporation reported a net profit of $1,426,086, or $2.25 a share on the common stock, for the six months ended June 30, including the company's equity in undivided profit or loss of affiliated companies. This compares with a net profit of $1,434,610, or $2.48 a share, in the first half of last year.

In the twelve months ended June 30 the company had net profit of $4,511,572, equal to $7.20 a share on the common stock. The figures are before provision for the federal surtax on undistributed profits.

The combined net profit from the operations of the thirteen affiliated bus companies of the Greyhound corporation amounted to $2,307,997 in the six months ended June 30, compared with $2,578,418 in the first half of last year. In the twelve months ended June 30 the figure was $7,679,377.

National Enameling Income Eases.

National Enameling and Stamping company, specializing in household utensils, reported net income of $80,552, equal to 70 cents a share on the capital stock, without provision for undistributed profits surtax, against $94,011, or 82 cents a share, in the like period of last year.

First National Stores, Inc., operating a chain of grocery stores in New England states, reported for the quarter ended June 27 net income of $928,078, equal after preferred dividends to $1.08 a common share. No provision was made for undistributed profits tax. This compares with a profit of $731,458, or 84 cents a share, in the like period of 1935.

Stone & Webster, Inc., and subsidiaries reported net profit of $156,303, equal to 7 cents a share, for the three months ended June 30, compared with a loss of $379,331 in the June quarter of last year.

Westvaco Chlorine Products corporation and subsidiaries reported for the twelve months ended June 30 net income of $614,106, equal after preferred dividends to $1.61 a share of common stock, against $597,941, or $1.56 a share, in the preceding twelve months.

Pillsbury Flour Mills, Inc., reported for the year ended May 31 consolidated net income of $908,983, equal to $1.65 a share on capital stock, against $1,537,395, or $2.80 a share, in the previous fiscal year.

Bank to Repay 90 Pct. to Part of Depositors

A final liquidating dividend of 90 per cent, amounting to $98,020, will be paid tomorrow to more than 4,400 of the 5,500 depositors of the West Irving State bank, it was announced yesterday by Edward J. Barrett, state auditor. A previous repayment of 10 per cent had been made. The disbursement was made possible by a group of stockholders who purchased the assets of the bank, formed a liquidating corporation, and secured waivers on deposits from certain depositors.

Enjoin TVA Power Lines in Chattanooga

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—A temporary restraining order prohibiting the sale of $8,000,000 in public power bonds and any move to start on a municipal power distribution plant by the city of Chattanooga or the Chattanooga public power board, was signed today by Chancellor J. Lon Foust.

The order was obtained by the Tennessee Electric Power company and halts the plan to serve Chattanooga with Tennessee Valley authority electricity.

Soon after the restraining order was signed, Mayor Ed Bass signed a contract with TVA for the purchase of electricity at wholesale for distribution to Chattanooga consumers.

Action Enjoined.

Under the conditions of Chancellor Foust's order the city and power board created by the Tennessee legislature to operate a municipal system with TVA power in Chattanooga, are prohibited from issuing any part of their $8,000,000 power bonds or making any move to construct a publicly owned power distribution system.

Hearing on the plea for a temporary injunction was set for Aug. 18, and the private utility posted $100,000 bond.

Charges that the act authorizing the $8,000,000 bond referendum which was overwhelmingly approved last year, and the act creating the power board, were unconstitutional were made in the utility's bill.

Told Board Is Illegal.

"The Tennessee Electric Power company has been most reluctant to enter into a legal controversy with the city of Chattanooga or any of its business," Guild said. "I am advised by our counsel that the act creating the board is unconstitutional.

"The amazing thing to me in the act creating the power board is the fact that it is a self-perpetuating board, amenable to no one. No board of this kind has ever before had the autocratic powers conferred upon it as undertaken by this act.

"In recent months David Lilienthal, director of TVA, has gone to considerable length to tell the people of the Tennessee valley and other sections of the country that he is helping and not hurting the private power companies in the valley. However, he now proposes to make a contract that will take away from Tennessee Electric Power a large part of its business. This is obviously inconsistent."

Cites Pact with U. S.

Guild told how a predecessor company of his concern built a lock and dam at Hales Bar, near here, as the pioneer water power development in the region, without cost to the federal government save for "a very insignificant amount for lock gates."

"The United States in turn agreed that the power company should have the right to use the water power generated for ninety-nine years in order to repay the money expended for its construction.

"The unfairness of a policy of invading and appropriating a market that has been built up over a period of years and which the company, through a special enabling act of congress, had every right to expect would be reserved to it during the ninety-nine year period, should be readily apparent to every fair minded citizen."

COAL MINE COMPANY SUES SEVEN UNIONS FOR $400,000 DAMAGES

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The United Electric Coal company, operating the Red Ray mine at Freeburg, Ill., today filed in federal court a petition for $400,000 damages against 7 local unions and 66 members of the Progressive Miners' organization.

The company previously had sought judgment for $350,000 for damage to business allegedly resulting from labor troubles that began in April, 1933. Federal Judge Fred L. Wham recently overruled the motion, but granted leave to file an amended petition.

The new petition stated its business losses through labor difficulties amounted to $300,000 and that maintenance charges during the period from April, 1933, to last spring, when the mine was reopened under a federal injunction, aggregated $100,000.

COSMOPOLITAN NATIONAL BANK TO OPEN TODAY

The new Cosmopolitan National Bank of Chicago, Clark street and Chicago avenue, will open at 9 o'clock this morning, and at that time depositors of the old Cosmopolitan State bank can receive the 40 per cent payment on deposits not waived. Jacob R. Darmstadt, president of the new bank, said that checks have been prepared.

The depositors' committee of the old bank and officers and directors of the new bank will act as a reception committee at the bank's opening, Darmstadt said.

Capitalization of the new bank consists of $250,000, of which $150,000 is in preferred stock held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Surplus amounts to $50,000 and undivided profits to $10,000.

Officers of the bank, as previously announced, are: President, Jacob R. Darmstadt; vice president, Joseph H. Meyer; cashier, Daniel M. Shannon; assistant cashier, Ethel A. Anderson. Directors are: Benjamin S. Adamowski, Joseph J. Brummel, Joseph H. Meyer, W. I. Schermerhorn, Richard E. Schmidt, John W. Walz, and Jacob R. Darmstadt.

B. F. GOODRICH 6 MONTHS SALES RISE SHARPLY

B. F. Goodrich company, manufacturer of tires and other rubber products, yesterday reported net sales of $65,994,521 for the first six months of 1936, compared with $54,887,666 a year ago. Sales and operating results for the most recent period include those of the Hood Rubber company, acquired in June, 1935.

The company also reported a revision in consolidated net income from preliminary estimates made recently. Inclusion of $108,661 profits from the sale of securities and purchase of the company's bonds boosted earnings over previous figures. Revised net income was placed at $2,727,606 for the half year, equal to $1.59 a common share, compared with $1,553,040, or 48 cents a share a year ago.

Sales of Variety Stores Are 19 Pct. Over July, 1935

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The commerce department said today that daily average sales of variety stores during July decreased about 1 per cent from June sales, but were 19 per cent above the July, 1935 volume.

Am. Water Works Again Pays Dividend

American Water Works and Electric company resumed dividends on its common stock yesterday with the declaration of a 20 cent payment. This will be the first disbursement since the same amount was paid on May 15, 1935. At the same time several concerns, influenced by the federal tax on undistributed surpluses, increased or voted extra dividend disbursements.

American Water Works reported sharply higher earnings for the twelve months ended June 30, amounting to $4,241,357, or $1.57 a share on the 1,941,945 shares outstanding, compared with $2,713,401, or 87 cents a share on 1,741,088 shares in the preceding twelve months.

Johns-Manville Votes Extra.

An extra dividend of 50 cents a share on common stock was announced by Johns-Manville company, building material manufacturers, in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of the same amount.

Directors of Masonite corporation yesterday increased the quarterly dividend on common stock from 25 cents to 50 cents and declared an extra of 50 cents a share. In the preceding quarter of this year the company paid an extra of 25 cents in addition to the quarterly of the same amount.

Dividend Boosted.

G. C. Murphy company, 5 cents to $1 chain store system, voted a quarterly dividend of 40 cents, compared with 30 cents paid June 1.

Burdine's, Inc., declared an initial dividend of $1, and Pacific Can company ordered an initial payment of 25 cents.

The Texas and Pacific railway declared a dividend of 2½ per cent on preferred stock, all of which is owned by the Missouri Pacific Railway company and is pledged under that company's first and refunding mortgage.

General Mills, Inc., voted a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share upon its 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock. Directors were reëlected and the following new vice presidents named: W. R. Morris, Buffalo; H. R. McLaughlin, Chicago; F. B. Burke, San Francisco, and J. S. Hargett, Oklahoma City.

REPUBLIC STEEL LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW MILL

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A contract for a four stand tandem tin plate mill to be designed and built by United Engineering and Foundry company was awarded today by Republic Steel corporation. The new mill will supplement the cold rolled tin plate capacity of the reversing mills at Republic's Warren, O., plant.

The order for the mill equipment, which will be installed at Niles, O., will cost approximately $1,000,000. United Engineering will start work at once on the order which is to be completed before the end of the year.

Wheat Prices Drop in World Market.

The corn market made a relatively poor response yesterday to one of the smallest crop estimates ever made by the department of agriculture. Although the indicated yield was placed at 1,439,000,000 bushels, one of the smallest crops in years, there was not the snap to buying which has characterized the market recently. At one time prices were at a new low since July 29. However, closing trades were on a good rally from the lowest prices, with net gains of around a cent. Oats gained fractionally.

Spreading operations between corn and wheat, the former being bought at 4 to 5 cents discount, were popular in some quarters during the day. They helped to weaken the latter grain, which was also affected by sharp declines in prices at Winnipeg and Liverpool. The dollar mark was wiped off the blackboard in the Canadian exchange with a loss of nearly 3 cents per bushel there. Liverpool finished 3¼ to 4⅛ American cents per bushel lower, with many recent buyers said to have gone out of their holdings. Closing trades in Chicago were 2¼ cents lower. Rye weakened in sympathy with wheat.

Barley Continues Advance.

Barley continued its sharp advance which has lifted prices around 35 cents per bushel so far this month. Choice malting grades in the sample market sold at $1.36 per bushel, showing 6 cents above Monday and the highest since 1921, with the exception of a few cars, which sold at $1.37 in 1934. Barley futures gained 1 to 1½ cents and went into new high ground for the season. Futures contracts call for a delivery of feed barley, which sells at a big discount as compared with malting grain.

Owing to the continued dry weather which has prevailed since the government report on corn was compiled and the excessively hot weather in the west and southwest the last few days many traders expressed the belief that the crop will probably be below the government's estimate. The action of the market yesterday, however, was regarded as disappointing. Country holders of old cash corn were reported raising their asking price, and only 68,000 bushels were bought for deferred shipment while shipping sales were 78,000 bushels. Competition with Argentine corn for deferred shipment into the east was said to be becoming more intense.

September Closing Prices.

Closing prices on the September delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yest.	Mon.	Wk.ago.	Mo.ago.
Wheat	$1.08¼	$1.10½	$1.10⅛	$1.02¼
Oats	.42	.41⅛	.42⅛	.37⅛
Rye	.77⅝	.78⅜	.80½	.69

Weakness in foreign wheat markets has affected the domestic price structure to a considerable extent, as Liverpool yesterday was about 9 cents per bushel under the recent high point and Winnipeg has dropped about 10 cents. There was some selling in Winnipeg yesterday to close spreads with Chicago. Export sales of Canadian cash wheat were placed at 750,000 bushels. Wet weather prevailed over a good part of Europe, but had little effect on the markets there.

The trade had reports yesterday that about 100,000 bushels of Canadian rye have been bought for shipment to Chicago in the last few days, making 500,000 bushels taken so far on the current movement.

FIGURES REVISED

A complete revision of the estimated corn crop for the country since 1866 has apparently been made by the department of agriculture, a comparison with the figures presented in the 1935 and 1934 year books issued by the department discloses. Many radical changes from the preliminary figures are shown. In several instances the crop was increased as much as 400,000,000 bushels over the previous returns and there were many years in which the yield was lowered.

As a result the trade, which had figured there had been five years when the crop had exceeded 3,000,000,000 bushels, now finds only two when it was that large. Many startling changes are shown either in the acreage or the estimated yield per acre.

Many old time traders recalled yesterday that in 1894 when the corn

Court Upholds SEC Right to Call Witnesses

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission's authority to subpena witnesses in the investigation of investment trusts and investment companies was sustained in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia today when Justice Jennings Bailey denied the applications of Frederick T. Fisher for injunctions restraining the SEC from issuing subpenas in connection with its investigation of the Equity corporation and its predecessor companies.

JUSTICE BAILEY.
[Harris & Ewing.]

Fisher, through his attorneys, applied for an injunction restraining the commission from seeking to compel his attendance before the commission by subpena. The second application asked that the Equity corporation be restained from responding to a subpena duces tecum. Fisher, a son of the late secretary of the interior, owns two shares of Equity corporation stock and sued as a stockholder of that corporation.

Reasons for Decisions.

In denying the injunction restraining the SEC, Justice Bailey held that the subpena served on Fisher did not require the production of any documents or papers nor of any "documentary evidence whatever." Fisher, added Justice Bailey, was "simply directed to appear and testify as to certain matters set out in the subpena." Justice Bailey was unable to vision any "irreparable injury" to Fisher in the event he responded to the subpena.

In denying the application to restrain the Equity corporation the court pointed out that the corporation itself was not a party to the suit, that the directors of the Equity corporation are not resisting the subpena and therefore, added Justice Bailey, "no sufficient reasons appear for the interference by the court with their discretion."

It was intimated that the case is not yet concluded and that an appeal may be taken to the District Court of Appeals. In the event of that court refusing to act, a final appeal would be to the Supreme court.

Hailed As Victory.

At the offices of the SEC, the legal staf of the commission had no comment to make, but it was plain to all that it was considered a major victory for the SEC and will greatly simplify its prosecution of the trust investment investigation now under way. An adverse decision would probably have wrecked the program of the commission so far as the opening investigation is concerned.

The SEC announced that the investigation of investment trusts and investment companies would be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The witnesses will be Charles F. Kettering, vice president of General Motors, and Ralph W. Simonds of the banking house of Baker, Simonds & Co., Detroit. Both witnesses will be questioned as to their knowledge of the operations of the Yosemite Trust company, of which Simonds was a vice president and Kettering a director. Yosemite later was absorbed by Equity corporation.

PACIFIC MUTUAL LEGAL ACTION IS POSTPONED

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Judge Henry M. Willis of the Superior court today postponed until Aug. 20 action on a group of motions involving the tangled affairs of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California.

Negotiations to sell the new company to an outside insurance concern were disclosed in court today. Acting on behalf of a stockholders' protective committee, counsel requested a continuance in the hope that more favorable arrangements may be reached by contacting an outside insurance firm than by proceeding with the proposed reorganization.

Approximately fifteen motions were before the court, most of which were in behalf of holders of noncancelable insurance policies who sought declaratory relief and filed objections to the possible reduction of their benefits in the reorganization of the company.

20TH CENTURY STREAMLINER MAY BE BUILT

Deal with Pullman Is Reported.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Streamlined passenger service between Chicago and New York, similar to that which links Chicago with the west, and further reduction in the running time of the present 16½ hour trains between the two cities, was said yesterday in railroad circles to be under discussion.

The New York Central, according to informed sources, is reported to be negotiating with the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company for the construction of two lightweight streamlined trains to be used on the Twentieth Century's run. A proposal said to be receiving favorable consideration is the construction of two streamliners by Pullman under a plan whereby Pullman would retain ownership of the trains. Pullman could manage its cars and would even operate the dining cars which are now run by the railroad.

Comment Withheld.

Officials of both Pullman and the New York Central here yesterday said they were not in a position to comment on the report, although executives of the railroad admitted that proposals for the improvement of the Chicago-New York service are being studied.

New York dispatches yesterday said both the New York Central and the Pennsylvania are considering further reductions in schedules, possibly in the fall, for the Twentieth Century and the Broadway Limited which now make the run in 16½ hours. Officials of both railroads said they did not think time reductions were likely so soon, but it was pointed out that if streamliners were put into operation it would be almost certain that running time would be cut.

Planes Cut Into Trafic.

The new giant planes of the air lines have been capturing a substantial part of the cream of the Chicago-New York travel and the eastern railroads have been looking for means to hold their own with the planes. The phenomenal success of the western railroads with their streamliners is said to be inspiring the eastern carriers to test this type of transportation.

In the meantime the Pullman company it to test out on the Twentieth Century and the Broadway a two car articulated lightweight unit recently completed in the Pullman shops here. This unit will be attached to the rear of the two trains.

It is expected that the unit will be given its first trial next week on the Twentieth Century and later will be attached to the Broadway.

Other Tests Planned.

After being given a workout on the Chicago-New York run, the unit will be attached to standard trains of other railroads to gauge public response to the equipment.

The unit consists of a "duplex" type of sleeper, which will have 16 bedrooms, and a combination sleeper and observation car. The "duplex" sleeping car will have two levels, with bedrooms on each level. Each room will have a bed that will be convertible into a sofa in the day. The duplex sleeper is similar to two double decked sleeping cars now being used by the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and Washington.

The articulated unit is of lightweight steel alloy construction, with a rounded end similar to that of the Green Diamond and other streamliners.

Cocoa Prices Rise to Best Level in Last Three Years

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Cocoa prices on the New York Cocoa exchange today reached the highest levels since July, 1933. At the close future contracts were up .6 to .7 a cent a pound with September quoted at 6.22 cents, October at 6.25, December 6.33, March 6.43, May 6.52 and July 6.59. Reports of cold weather in Brazil and fears of crop damage brought in aggressive buying. Sales were 383 lots of 30,000 pounds each.

PROFIT TAKING CAUSES STOCKS TO MOVE LOWER

Most of Selling Reported as Well Absorbed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 11.—Except for a handful of special issues, stocks declined irregularly today in another session which witnessed further mild profit taking. While the recession was orderly it ranged from fractions to about a point.

Trading was at a slower pace, with traders showing increasing caution which was attributed for the most part to disturbing European political news and to the opinion of some market analysts that the list might have to undergo further technical readjustment before resuming its upswing. Transactions totaled 1,103,820 shares.

For the most part selling that came into the list was well absorbed and at times the market gave evidence of renewed demand when the steels and equipments assumed the leadership.

Traders Take Profits.

Business news continued to run in favor of the bullish element, but traders seemed bent on taking profits.

A few issues in the stock list declined sharply. Allied Chemical, especially, was hard hit, being hammered down 7 points and bringing its loss for the last two days to 13 points. In the main, however, the trend of the list was anything but uniform.

United States Steel, after holding well for the greater part of the session, dipped in late dealings to wind up with a fractional loss. Bethlehem stiffened a bit. Two features of the steel group were Inland, which spurted 5 points, and Crucible, which reached a new high on an advance well in excess of a point.

Small fractional losses took place in the carrier section. Illinois Central dipped a large fraction despite its good earnings statement. Union Pacific moved against the trend to register a gain of less than a point. With the first of the railroad earnings reports for July about due, the financial community expects some of the carriers to show large gains in gross revenue and net earnings as compared with a year ago.

Pullman Sets Pace.

Pullman again set the pace for the equipment section and at one time reached a new peak. General American Transportation was another strong spot, rising almost 2 points.

In the utility section, American Waterworks was helped for a time by the news of its dividend but it bogged down badly to finish with a loss of a point. American Telephone rose a point, while Western Union softened.

Amusement shares were active, though final prices were mixed. Columbia lost a little, while Loews and Warner moved up fractions. General Motors held firmly, while Chrysler declined.

Farm implements were about the weakest group. Case receded 3½ points, Deere lost a fraction, International Harvester lost 1⅛ and Oliver Farm gave up the same amount. Fractionally lower prices marked dealings in the mail orders, oils, tobaccos, and metals.

COTTON ADVANCES 8 TO 13 POINTS ON HOT WEATHER

Excessively hot weather in Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas became a market influence in cotton yesterday, with less favorable crop reports received from the three states. Commission house trade, however, was not large. Closing prices were about the top with net gains of 8 to 13 points in Chicago and 5 to 11 points in other markets. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent per pound, or 5 cents per bale.]

Spot cotton closed 5 to 10 points higher, with New Orleans at 12.25 cents per pound; Galveston and Houston, 12.20 cents; New York, 12.40 cents. Range of futures in cents per pound follows:

U. S. CROP REPORT BOOSTS BUTTER, EGGS, POTATOES

Butter, egg and potato futures advanced on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday as the result of a bullish construction placed on the government report on crops and pastures. November butter advanced ½ cent to 35⅝ cents per pound. October eggs gained ½ cent and closed at 26¾ cents per pound. Potato futures were 3 to 6 cents higher, with January closing at $2.60 per 100 pounds.

There was some buying of butter based on expectations that a severe shortage would be shown in cold storage stocks for the country in a department of agriculture report to be issued later in the day. Sales of butter futures were 65 cars; eggs, 153 cars, and potatoes 22 cars. Prices follow:

To All Holders of Non-Cancellable Accident and Health Policies in

THE PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

A Chicago committee has been formed to safeguard and protect the interests of all policyholders of Non-Cancellable Accident and Health Policies issued by The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California.

In the belief that the proposed reorganization of the new company is unfair and inequitable to policyholders, the Chicago Committee offers to assist all policyholders who object to having the benefits of their policies reduced.

STOCK BROKERS TO AIR VIEWS ON SEGREGATION

May Meet Wednesday on SEC Ruling.

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—The first meeting at which members of the New York Stock exchange will be given an opportunity to express their views on the Securities and Exchange commission's program for segregating the functions of broker and dealer probably will be held tomorrow.

The opposition of what seems to be an overwhelming majority of exchange members to the aims and implications of the SEC, as expressed in its report of June 20 to congress, has been apparent for several weeks. Last week, however, the segregation committee indicated that representatives of the investing public had expressed a desire to record their opinions with the committee which is to advise the exchange whether it should adopt or reject the federal program of segregation.

Conferences Planned.

In a letter sent to exchange members the committee stated that after it has heard their views it planned "to confer with interested persons other than members and partners." These persons, it was learned, are representatives of major life and fire insurance companies, investment trusts, and savings and commercial banks who fear that segregation would seriously impair the liquidity of American stock markets.

Being charged with the management of huge security investments, these interests are said to wish to safeguard stock market liquidity as it has been known in the past.

Thus they are expected to align themselves with officials of the exchange who have publicly declared their intention to defend the "right" of a speculator to equal treatment with the investor on the well entrenched theory that the speculator contributes materially to the flexibility and liquidity of a market.

Warns Against Liquidity.

On the other hand, the SEC in its segregation report warns against making a fetish of liquidity, finds existing liquidity of dubious value, and advances the ancient theory that liquidity presupposes not only convertibility into cash but at an "appropriate" price.

As a step toward maintaining "appropriate" prices of securities the commission plans to reduce speculation, particularly the approximate 20 per cent of total daily transactions on the exchange which originates among its members on the trading floor.

In the expected clash between the SEC and stock exchange schools of thought it is evident that liquidity will be a major battle ground. Before the issue is joined in conferences at Washington this fall it is believed that the exchange will have the support of the managers of many large aggregations of capital whose conception of liquidity more closely tallies with that of the exchange than that of the SEC.

LEAGUE FINDS BRITISH REVIVAL AHEAD OF U. S.

Review Compares Efforts to Spur Recovery.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The league of nations monetary review, issued today, described deflation in the United States as being much greater than that in the United Kingdom, and American industrial recovery from the depression relatively less marked.

Drawn for the express purpose of comparing the progress of recovery in Great Britain and the United States, the Review's report said:

"In the United Kingdom the only direct monetary action taken by the government to stimulate production was to encourage the development of cheap money, while in the United States a long series of recovery measures was introduced.

Cite Differences.

"Cheap money in the United Kingdom was the result of banking policy while in the United States it was achieved at a cost of heavy additions to the national debt."

The report added that increased production in the United Kingdom took place without any considerable rise in prices, whereas in the United States prices rose more sharply.

"The essential monetary difference between the two countries," asserted the report, "lies in the difference in a rapid circulation of a monetary medium, the medium itself was abundant in both cases.

"In the United States the velocity of circulation of demand deposits in the last quarter of 1935 was still only half as great as in 1929, while in the United Kingdom the rate of turnover of current accounts was only about 30 per cent less than at the beginning of 1930.

Reflection of Confidence.

The report expressed the opinion that although the "excess" reserves of member banks of the American federal reserve system form an element of inflation danger, at the same time they represent an important element in a sound banking position.

The excess reserves are attributed by the report to an inflow of foreign funds which may be withdrawn at a moment's notice. However, due to the existence of the large surplus above the legal requirement, the repatriation of foreign funds from the United States can be accomplished with a minimum disturbance to the American money market.

Domestic Copper Sales 113 Per Cent Ahead of '35

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—In the first seven months of this year sales of domestic copper amounted to more than 500,000 tons, or 113 per cent more than the 235,000 tons sold in the same period last year, Poor's industry and investment surveys reported today.

LARD ADVANCES SHARPLY, BUT A REACTION FOLLOWS

Aggressive buying of lard futures by houses with eastern connections, presumably based on the government report indicating the smallest corn crop since 1894, and spreading operations with cottonseed oil, lifted lard prices sharply early yesterday. The bulge brought out free offerings from trade interests and a reaction from the top followed. Net gains were 2½ to 12½ cents per 100 pounds. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed unchanged. Cash lard was quoted at $11.75 per 100 pounds; loose, $11.05; leaf, $11.00; clear bellies, $13.50. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

RAILS SPEND BILLION FOR MAINTENANCE IN YEAR; MOST SINCE '31

J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, yesterday announced that class I railroads in 1935 spent $1,075,854,130 for maintenance work, which was the greatest amount expended in that line of work in any one year since 1931.

Of the total amount of maintenance expenditures in 1935 $681,886,869 was used for the repair and other maintenance work on cars and locomotives owned by the railroads. This was an increase of $43,981,253 above such expenditures in 1934, and an increase of $83,177,741 above 1933, according to Pelley's report.

Expenditures for maintenance of way and structures totaled $393,967,261 in 1935, an increase of $28,667,646 above such expenditures in 1934, and an increase of $71,681,064 above 1933.

BARKER ASSAILS TAXES IN GUISE OF SOCIAL REFORM

Sears Official Flails Discrimination.

Legislators find it too easy to let the search for new sources of taxation sway their zeal for social reform, J. M. Barker, vice president and treasurer of Sears, Roebuck & Co., charged in an address last night before the Modern Issues forum at Northwestern university, Evanston.

"The example of chain store taxation will make this clear," he said. "If a legislature decides to tax chain stores on a higher basis than independents for the sake of tapping a new source of revenue, that is its privilege, and the efficiency of the act as a revenue producer will be measurable.

Raps Legislative Trend.

"But, if a legislature decides to pass a tax bill which at the same time will drive out chain stores and also produce revenue while this process is going on, this type of procedure may fix itself in the legislative mind as desirable because it kills two birds with one stone.

"With the economic and social problems of the world so complex, business has a right to expect that tax legislation should be passed for revenue only and that separate bills should be passed of a regulatory or prohibiting nature where reforms are needed."

Barker said the public has the right to expect the following of business: Fair treatment of employés, fair treatment of the owners, and fair treatment in the quality and cost of things which business purveys to the consumer.

Rights of Business.

Business, he said, has a right to expect of the public:

"First, freedom to function without more control than is necessary for the public interest.

"Second, removal so far as possible of the uncertainties of ill defined government fiscal policy.

"Third, elimination of taxation for effecting purely social reforms.

"Fourth, elimination of legislation which practically amounts to confiscation of private property.

"Fifth, demand of labor organizations the same responsibility for fulfilment of agreements which it requires of business organizations.

"Sixth, freedom from government competition."

E. J. Lawler Jr. Quits U. S. Post to Practice Law

Edward J. Lawler Jr. yesterday announced that he has resigned as representative in Chicago of the general counsel of the treasury department to enter the private practice of law in association with George K. Bowden, with offices at 105 West Adams street. Lawler is a graduate of the University of Chicago an dof the Harvard law school. Before representing the treasury department's general counsel he was with the internal revenue service.

Ontario to Guard Against Newsprint Price War

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Premier Hepburn said today the Ontario government does not intend to fix prices in the newsprint industry, but would see that a price war did not take place. "We are not going to allow a repetition of the price cutting that occurred a year or two ago," the premier said. "The newsprint industry won't be able to stand another war of this kind."

REVIVE OLD PLAN FOR RAIL LINEUP TO PACIFIC COAST

Burlington Is Suggested to Head System.

Revival of an old dream for a new transcontinental railroad which would link Chicago and San Francisco is seen in recent railroad development. This new system, which has been recommended in railroad consolidation proposals, would embrace the Burlington, Denver and Rio Grande Western, the Denver and Salt Lake [controled by the D. and R. G. W.] and the Western Pacific.

Reorganization plans for the Denver and Rio Grande Western and the Western Pacific are now in the hands of the interstate commerce commission, both roads being victims of the depression.

RFC Is Dominant Factor.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation holds a dominant position in the affairs of the Denver and Rio Grande Western as the result of loans, and Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, said recently that in his opinion the financial problems confronting it and the Western Pacific possibly could best be solved by uniting the two roads into one system.

The suggestion was then made that the Burlington should be sold one half of the new system and the Missouri Pacific, which already owns half of the Denver and Rio Grande Western, be given the other half.

Support for such a plan was given recently by a committee of the large eastern insurance companies which owns large blocks of obligations of the various interested railroads. The insurance leaders were especially interested in seeing that the Burlington, which has been one of the leading money making railroads in the country, enter the picture.

Burlington Not Eager to Join.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington, recently said the Burlington would not be interested in entering the picture until the financial problems of the roads now in bankruptcy had been cleared up, since he did not wish to see his solvent system burdened with their huge debts.

In the event that the Burlington were to enter into an arrangement for the creation of a new trans-continental line, it is held likely that the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads would sell their control of it.

The interstate commerce commission in an opinion made public in 1930 said that one of the primary considerations in a merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems was that they divest themselves of the Burlington.

Merger Long Contemplated.

Merger of the northern transcontinental systems has for many years been under consideration. Both James J. Hill and J. P. Morgan, the elder, both cherished a plan for such action and the Northern Securities company was formed as an instrument to accomplish this. However, the proposal was turned down in the courts on the ground that it was an illegal combination in restraint of trade.

With the movement in the 1920's for consolidation of many of the nation's railroads in the interest of economy, the old plan was revived and application was made to the interstate commerce commission for permission to allow the two northern systems to unite. In its opinion the I. C. C. estimated that more than $10,000,000 could be saved annually by the consolidation of the two roads.

New Advertising Firm Takes Over Sellers Service

Sellers Service, Inc., Chicago advertising agency established in 1926, has been succeeded by Baggaley, Horton and Hoyt, Inc., effective today. The officers of the new company are: William Blair Baggaley, president; S. V. Horton and W. S. Hoyt, vice presidents, and C. J. O'Mara, secretary and treasurer, all of whom held similar positions with Sellers Service.

I. C. C. Approves 16 Million Nickel Plate Bond Issue

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today granted the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company authority to issue $16,000,000 of ten year collateral trust 4 per cent notes, proceeds of which will be used to pay outstanding obligations.

CATTLE SLAUGHTER IN AUGUST SHOWS BIG GAIN DUE TO DROUTH

The heavy marketing of live stock in July resulting from shortage of feed and water in some sections of the country brought a sharp increase in beef slaughterings, the Institute of American Meat Packers reported yesterday.

The number of cattle slaughtered in federally inspected packing houses was the largest on record for the month with the exception of July, 1918. An increase of 25 per cent was shown over July, 1935. Cattle slaughtered last month totaled 928,000 head as compared with 745,000 a year ago. Calves slaughtered last month under federal inspection totaled 523,000, the largest on record with the exception of July, 1934, and an increase of 13 per cent over last year.

Market receipts of hogs continued to increase and the number of animals dressed last month showed a gain of 57 per cent over July, 1935. With the exception of July last year, however, the month's slaughter of 2,692,000 hogs was the smallest since 1920.

EXPANDING BEEF DEMAND AGAIN BOOSTS CATTLE

Top long fed steers advanced to $10 a hundred pounds at the stockyards yesterday as the business of packing houses benefited further from the expanding demand for beef in consumer channels. Beef has for some weeks been selling relatively lower than other foods, and the benefits accruing are expected to be culminative in effect. Sellers anticipate a rising market for cattle, with long fed beef steers scoring the sharpest advances, within the next few weeks.

The peak sale yesterday was 25 cents above the highest mark of the preceding week. Advances were confined mostly to the top grades, which are scarce, although a stronger undercurrent existed in all branches of the market.

Production costs have risen more than 100 per cent in most of the cattle feeding territories in the last few weeks.

Action was lacking in the hog trade during the forenoon at steady to 10 cents lower prices, but final rounds displayed a stronger undertone and part of the loss was recovered. The extreme top at $11.25 was paid rather late, compared with a high of $11.20 at the start of trading and $11.30 Monday. The average at $9.90 was the same as on the preceding day.

Lambs slumped 25 to 50 cents more, indicating 50 cents to $1.00 loss in two days. The practical top for native and western range lambs halted at $10.00, although a small package of natives early reached $10.25.

JUDGE ALLOWS FEES OF $100,000 IN MO.-KAN. CASE

Pay Receiver $40,000; His Lawyers $50,000.

Fees totaling $100,000 were allowed yesterday by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward in connection with the four year old receivership of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company.

Thurlow G. Essington, one of the receivers, was granted compensation of $40,000 covering the period from May 12, 1932, to date. Essington's attorneys, the firm of Glenn, Real & Browning, were allowed $50,000 for the same period.

Judge Cites Services.

Judge Woodward in his order said that Essington and his attorneys had contributed greatly to the prospective reorganization by settlement of various intercompany suits and in the organization of Kentucky Natural Gas company, a subsidiary.

The assets of Missouri-Kansas were once valued at $50,000,000. The company was the promotion of Frank P. Parish, sometimes referred to as the "boy wizard."

The company was organized in 1928. The original receivership suit was brought in 1931 by John R. Williamson, a stockholder. The law firm of Sabath, Perlman, Goodman & Rein, Williamson's counsel, yesterday were awarded compensation of $10,000 by the court.

Parish and his associates were indicted by the federal government on mail fraud charges in connection with their stock selling activities and were acquitted.

Story of Many Suits.

Since the receivership the company has been involved in a great deal of litigation. The Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company was organized in 1929 as a subsidiary to be jointly owned by Missouri-Kansas and the Columbia Gas interests. In July, 1935, the receivers sued Columbia Gas and associated companies and officials for $180,000,000 on charges that they had conspired to wreck the Missouri-Kansas company in violation of the anti-trust laws. After long negotiation the case was settled.

Under the terms of the settlement Missouri-Kansas received $300,000 in cash to pay other creditors in full and was released from liability for notes of $5,500,000 owned by Columbia Gas and guaranteed by Missouri-Kansas. Panhandle Eastern under the agreement was to be recapitalized with half of the stock going to Missouri-Kansas.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Steers Go to Market.

August 11, 1936.

TWO batches of Hereford steers were brought in from the Tribune's Yorkville Experimental farm yesterday and sold on the Chicago market. One lot of 28 head, weighing 28,700 pounds, brought $8.65 a hundred pounds. They averaged 1,025 pounds. The second lot of 43 head weighed a total of 41,450, averaging nearly 964 pounds, and sold for $8.35 a hundredweight.

The two groups of white faces weighed a total of 70,150 pounds and returned $5,753.25 after the transportation and marketing costs, of $190.37, were paid. Trucking to market cost $105.22 and the marketing charges amounted to $85.15. Marketing costs were made up of the following items: Transportation insurance, $7.50; yardage charges, $35.50; hay [300 pounds], $5.40; fire insurance, 30 cents, and commission, $36.45.

The 71 steers were from the original herd of 426 Herefords bought last year by Clarence Thurow, farm manager. They have been on feed since they were brought to the Yorkville farm early last fall. Steers from this herd have been marked at various times in the last few months. They varied somewhat in size at the time they were put on feed and have been marketed as rapidly as they were finished and ready for slaughter.

Rain Is Spotty.

The unevenness of the rainfall in northern Illinois early in the week is indicated by a comparison of the two Tribune farms, which are only thirty miles apart. There was about an inch of rain along the north side of the Wheaton farm. There was only a shower in the southwert part of the place, about a mile away. Yesterday morning men on the farm found some of the fields soft enough to show the imprints of their heels. At the Yorkville farm the manager reported that the rain was so light it did not even "settle the dust" under the shade trees on his lawn.

The rain has been of great benefit to the test crops on the Wheaton place.

Reseed Lawns.

Spots in some of the lawns at the Wheaton farm were disced last week and prepared for reseeding. Grass mixtures were sown on these lawns last spring, but heat and lack of moisture killed out part of the tender seedlings.

A complete fertilizer was put on the ground after it had been worked into a fine seed bed. The gardeners plan to wait about two weeks before sowing these spots to allow the fertilizer time to dissolve and become thoroughly absorbed by the soil.

The head gardener has found that fall is the best time to seed bluegrass, since weeds do not choke it out so badly as when it is sown in the spring. He says that hot summer weather usually comes before spring seedings get a good start, but that grass seeded late in August normally becomes well established before cold weather, and is more likely to live through the winter than spring seedings are to survive during the hot summer months. He has found that bluegrass recovers from drouth injury quicker than other grasses when rains come.

A little German peat moss will be raked into the surface of the soil before the grass is sown. This is expected to aid in holding moisture and in keeping the soil cool. The peat moss also tends to prevent the soil from packing.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 11.—Conflicting price trends dominated activity in the listed bond market today and closing quotations were about evenly divided between gains and losses.

Volume of trading gained slightly over Monday's total, amounting to $10,918,000, par value, compared with $9,750,000 the day before.

Domestic Liens Narrow.

Domestic corporation liens held to a narrow range, United States government issues were more active and mixed and several foreign obligations moved higher.

A heavy volume of trading occurred in Home Owners Loan 2¾s a 3s. The first issue closed unchanged at 101.22 and the latter rose 2-32d point to 10^3. Sales in the two issues accounted for about a third of total transactions in the department, which amounted to $1,510,000.

A better tone to the war news from Spain buoyed bonds of International Telephone, which owns the Spanish telephone monopoly. Three issues of the company rallied from 2 to 3 points.

Other Foreigns Higher.

Italian government 7s gained 3¼, Poland 7s and Rome 6½s climbed 1 each and higher prices were paid for several other issues.

In the domestic list Southern Railway 4s, Warner Brothers 6s, Western Union 5s, Pacific Gas 5s, Great Northern 4s and Chesapeake and Ohio 4½s registered gains for the day.

Among the losers were Postal Telegraph 5s, Illinois Central 4¾s, Great Western 4s, American and Foreign Power 5s, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 3½s, Studebaker 6s, Southern Pacific 4½s, Nickel Plate 4½s, St. Paul 5s and Chesapeake corporation 5s.

United States Distributing.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information concerning United States Distributing company.—J. L.

Answer: The United States Distributing corporation is chiefly a holding company whose subsidiaries are engaged in mining and distributing anthracite and bituminous coal, trucking all kinds of freight in New York and New Jersey, and transporting coal and other commodities by barge in New York harbor. Control of this company was obtained in 1930 by the Pittston company, organized by the Van Sweringens.

Earnings have been on the decline for ten years, except for a sharp recovery in 1929, and the company has failed to earn even half of preferred dividend requirements for the last six years. The record of the last five years:

	Sales.	Net income.	Loss per com. shr.
1935........	$21,106,000	$ 29,000	$1.67
1934........	24,528,000	129,000	1.42
1933........	21,262,000	71,000	1.58
1932........	24,943,000	376,000	.85
1931........	31,780,000	356,000	.91

The company's best net income was $1,173,000 or $1.17 a share in 1925. Record sales were $44,946,000 in 1926.

Outstanding capitalization consists of $9,991,550 of 7 per cent preferred stock and 401,666 shares of no par common stock. Subsidiary funded debt was $2,251,000 at the end of 1935. The parent concern has no funded debt.

Financial position at the end of 1935 was not satisfactory, current liabilities of $6,274,000 exceeding current assets of $5,973,000.

New Jersey Power and Light.

Investors' Guide: Would appreciate your opinion of New Jersey Power & Light first 4½s of 1960 for investment.—A. E. G.

Answer: New Jersey Power & Light company is an operating unit in the Associated Gas & Electric corporation system. It serves 45,000 electric and 5,500 gas customers in 346 communities in the northern part of New Jersey.

Income has been comparatively stable, and fixed charges have been covered by a consistently ample margin. The smallest coverage in recent years was reported in 1933, when bond interest and other charges were earned 1.87 times. Fixed charges were earned 2.07 times last year and 2.14 times in the twelve months ended June 30, 1936.

At the end of 1935, the balance sheet showed total assets of $34,915,000 and funded debt of $13,920,000 first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds of 1960. The bonds are considered sound.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw sugar was unchanged today and no sales were reported. Refiners were believed willing to pay last prices of 3.65c per lb for sugar in September arrival, but nothing was offered below 3.70c. Futures were quiet, with trading confined to the September position, where a total of 7 lots, or 350 tons changed hands at 2.73c, and advance of 1 point from the previous close. The inactivity in the spot market seemed to discourage operations and there was a general disposition to hold aloof and wait a revival of business in actuals before making fresh commitments. Final prices were 1 point higher to 1 point lower.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
September	2.73	2.73	2.73	2.73	2.73

Refined was unchanged locally at 4.75c for fine granulated for prompt shipment with only a moderate business reported.

LOUISVILLE GAS PLANS TO ISSUE 28 MILLION BONDS

Plan to File Deal with SEC Tomorrow.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Louisville Gas and Electric company will make application tomorrow with the Securities and Exchange commission for registration of $28,000,000 3½ per cent refunding bonds. Through the refunding of outstanding securities the company expects to make an annual interest saving of $200,000.

The refunding bonds will be dated Sept. 1, 1936, and will mature Sept. 1, 1966. Outstanding bonds to be retired consist of $20,805,000 of 5 per cent bonds, due 1952, and $6,000,000 4½ per cent bonds, due 1961. The entire operation calls for $29,779,875. Funds in excess of the proceeds of the new issue will be provided from money in the treasury.

Award Massachusetts Issue.

An issue of $5,000,000 of Commonwealth of Massachusetts registered 2¼ per cent water bonds was awarded yesterday to a banking syndicate headed by the National City bank and the Bankers Trust company of New York. The obligations mature serially 1937 to 1966 and are being reoffered to the public.

An issue of $1,126,000 Wayne county, Michigan, 2 per cent highway refunding bonds was offered yesterday by a banking group headed by Stranahan, Harris & Co., Inc. The bonds are dated May 1, 1936, and mature from May 1, 1938 to 1940 inclusive. The bonds are general obligations of Wayne county and are payable from general taxes.

Offer Utility Bonds.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc., today will offer an issue of $1,000,000 Public Service company of New Hampshire first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds, series E, dated Aug. 1, 1936, and due Aug. 1, 1961, at 104.125 plus accrued interest.

Of the estimated proceeds of $1,476,828 from this financing and from the sale of preferred stock, $1,473,000 will be used to pay bank loans incurred in the acquisition of the New Hampshire Power company.

SET HEARING DATE.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Hearing on an application of the Gulf States Utilities company, a subsidiary of Stone & Webster, Inc., for authority to sell $17,300,000 principal amount of first mortgage and refunding bonds and $4,000,000 of its unsecured debentures was set today for Aug. 25, by the federal power commission. Both issues will be dated Oct. 1, 1936, the former to mature on Oct. 1, 1966, and the latter on Oct. 1, 1946.

GOLD CURRENCIES CONTINUE RISE AGAINST DOLLAR

Gold currencies continued to improve against the dollar yesterday as diplomacy appeared to have checked at least temporarily the spread of the Spanish war to other European countries. Speculative sellers of gold currencies curtailed their operations on the more encouraging outlook and there was a letup in the movement of funds to New York and London.

French francs rose farther above the gold export level of 6.58⅜ cents by closing at 6.58 13-16 cents, up 5-16 point. Swiss francs gained 1 point to 32.61 cents and Dutch guilders 2 points to 67.94 cents.

The arrival of $6,545,200 gold from abroad was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

LEGAL RIGHTS LIKELY ISSUE IN OIL TRUST SUIT

Jurisdiction Expected to Be Challenged.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Government attorneys preparing to prosecute officials of twenty-one oil companies on charges of violating the anti-trust act said today they expected defendants to raise at least two questions involving constitutional rights.

A federal grand jury will resume hearings Aug. 19 in Madison, Wis., where sixty-one individuals and twenty-three companies were indicted July 28 on price fixing charges.

Jurisdiction Questioned.

One objection almost certain to be raised by defendants, one federal attorney said today, was that of jurisdiction, probably on grounds that the case properly should be tried where the alleged conspiracy to fix gasoline prices occurred or where the affected gasoline was produced.

The government is prepared to argue that any court has jurisdiction in a locality where the gasoline was sold; in other words, "anywhere east of the Rockies," the government said.

The second objection government attorneys said they look for is that the Sherman anti-trust laws, under which the oil men were indicted, do not embrace the present charges. The government contends however, it can refute the claim.

Expect Trial Late This Year.

Both questions are expected to be raised at the trial proper for which no date yet has been set but which the government hopes will get under way late this year.

Among defendant companies are listed the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, Socony Vacuum, Cities Service, Continental, Gulf, Pure Oil, Texas, Tide Water, Mid-Continent, Phillips, Skelly, Shell, Sinclair, and Bandsdall.

Wheat Prices Decline in World Market.

crop west of the Missouri river was largely a failure, members of the Chicago Board of Trade raised a fund of more than $500,000 to be used to purchase seed corn for farmers to use in planting the 1895 crop. It was said every dollar was repaid the following year.

A volume of cheap Argentine corn, estimated at 240,000 tons, will be discharged on Pacific coast ports during the next year, according to Los Angeles reports. Much of the new movement will be handled by British and Greek tramp freighters. This is also indicated by the seven corn ships now en route to Los Angeles from River Plate ports. It is estimated also that more than 200,000 tons of Argentine maize have been imported through Pacific coast ports since the heavy movement first got under way in March, 1934.

Illinois has regained its crown as the leading producer of corn in the United States, an honor it surrendered to Iowa in 1918. With the exception of Illinois, there is no state of importance as a commercial producer of the coarse grain which this year has a larger crop than in the drouth years of 1934 and 1894. The eleven states of largest production this season are estimated to have 852,000,000 bushels, or only 8,000,000 bushels in excess of comparable revised figures for 1934 and 110,000,000 bushels more than the unrevised estimates for 1894. Comparative yields of corn in leading states, with the production of that grain, oats, barley, and hay for the country during the three years, in millions of bushels, follow:

Exports of wheat from Canada during July amounted to 25,912,508 bushels, against 9,158,035 bushels in July, 1935. The value of last month's shipments was placed officially yesterday at $21,884,644, compared with $7,213,629 a year ago. Flour exports also increased during the month.

CHICAGO STOCKS DECLINE; MIDDLE WEST IS ACTIVE

Prices of Chicago stocks declined yesterday, the close in many instances being at the low levels for the day. Volume of 77,000 shares compared with 150,000 on Monday. Middle West again led trading, turnover amounting to 12,800 shares, but lost ground.

The issue sold between 11⅛ and 11¾, closing at its low level, off ⅝ point. Reports on liquidation of bank holdings in Middle West served to dampen enthusiasm in the stock, which on the preceding day had spurred trading and encouraged price gains in other issues.

New highs for the last two to seven years were established by six stocks, however. They were: American Public Service preferred, highest since 1932 at 43½; E. J. Brach & Sons, best since 1929 at 23; Central and South West Utilities preferred, at 40¼, highest since 1932; Dayton Rubber A at 29¾, and common at 15½, highest since 1934; and Goldblatt set a similar record at 31.

CASH GRAIN

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday were: wheat, 53 cars; corn, 121 cars; oats, 46 cars; rye, 1 car; barley, 22 cars; soy beans, 4 cars. Range of cash grain prices per bu in leading markets follows:

WPA ORDERS 2,500 DROUTH JOBS FOR FARMERS IN ILLINOIS

Howard O. Hunter, drouth relief administrator of the Works Progress administration for the central west and northwest, instructed Illinois WPA officials yesterday to proceed immediately with the employment of 2,500 farmers in six southern counties which were placed on emergency drouth rating Monday.

County agents and WPA executives in two southern districts will meet tomorrow evening at Harrisburg to lay plans for putting the first of the men to work by Monday.

Showers are probable today in the upper Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi valley, and lower temperatures will occur in the central great plains, the upper Mississippi valley, and the upper Great Lakes region, but rising temperature is expected tomorrow in the Dakotas, according to Forecaster A. W. Cook.

Yesterday the highest reading here was 77 degrees at 4 p. m.

U. S. TO CONSERVE SEEDS TO OFFSET DROUTH EFFECT

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Coincident with an official prediction that the public will feel the drouth more next year than this, through reduced supplies of meat and dairy products, an AAA official today gave "virtual assurance" of government action to conserve seed supplies.

The department of agriculture reported that pigs forced to market by the smallest domestic corn crop in 50 years will bring a considerable drop in hog prices this fall, but that this probably will be followed by reduced pork supplies in 1937. A halt in the trend toward increasing cattle stocks likewise was predicted.

Farmers' fears regarding seed supplies, raised by the drouth shortened corn and spring wheat crops, brought an assertion from Capt. Carroll Power of the AAA commodities purchase division that seed purchases of both grains were "under discussion."

"There is virtual assurance some plan will be found to conserve available seed supplies and protect farmers against skyrocketing seed prices," he stated.

Mary Astor and Former Husband May Divide Custody of Their Child—Women Join in Fighting in Spain

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

MARY ASTOR WITH ACTOR NAMED AMONG HER ACQUAINTANCES—John Eldredge, brother-in-law of Fredric March, in movie scene with Mary Astor. The actress testified on Monday that Eldredge was among her friends, but she denied that they had drinks together in her home. (Story on page 1.)

DROUTH STRIPS ILLINOIS ORCHARD—Barren peach trees in Wayne county, Illinois, which is included in the area officially designated by the government as a drouth zone for relief purposes. Not a leaf remains on the trees.

OUT OF CONTROL—Northwest rangers are frustrated in efforts to check this forest fire burning over thousands of acres of cutover land and undergrowth near Sandstone in Pine county, Minnesota. (Story on page 9.)
